DEAN WARREN LISTENS TO COED'S SUGGESTIONS AND COMPLAINTS AT A SPECIAL TEA

When a school is growing and changing as fast as FSU is, it must have a strong backbone to lean on. Dean of Women Katherine Warren has provided FSU with such a support. Florida State University has long had a reputation for consistently graduating a fine calibre of women. Dean Warren is directly responsible for maintaining the standards necessary for a university with a large coed enrollment. Every year, she receives regulation booklets from universities all over the country which she studies to keep our own standards abreast of the times. Miss Warren is also to be commended for the healthy sorority-independent relationship which is an outgrowth of her efforts.

Miss Warren has been Dean of Women since 1947, having previously served as secretary and assistant to the dean of students since 1935. She was invited to go to Washington to give a series of lectures on women's government, and she also helped the University of South Florida plan their student government system.

In recognition and appreciation of all these efforts and others too numerous to mention, we dedicate the 1966 TALLY HO to Dean Katherine Warren.

THE JUNIOR COUNSELOR PROGRAM, in which a junior girl oversees a group of freshman, was initiated by Dean Warren.

Academics

Governor Haydon Burns

The education which you have received at Florida State University will serve you well as you move on into the world of work or into professional schools. Aside from the purely economic advantages which it will give you, it will promote individual fulfillment and will deepen understanding.

I would challenge you to remember that learning does not end with graduation. In this day of rapid technological change, our complex society cannot survive without a high percentage of able and educated people who keep their skills abreast of the times. I hope that you will never lose the natural spark of curiosity, the eagerness to learn that will enable you to discover and develop the full range of your abilities.

Board of Regents

Appointed by Governor Haydon Burns, the Board of Regents are the state's and the governor's advisors on financial, educational, and physical planning of the five state universities which comprise the University System of Florida. The ten members are responsible for suggesting programs to be employed in the state's educational system and in building physical construction plans. Of utmost concern to The Board is the financial position of the schools.

The BOR consists of an executive director and nine members who are chosen from regions throughout the state of Florida.

New Chief Leads FSU's Seminoles

PRESIDENT JOHN E. CHAMPION
Ph.D., University of Michigan

Florida State University is duly proud to recognize Dr. John E. Champion as the newly appointed president. Although all of us have felt the loss of Dr. Gordon Blackwell, Dr. Champion has proven to be an excellent successor.

Dr. Champion is not a stranger to the FSU student body. He has been a member of the University staff since September, 1956. Before assuming his present position, he had been FSU's vice president for three years.

Always showing a great interest in the student, Dr. Champion has been interested in all phases of collegiate life. He has continued working with APO, a campus service fraternity of which he is a member. He has also devoted his time to the Student Advisory Council, a group of student leaders with whom he met to discuss a variety of pertinent issues. His great dedication to his work has won him the admiration and respect of the students and administration. The Florida State University is fortunate to have such a capable man as president.

Administration

KARL DITTMER
Vice President for Academic Affairs
Ph.D., Cornell University

As the Union complex continued to bring together a larger number of students, the administration strove to unify the activities and functions of FSU's various departments. The always increasing quality of the educational program was an indication of our leaders' competence and hard work.

Each administrator, whether returning to a post from the previous year or replacing a former member of this select group, exerted a profound influence on the student body. Acting under the guidance of our new president, these men and women created an aura of greatness appropriate to the true spirit of today's Florida State University.

School of Arts and Sciences

The primary goal of the College of Arts and Sciences is to provide each student with a liberal education. This is accomplished through courses in basic studies in the fields of history, the humanities, sciences, English, foreign languages, the social sciences, and mathematics. For those who wish to specialize in one of these fields, there are additional courses offered.

Upon entering Florida State University, a student is given a list of required classes outside his major field. After graduation, each student is able to communicate in many fields with his acquired intellectual views. With this goal in mind, FSU's College of Arts and Sciences has adapted to the university's needs with its excellent facilities.

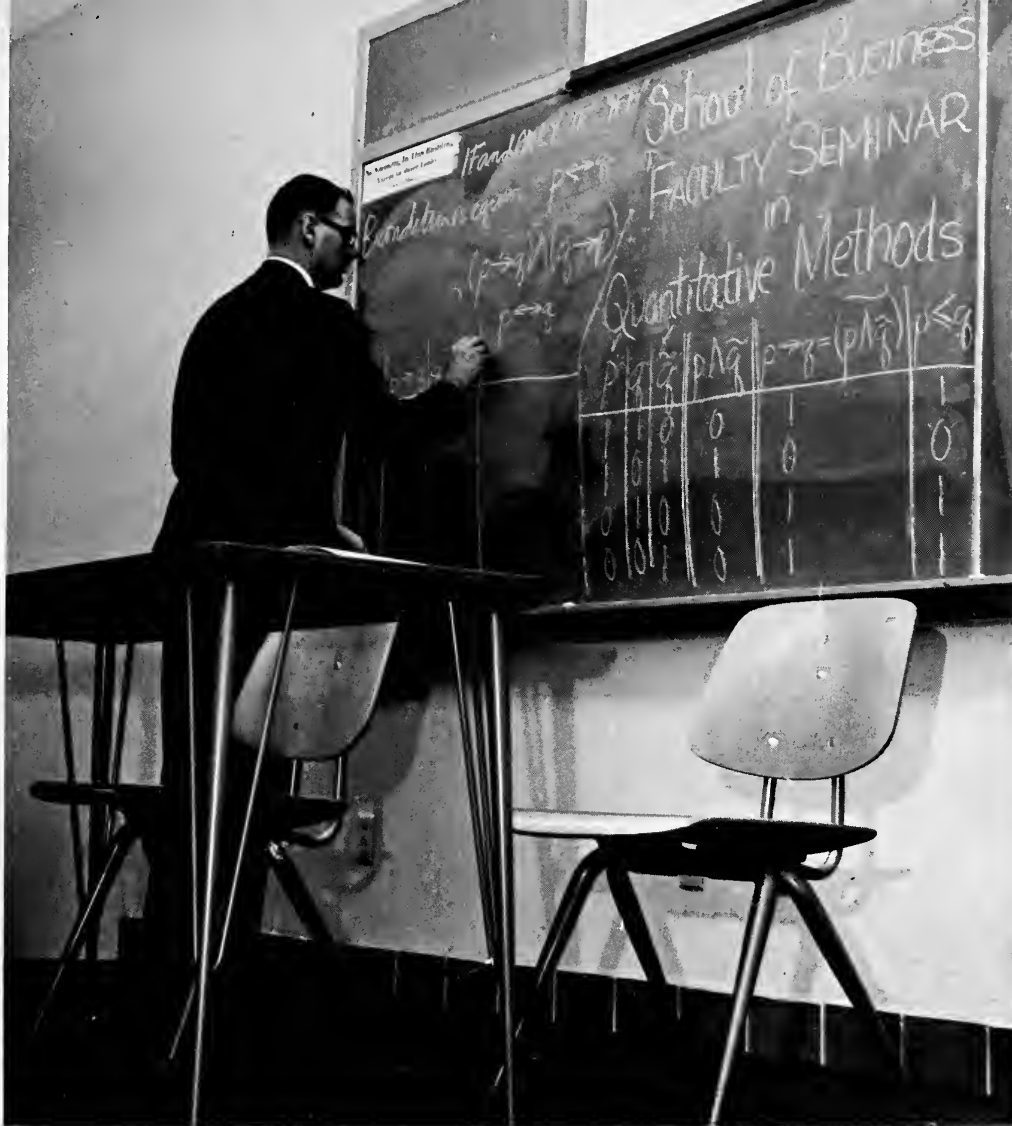

School of Business

CHARLES A. ROVETTA
Dean of the School of Business
M.B.A., University of Chicago

In '65-'66 the School of Business initiated the only doctorate of Business Administration offered in Florida, thus augmenting its expanding program of preparation for responsible business positions. In accordance with this, it set up a management program at Cape Kennedy in the fields of science and engineering for NASA and Air Force personnel with no previous managerial experience.

At FSU and around the nation, interest is picking up in multi-national commerce. There is also a growing increase in concern for faculty research facilities. In addition, this is the second year of faculty seminars in quantitative methods of mercantile decision making.

Clubs and fraternities affiliated with the School stimulated enthusiasm for extra-curricular work in related areas. They offered myriad opportunities for students to gain practical experience.

On all levels the School of Business kept pace with FSU's program of expansion and development in order to better prepare students for leadership in in today's rapidly changing commercial world.

School of Education

MODE L. STONE
Dean of the School of Education
Ph.D., Peabody University

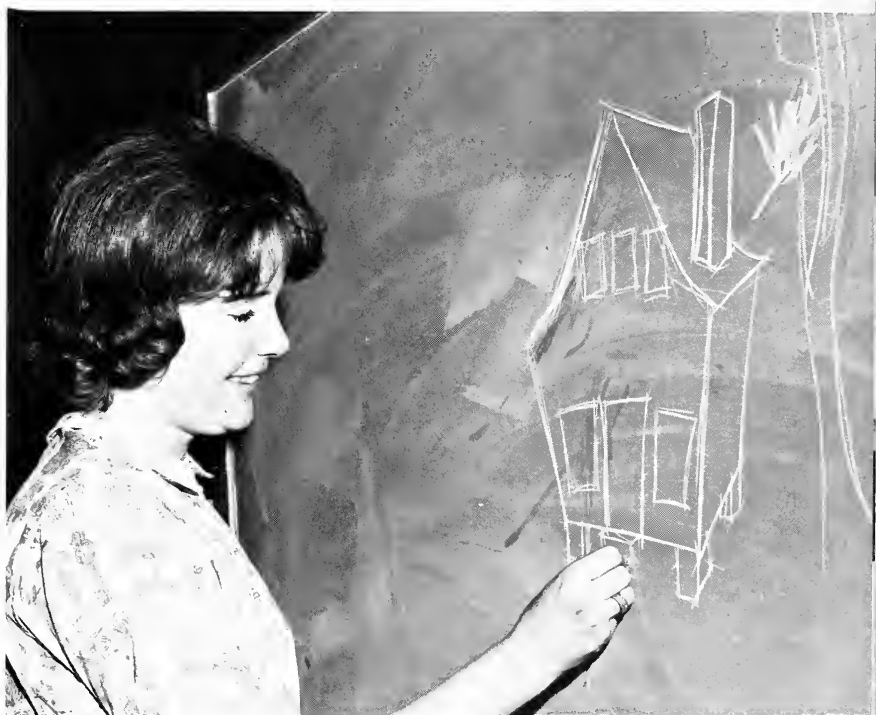

The School of Education at Florida State University ranks high in the nation. It is well-known that the graduates from this school are of high teaching quality and of excellent ability.

This department covers all types of professions which involve the art of instruction. Unlike most other departments on campus. Not only is this department versatile but it is one of the largest divisions at this university because of the students' interest in this field of study. The student finds ample opportunity for teaching in the fields of history, science, math, and others.

The demonstration school, including Florida High School, is used for experimental classrooms for the education majors. Besides the course of study he follows here, the student serves a term of internship at a school in Florida under the supervision of a college graduate. With this training, it is easy to see why FSU turns out such high quality teachers.

School of Engineering Science

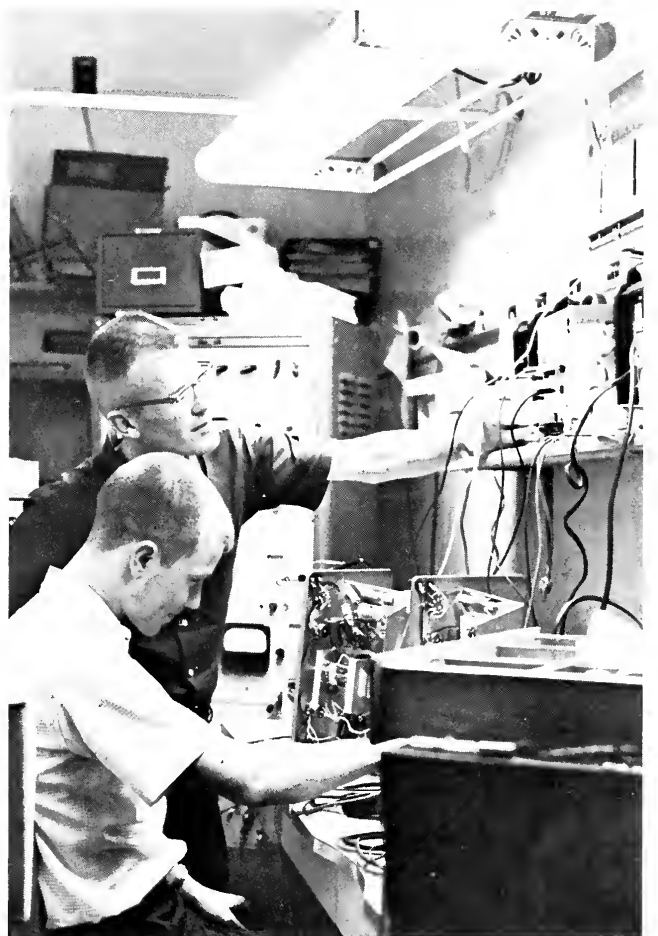

Preparation is the key word for students entering the School of Engineering Science. Superior students prepare for careers in engineering research, advanced development, and college teaching. Flexibility in the program of studies lays an effective foundation for creative participation in most areas of engineering. Since the school was founded in 1963, programs in electronics, materials science, and systems science have been available.

The number of upper division students was increased to provide room for a new astronautics program. This program deals with many problems concerned with the engineering and the exploration of outer space. The design of space crafts, communication systems, and guidance systems are among the problems faced by students. They also learn how to determine the projectives and the orbits of guided space flights. In line with the other programs in this school, these highly specialized courses will be concentrated in the senior year curriculum.

GROVER L. ROGERS

Dean of the School of Engineering Science
Sc. D., Harvard University

School of Home Economics

HORTENSE GLENN

Dean of the School of Home Economics
Ph.D., Florida State University

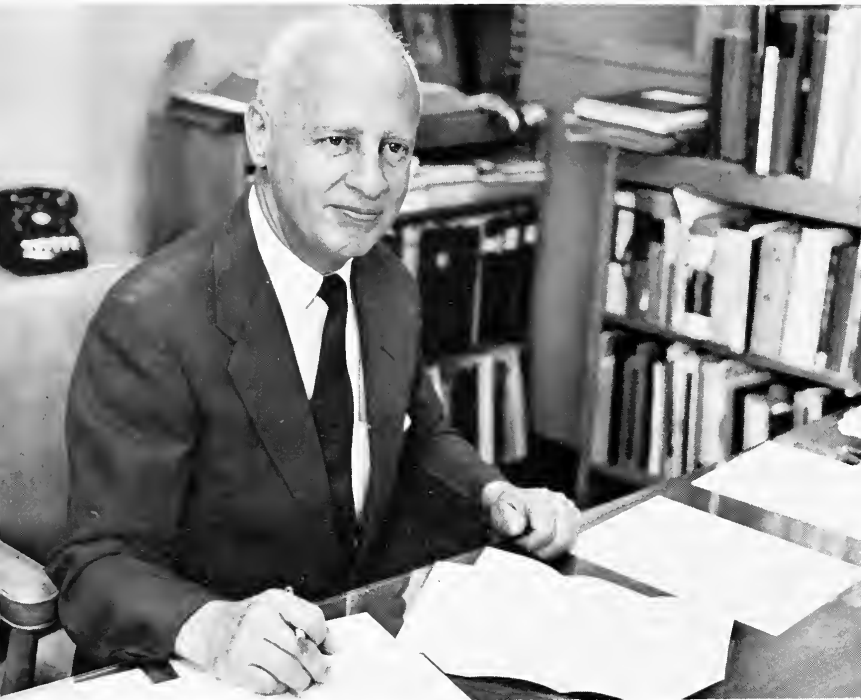

Florida State University has one of the largest schools of Home Economics in the South. It is a professional school providing programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Through its various departments students prepare for positions as professional home economists in the fields of Business, Education, Extension, Health and Welfare, and Research.

Home Economics is concerned with the home and the family. Its major purpose is to strengthen the quality of family life in a society which recognizes the family as the basic unit and the most important resource of the nation.

Library School

LOUIS SHORES
Dean of the Library School
Ph.D., George Peabody College

The Library School at Florida State was established in 1947 as a professional school. It offers courses leading to the master's degree in librarianship, and in cooperation with the College of Arts and Sciences, gives at the undergraduate level minimum training for certification as school librarians. The master's degree program in librarianship is accredited by the American Library Association, and the school is a member of the Association of American Library Schools.

A secondary objective of the School is to help all students develop an appreciation of the library and its role in society. This purpose is partially met by the offering of a course for freshmen in the use of libraries and courses for graduate students in library use for research.

Housed in the Strozier Library, facilities for student use include classrooms, a cataloging laboratory, student lounge, and a curriculum library.

The newest additions to the School of Music lived up to the school motto's, "A Program of Highest Distinction." Along with two new teachers came the largest enrollment of music majors ever at FSU. An estimated 550 students this year chose to complete their major studies in this school.

Due to this large enrollment, the School was given the go-ahead to expand their facilities. As well as more practice rooms, three new offices were planned to capacitate to growing student body.

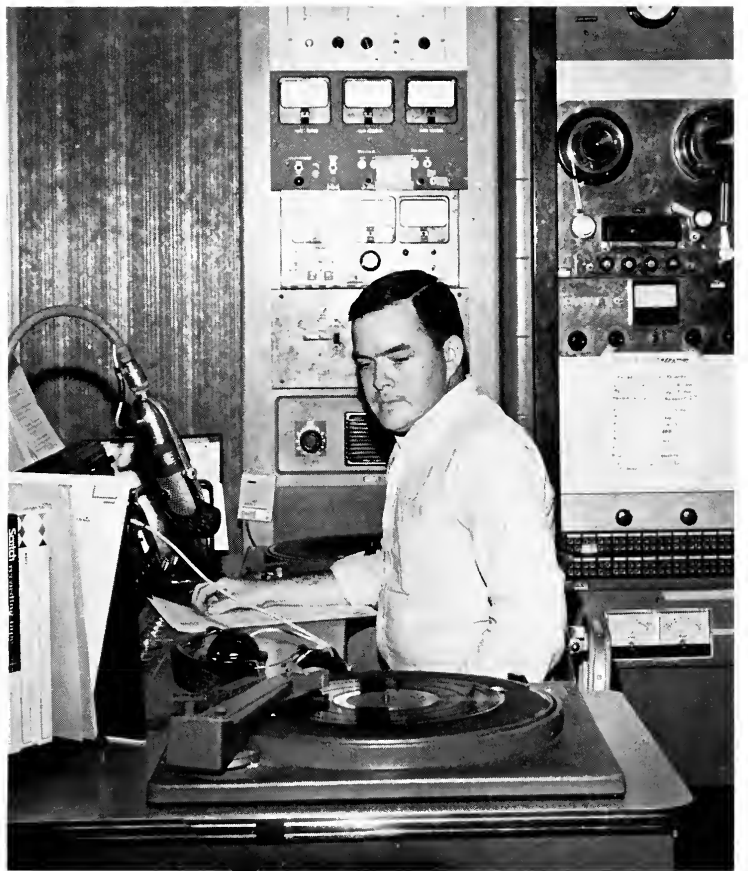

Several new teaching methods were employed. A program of computer learning was initiated; one of the computers used was built by a faculty member. New innovations for easier learning, such as a clarinet-positioner, were brought into use.

Proving the ever-high standards of the school and its faculty, several teachers this year received their Ph.D's. The professional devotion shown by them was an incentive to the students for the best possible work endeavors.

School of Music

KARL OTTO KUERSTEINER
Dean of the School of Music
Ph D., University of Chicago

School of Nursing

Becoming a progressively more important member of the educational family, the School of Nursing has grown steadily since receiving its full accreditation in 1958. Under Dean Vivian Duxbury the curriculum has undergone great improvement, including the 1964 accreditation of an undergraduate program for registered nurses.

Students may specialize in public health, psychological, or clinical nursing. The participants have proven their competence in all phases of their profession. In accordance with this tradition of quality was the introduction of television into the program as a more effective way to teach clinical procedure.

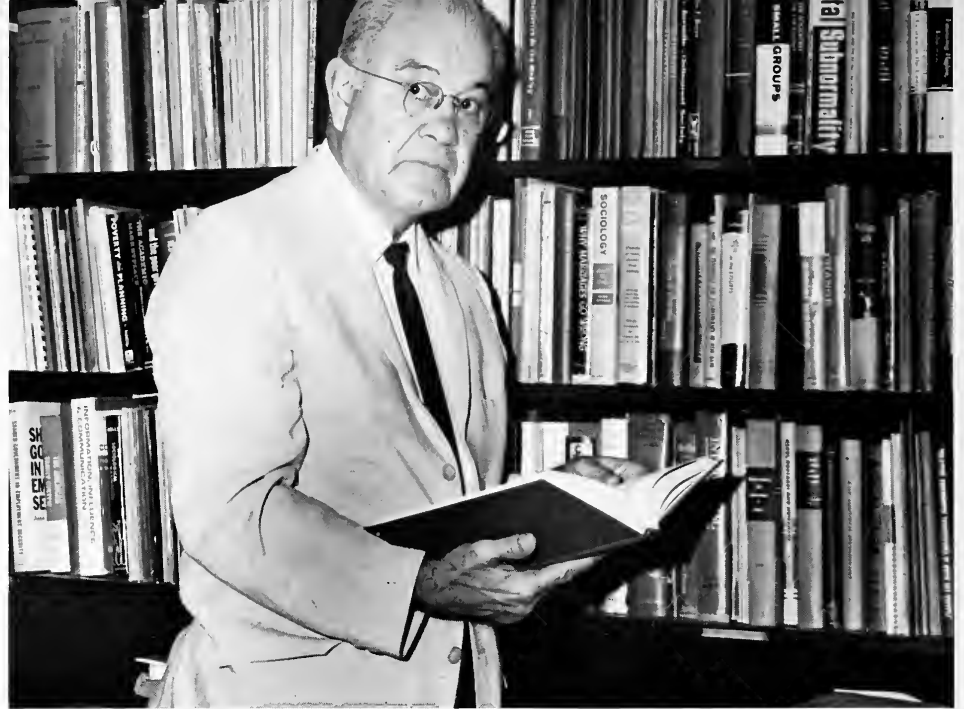

There is an increasing demand for nurses with a college degree. Florida State's School of Nursing is striving to do its part to fill this need.

VIVIAN M. DUXBURY
Dean of the School of Nursing
M.A., Columbia University

COYLE E. MOORE
Dean of the School of Social Welfare
Ph.D., University of Chicago

School of Social Welfare

Training in the fields of social work, social welfare, and criminology and corrections is offered by the School of Social Welfare. A charter member of the Council on Social Work Education, the School's program includes graduate degrees in all three of these fields and undergraduate degrees in the area of criminology and corrections and social welfare.

Guidance work, Red Cross work, nursery or kindergarten teaching, social work, parole and probation work, Boy Scouting and Girl Scouting are some of the careers open to students of this school. A few other fields in which Social Welfare students may participate are Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. work, law enforcement, district welfare visiting, and crime laboratory work.

In addition to specific training, the School of Social Welfare offers many courses for the preparation of a citizen in his role for a mature and responsible active community life.

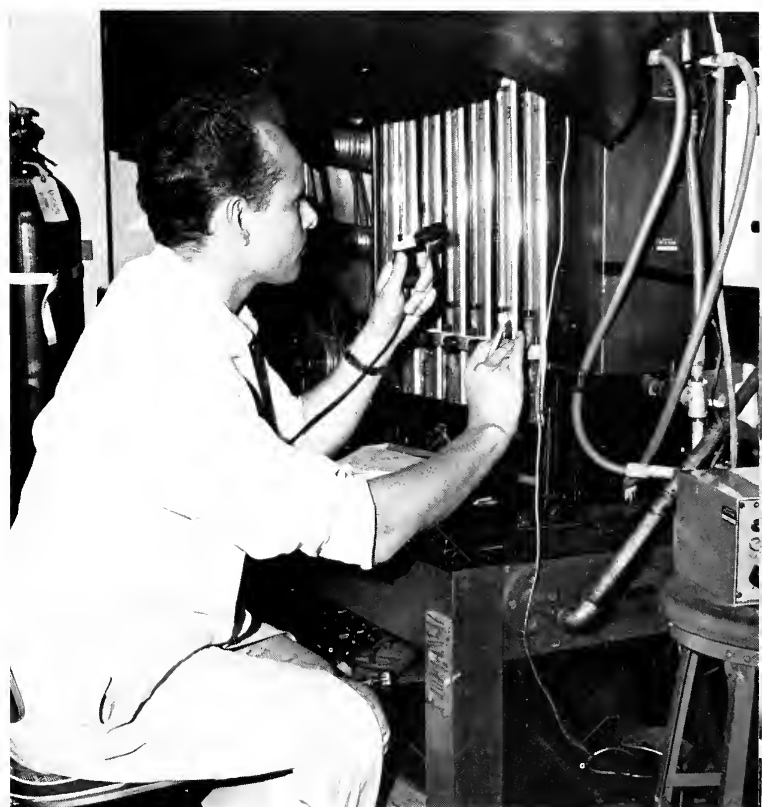

Graduate School

The Graduate School of Florida State University has been organized as a distinct division of the university. The primary objective of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences is the training of scholars for positions of leadership, particularly in education and research. There are many concepts of the Graduate School. Here at FSU an emphasis is put upon a specialized area of study supported by a background of general education extending into the graduate program itself. An explicit concern for the ethical goals of scholarship and education is also encouraged. Students in this program have the character and values typical of responsible citizens as well as distinguished scholars. Underlying the whole program is the dedication of the students and faculty alike to the constant ideal of quality.

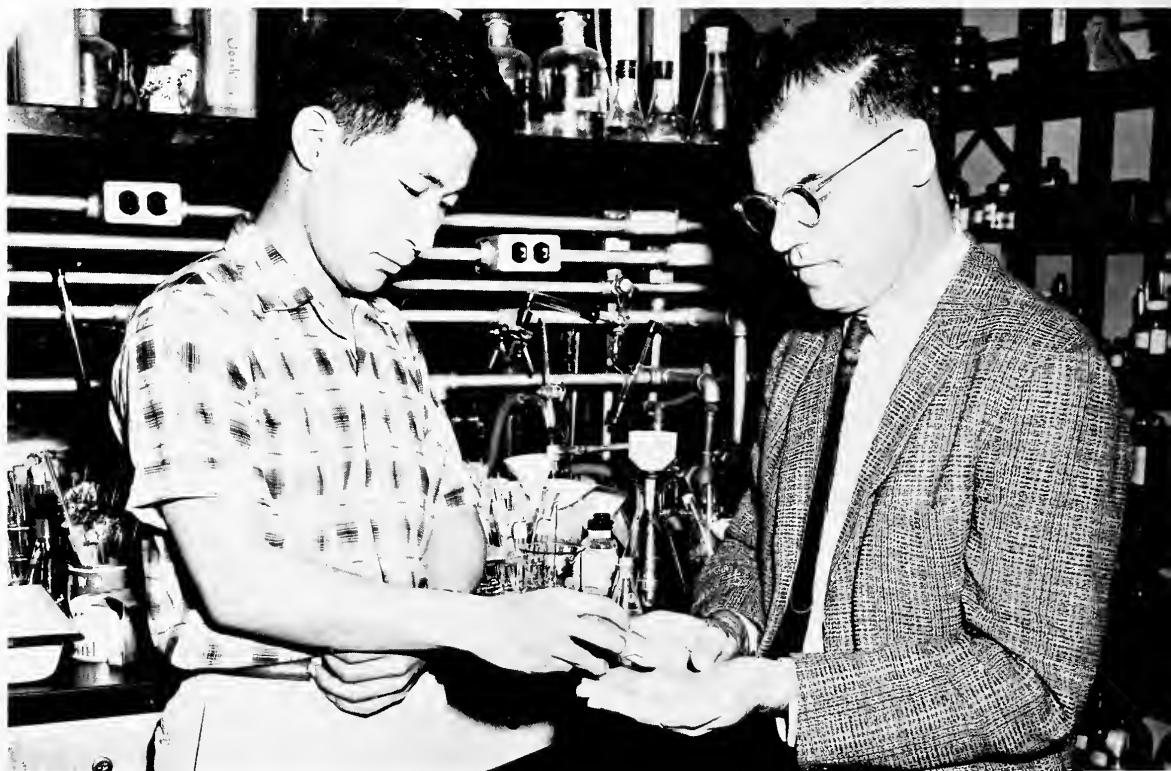

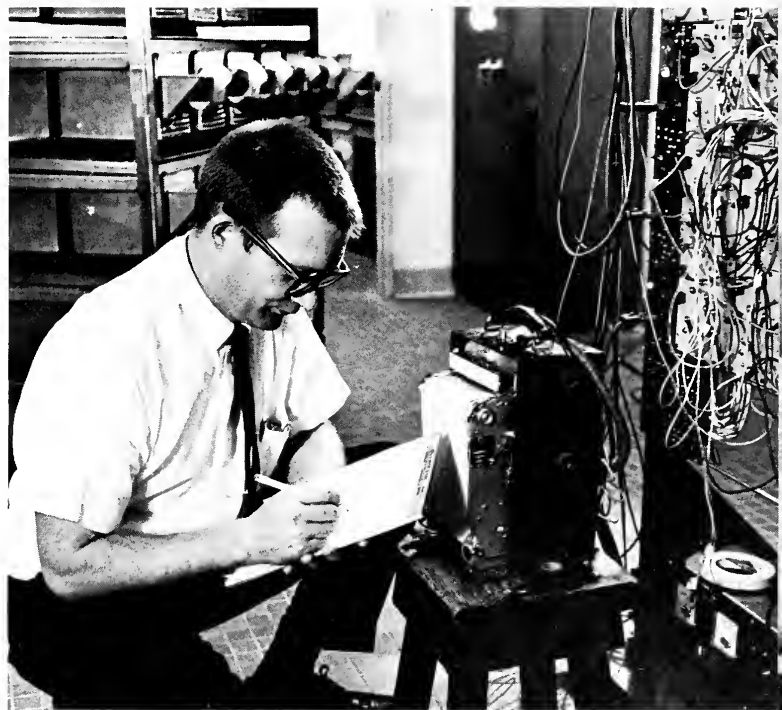

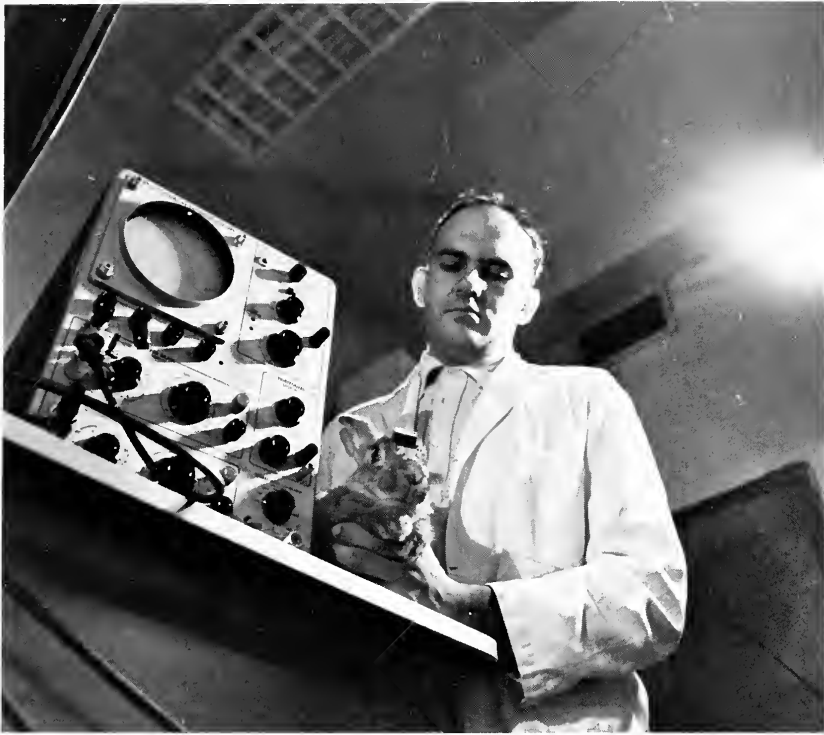

Research

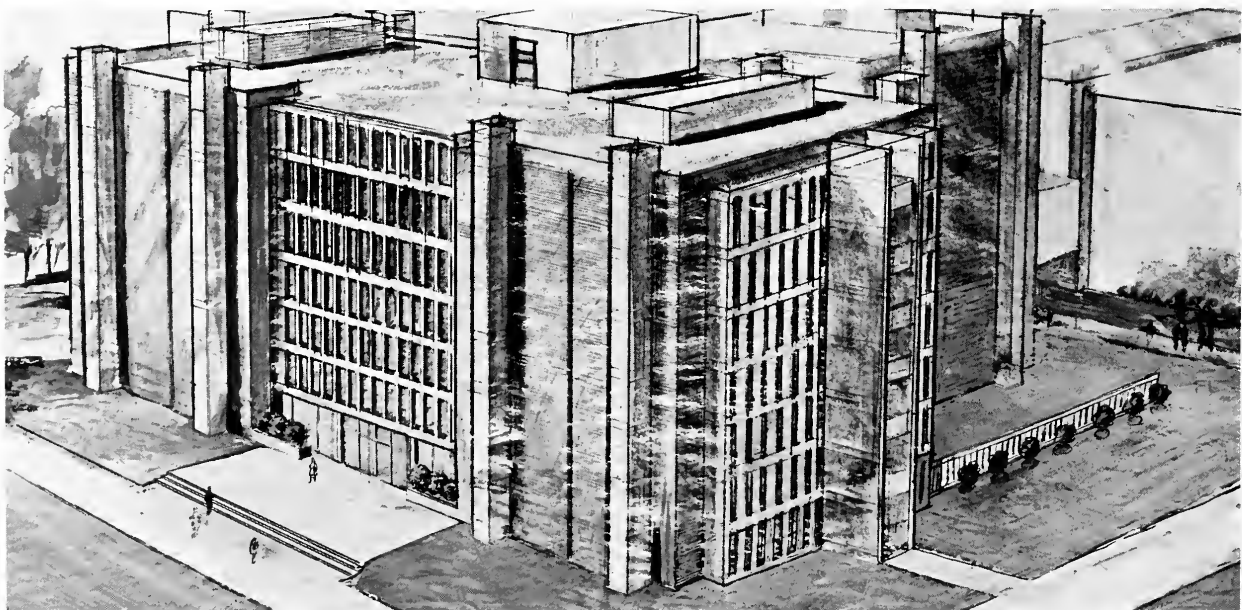

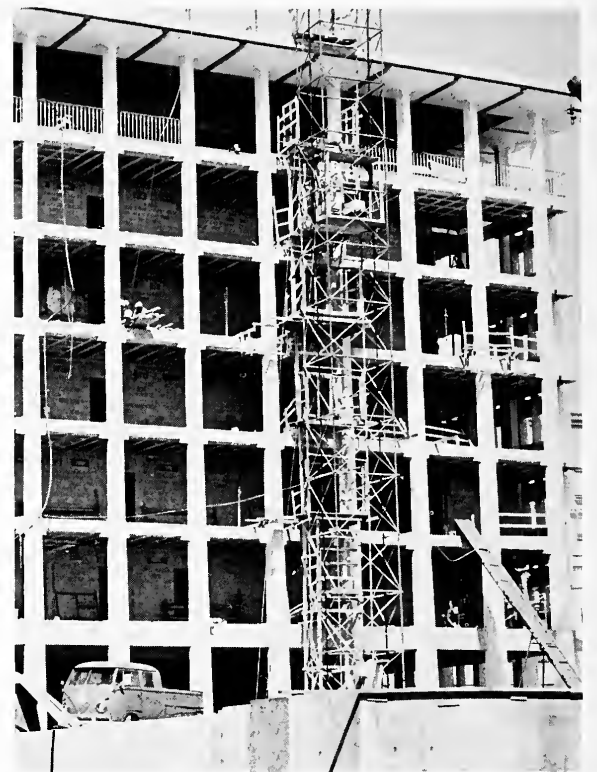

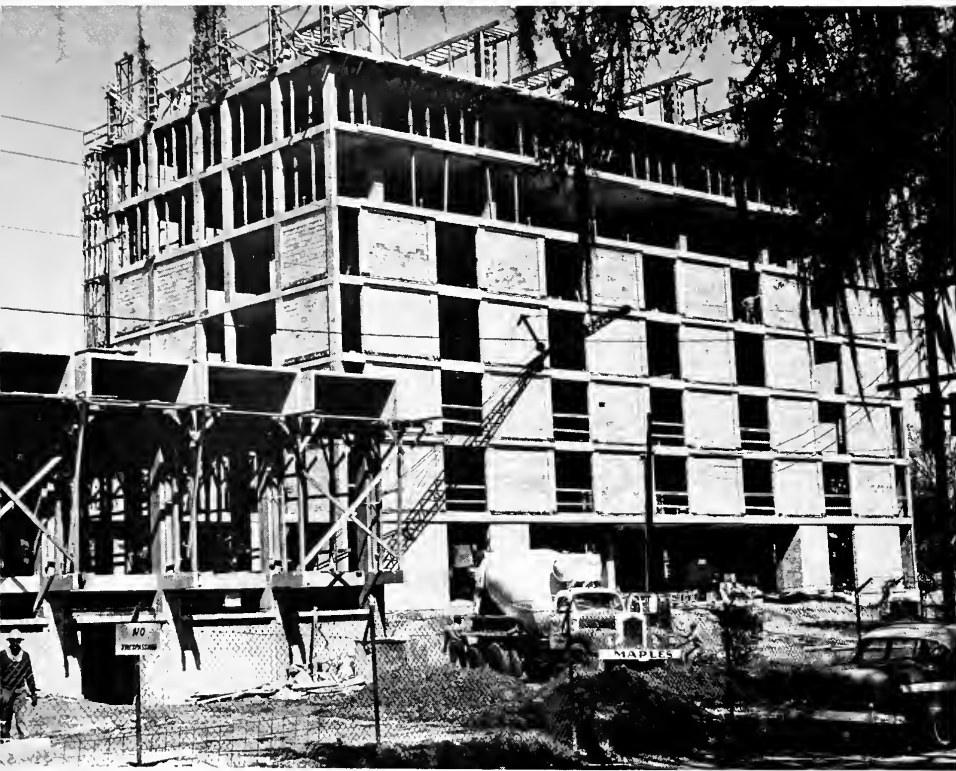

Research, the activity by which new knowledge is acquired, has historically been one of the major functions of a university. Ideally, the research and teaching functions in a modern university should be inseparable. This ideal is achieved on the FSU campus in that most of the 400 research projects currently active directly involve graduate students and undergraduate assistants with a faculty member in a research experience.

On the basis of the dollars expended in its research effort, the Florida State University rates as one of the top 50 universities in the nation. This research effort is one mainly devoted to the training of graduate students, and as such has put FSU in a relatively short time, into a group of 100 outstanding universities which trains most of the researchers in the United States.

New Schools and Buildings Always Under Way

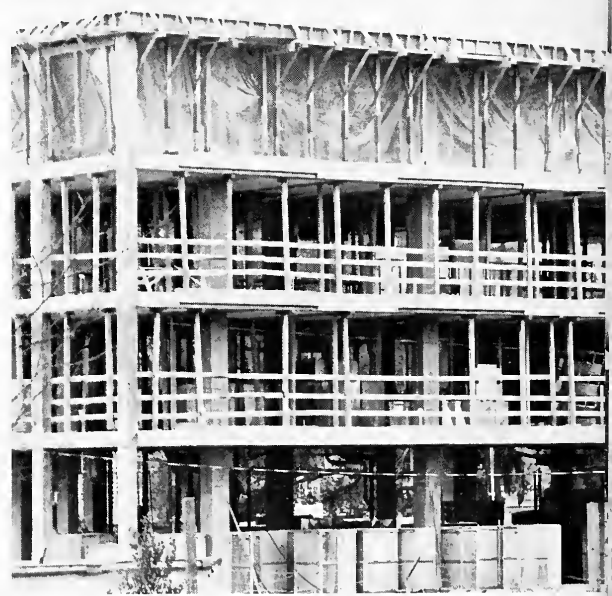

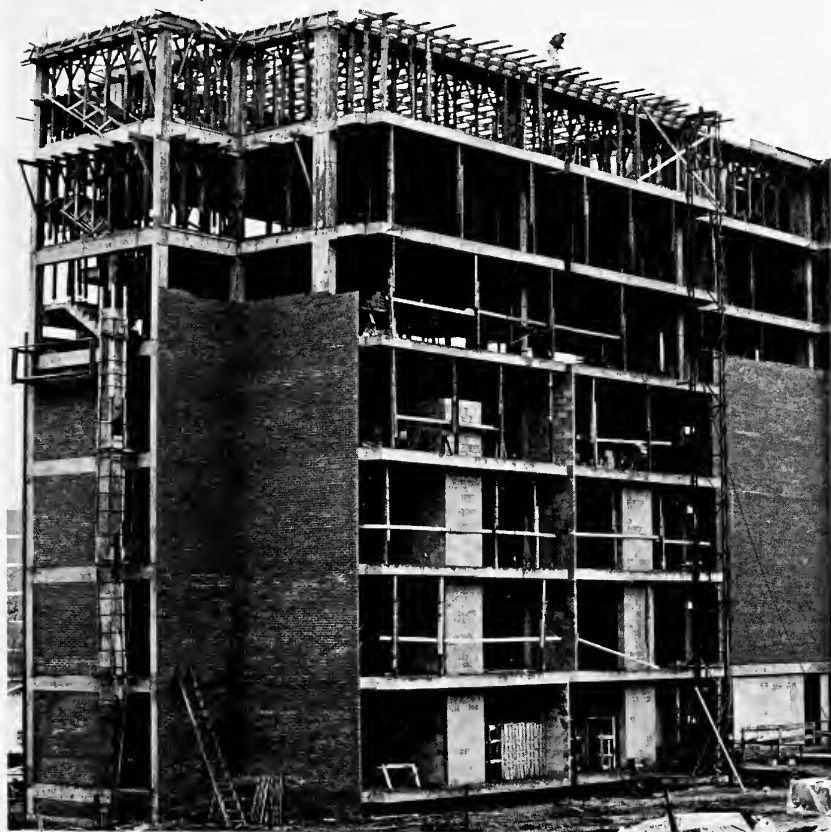

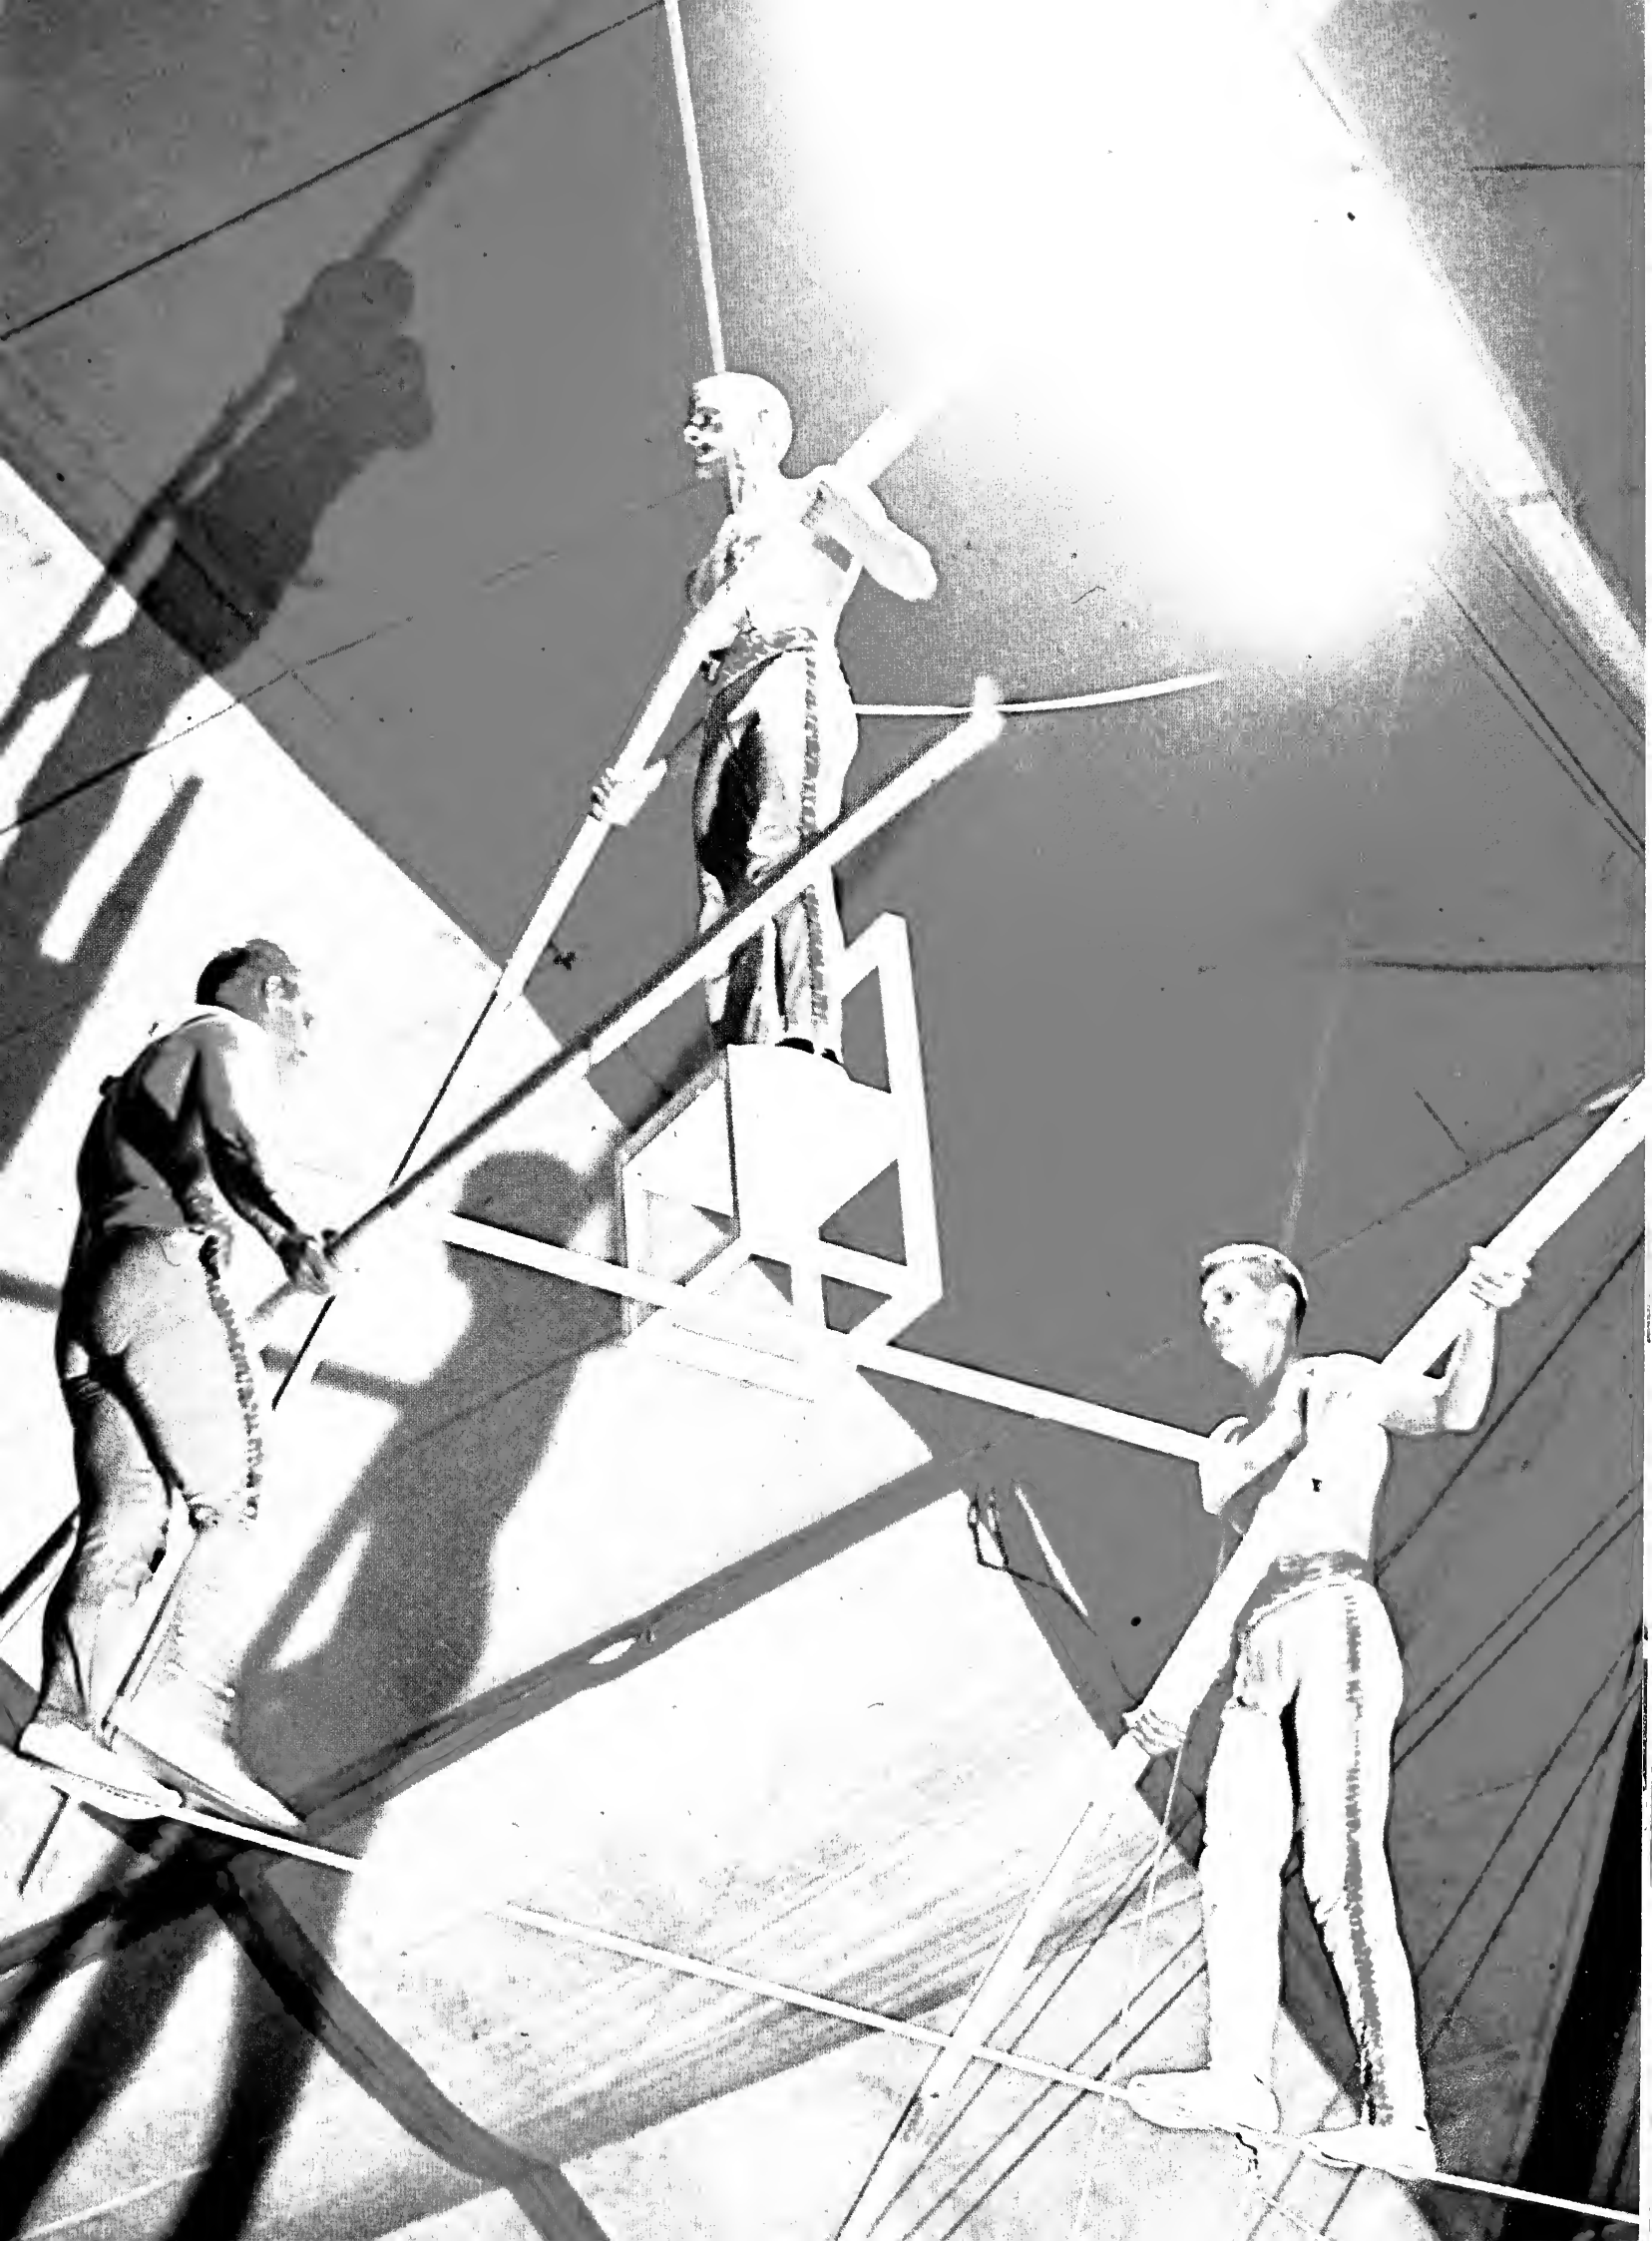

Progress Never Slows At FSU

Features

No matter how much our university changes, the basic beauty of the campus will be a constant reminder of its heritage. The fresh golden leaves of fall, the cold clear winter sky, the delicate dogwoods announcing spring--these have been with FSU since its beginning. They are a part of our thoughts when we remember college--a beautiful school in a beautiful state.

The Face of Florida State

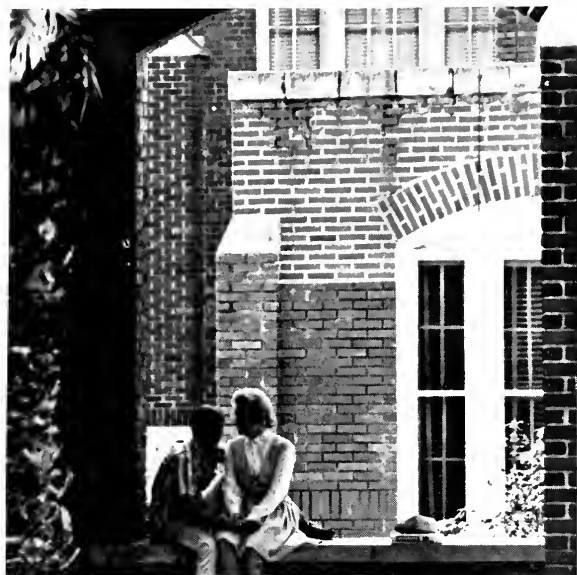

Fall

Rain and more rain, foggy nights, new friendships, students studying on Landis Green-- these are the signs of fall. The eternal downpours transform the spongy lawns into a vast sea of russet mud. The days are still warm while the nights turn cool and the dampness covers the campus in a transparent veil of silver. Students form new and lasting friendships from among the many new faces. They are unwilling to sacrifice the beauty of the outside for their books but find that the two mix beautifully together. These are but a few of the pleasant remembrances of fall at FSU.

Union New Center Of Orientation

ACTIVITIES NIGHT was highlighted by a student variety show which included several musical and comical acts of interest to everyone.

FIRST DAY OF REGISTRATION IS AN EXHAUSTING EXPERIENCE

EVERY FALL RETURNING STUDENTS ARE FACED WITH THE CHORE OF UNPACKING

WRITER'S CRAMP is a common malady as students complete the many forms necessary for registration.

September 1, 1965---Tallahassee and Florida State braced themselves for the annually increasing onslaught of new students, transfer students, and returning "Seminoles". After the tiring ritual of unpacking gear, students faced the ordeal of registration. The hours in line, the stacks of cards, the painful increase in tuition, the usual confusion, and the stifling heat all helped to produce the fully matriculated student.

For the first time part of orientation of new students was held in the Union. Activities Night at the Union was filled with fun and frolic as students got together with old friends and made new ones. For the second year the University Union was the focal point of undergraduate activity.

The Tradition Of Rush Remains

"Neither rain nor sleet nor black of night shall keep these couriers from their appointed round..." So goes the old saying about the postman never failing to deliver mail. Such was the case during fall rush 1965, as countless prospective rushees tracked through mud and dodged the unwanted rain the first two nights of parties. Someone must have heard their prayers, for the rest of the rush week passed with a change in the weather as the sun commenced to shine. Approximately 1100 girls and 511 men trekked from house to house during the week and a half trial by endurance of the feet, hands, and smiles. When it was time for preferentials to be signed, 517 coeds and approximately 311 male students wrote their desired Greek initials in the box; by the end of the week 387 girls and 285 men were tagged with the title "pledge".

FALL RUSH is typified by groups of coeds walking from house to house with umbrellas ready for Tallahassee rain.

PRECISION, BALANCE, RHYTHM, AND CONTROL ARE ESSENTIAL TRAITS OF GYMNASTS

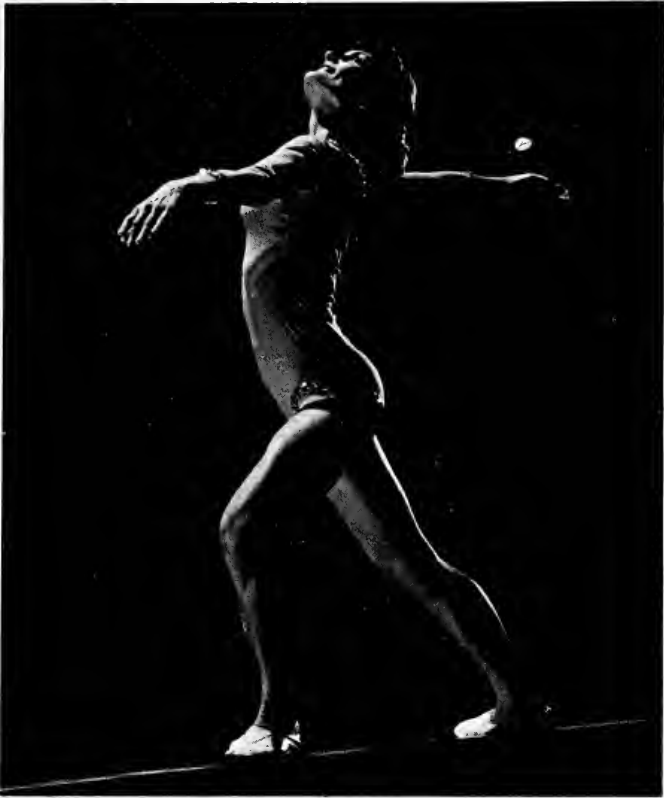

Gymkana Presents Dynaform

JUNIOR, GAIL SONTIGERATH, PERFORMS ON THE PARALLEL BARS

PERFECT balance and co-ordination are the prime ingredients in this well-executed human pyramid.

GYMNASTIC GRACE IS ACHIEVED BY ACCURATE BALANCE

Gymkana's go-go theme for this year was Dynaform. The word, coined by Dr. Hartley Price, the group's director, is a combination of "dynamic" and "form". Among the scientific concepts it is meant to represent are motion, energy, light, rhythm, and balance.

For the tumbling act the girls wore yellow to symbolize sparks of electricity. Hypnosis was suggested by the performers on the uneven-parallel bars and Newton's law of gravity was demonstrated on the trampoline. Highlighting the show were the trained gymnasts who did a variety of acts on the high bar, still rings, flying rings, side horse, trampoline, parallel bars, and table and chairs.

The show is presented annually by one hundred students who are vitally interested in physical fitness as well as in training the mind and body to act in one function: To create through the agility of the physically fit form, the beauty, versatility and gracefulness of the gymnast. As a result of this dedication, Gymkana has won several awards in national and international competition contests.

EVEN THE CLUMSY CLOWN DISPLAYS THE SUPPLE AND LITHE GRACE SO IMPORTANT TO THE GYMNAST'S IDEA OF ART

Besides organizing and performing in the acts the students in Gymkana plan the settings for their exhibitions. This year both mobiles and abstract paintings were used to carry out the Gymkana theme, Dynaform.

Each year Gymkana selects a queen from the entries made by fraternities and sororities, scholarship houses and dormitories. Miss Gymkana is chosen from a 20 member court of honor. The Court was selected on the basis of beauty, charm and poise as well as on their contributions to the production of the show. Each girl was dressed in a costume she had made to suit the theme. The presentation of the sorority and fraternity service awards and the crowning of Miss Calista Force as Miss Gymkana of 1965 climaxed the big event. She and her court will reign until the 1966 Gymkana performance.

Greek Week

This year Greek Week comprised a full week of activities ranging from lectures on scholarship to a Greek Goddess contest.

During the first part of the activities, a workshop combining the ideas of fraternities and sororities was held. There was a banquet on Sunday with most groups attending church together that morning. At the pep rally Thursday night each organization answered roll call with an original cheer.

That week-end, after the preliminaries of the contest, Toni Beals was selected as Greek Goddess with Jack Cannon and Barbara Walker selected as Greek Man and Woman of the Year.

Union Celebrates First Birthday

The coronation of Miss University Union, the cutting of the five-tier birthday cake, the opening of the Rathskeller, and the pool party for Dr. Reinhard combined to shape the first University Union birthday party.

The day-long celebration featured open house at the union complete with free coffee, bicycle riding, billiards, bowling, and swimming. Clowns handed out lists of party events and students were able to register for free prizes.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony kicked off the grand opening of the long-awaited Rathskeller and games room downstairs from the cafeteria. The gala evening featured a courtyard dance and a Rathskeller hootenanny in the union complex.

The climax of the celebration came as Miss Susan Hart was crowned the first Miss University Union. After she cut the huge birthday cake, the enthusiastic crowd topped off the celebration by tossing the unsuspecting Dr. Herb Reinhard, Director of the Union, into the Friendship pool.

"The New Greets the Old for the Garnet and Gold" was the theme of Homecoming '65. The gala weekend was launched by a colorful parade of extravagant floats and high steppin' bands led by the incomparable Chiefs. The floats featured "Go-Go" girls, football players, fountains, rockets and Model-T's complimenting the theme of Homecoming.

Later that night at the Pow Wow the awards were announced. Best All Round awards were presented to the Alpha Gamma Delta's and Theta Chi's for their float and to Magnolia Hall for its original dorm decorations.

The highlight of the Pow Wow came as the newly elected Homecoming Queen, Anna Faulds, was crowned with the traditional Seminole headdress. Members of her court included Mary Kay Burress, Connie Gowan, Barbara Walker and Sue Ward. After watching a spectacular display of fireworks, the crowd left the stadium and hurried to Tully Gymnasium and the Peter, Paul and Mary Show.

Peter Paul & Mary

Peter, Paul, and Mary, popular folksinging group of "Blowin' in the Wind" fame, put on a show for a capacity crowd of 5,000 in Tully Gym after the pow wow. The two beards and a blonde sang such all time campus favorites as "If I Had a Hammer," "If I Had My Way," and "Puff, the Magic Dragon."

The trio represents a form of music which is appealing because it is rooted in sincerity. When interviewed, they said "... we love our work and the sense of kinship we feel with the audience." Their vitality and candid manner made their FSU performance a roaring success, both with the Three and also with the students.

Over 35,000 Homecoming fans were thrilled as the Florida State football team rolled over the Wake Forest Deacons 35-0. The game was highly successful for the Seminoles. The team scored its highest number of points for any single game, and for the first time of the season held the opposition to no score. INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS FREQUENTLY MEET AT THE UNION FOR INFORMAL TALKS TOGETHER

Representing over forty countries in the world, the International Students have contributed much to the cultural climate of FSU. Their colorful native dress has added a pleasant accent to our campus.

The International Club sets as the medium of idea exchange between foreign and American students. This club has sponsored many beneficial programs in the past year, such as a Coffee Hour featuring talks by various individuals on their homeland and participation in the United Nations Model Assembly in the Tallahassee House Chamber. The Club has also sponsored the International Student Week which included many interesting and informative exhibits and events at the Union.

Campus Celebrates Christmas

Highlight of the Christmas season was Santa's long awaited arrival by Honda to the APO Christmas tree on Landis Green. Students gathered around the brightly decorated tree and sang traditional yuletide carols. The musical aspect of Christmas crescendoed with the Christmas Vesper Service performed by the Women's Glee Club and the Society of Host's Christmas Dinner, complete with stringed madrigal singers. Through their many charitable acts, students brought much joy into the lives of children and needy people, thus increasing the campus conception of the true spirit of Christmas.

WITH THE HELP OF STUDENTS, Santa Claus helps to give the younger set a more meaningful Merry Christmas.

Trimester II Brings New Start

Second trimester began quietly. Most students were already settled in their rooms or apartments. After another hectic week of registration and two more of formal rush, the trimester pace dwindled to the most relaxed of the year. However, students were beginning a trimester that proved to be even busier than the preceding. Elections, sports, fraternity weekends and of course classes were soon in full swing. For some it was a continuation of success; for the less successful, it was a new beginning and a chance to do better.

Winter

A single yellow leaf, a bleak cloudless sky, frost bitten grass, students bundling up against the piercing wind -- these are the signs of winter. Nature loses all her autumn clothing and exposes her barren beauty. Winter is a time for pausing and reflecting on nature's immortality. It gives meaning to our intellectual life and stimulation to our spiritual life. No wonder Shelley said, "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

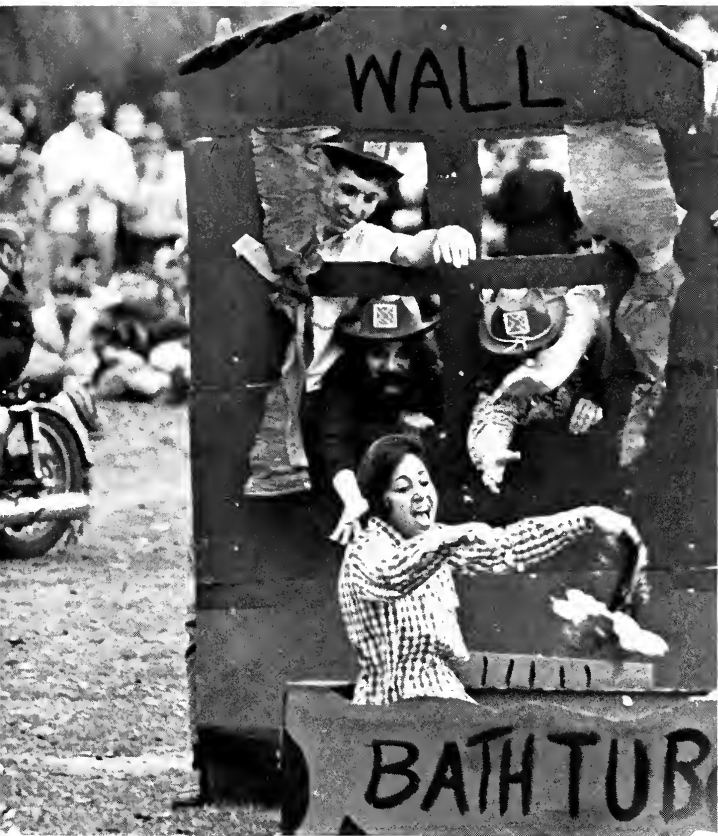

Sorority Rivalry High In Sigma Chi Derby

The annual Sigma Chi Derby held as much excitement for spectators as for participants. Sorority girls competed in a tug-of-war, a long-distance egg toss, a money hunt in the mud, and a tricycle race. In addition, each sorority dressed up a Sigma Chi pledge and entered a contestant in the Sigma Chi Derby Queen Contest.

When the points were tallied, Pi Beta Phi was the winning sorority for the second year in a row. Mary Florence Hagan was chosen as Derby Queen.

An Evening of Dance

The Theater Dance group presented its annual concert, "An Evening of Dance," in Westcott Auditorium March 4 and 5.

Under the direction of Dr. Nancy W. Smith, assisted by Carol Lee and Patricia Knowles, the troupe performed five extended selections involving dance movement as well as emotion. The selections included "A Suite of Bach," and "Dark Pieties," based on "The Crucible," by Arthur Miller.

The dancers included Sara Adams, Marilyn Barfield, Faith Clark, Caroline Drummond, Marilyn Finch, Sandi Gilbert, Patty Howell, Ellen Moore, Linda Nettles, Mayreese Randall, Dolores Segler, Jane Winton and Kay Wright.

The Campus Sings

Campus Sing, sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota, was founded in 1948 to "foster the cause of music in America." The participants were judged on tone quality, musicianship, stage appearance and selections used.

After the two day competition in Westcott Auditorium, Delta Zeta placed first in the sorority division, with Alpha Delta Pi runner-up. Reynolds Hall won the trophy in the dorm division, with Cawthon Hall coming in second.

Soap Box Derby Adds Thrills

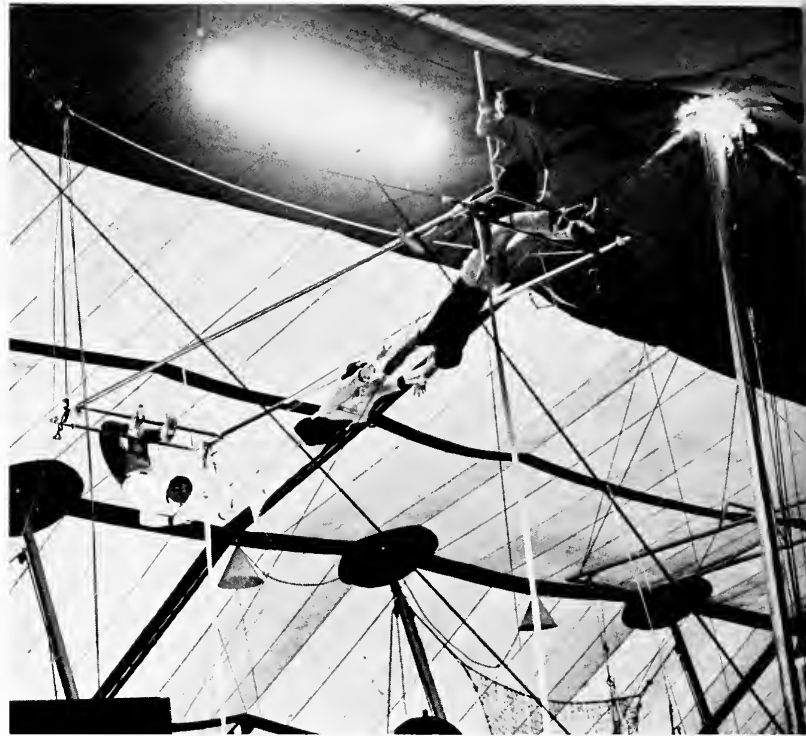

Becoming an FSU tradition is the spring Soap Box Derby, sponsored by Phi Delta Theta. Sororities and fraternities pair up and build soap-box cars, to be driven down College Avenue by a sorority girl. The car with the fastest time wins. This year, Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Tau Delta were the champions.

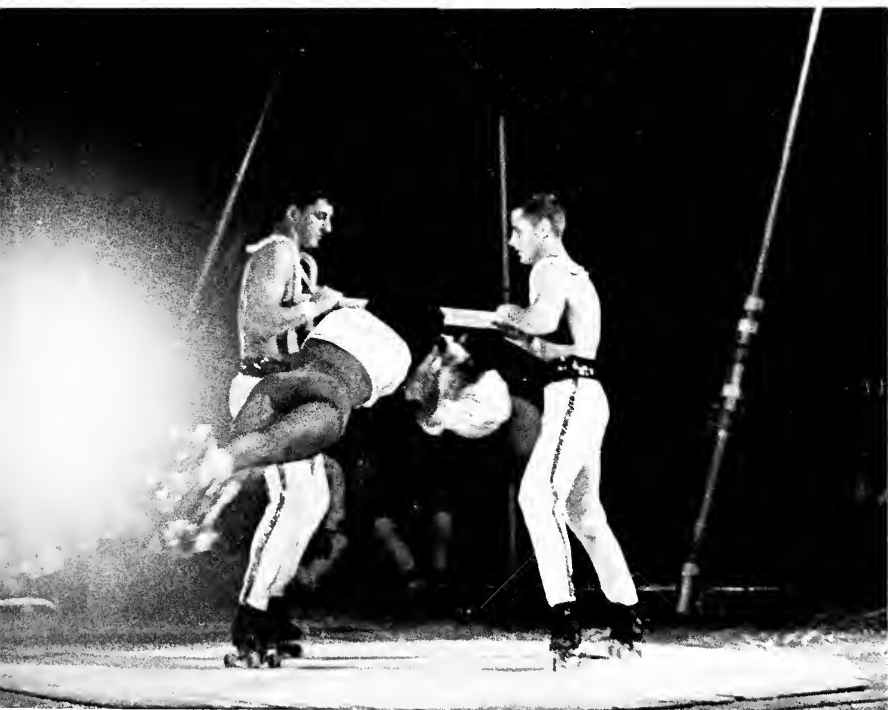

Work Begins On The Circus

There is more to the FSU circus than the thrills, fun, and vicarious excitement the audience witnesses. Much hard work, discipline, and dedication go into the circus performance, which educates the student performers as well as delights the spectators.

The circus is a student production completely but displays the know-how of a seasoned professional troupe. The essential ingredients in the performance are enthusiasm, endless practice, and iron discipline of the students. Combine this with the experience of a director such as Adrian Catarzi and the result could only be another spectacular production.

"Flying High" Circus

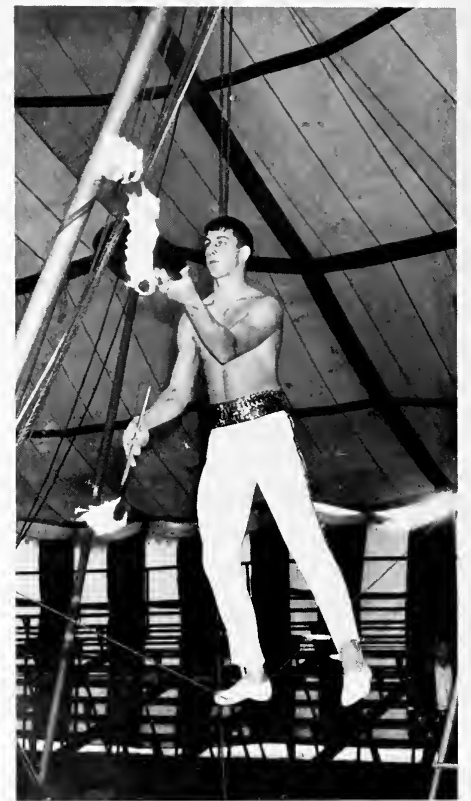

Including the only US high casting act, the first high wire stilt walker since the 1800's, a flying trapeze act, clowns, and a myriad of other exciting acts, the FSU student troupe again exhibited its talents and versatility under the Big Top March 11 and 12 as the highlight of Family Weekend.

The circus is directed by a former FSU circus star, Adrian Catarzi. Mr. Catarzi, one of the world's best trapeze artists, has sacrificed what undoubtedly would have been an outstanding career to keep the the circus Flying High.

Some of the acts performed were unique to FSU. David Brown walked on stilts on a high wire 22 feet above the ground, a feat which hasn't been done since a Frenchman, Henry Blondin, did it in 1800. The only high casting act in the US in 20 years was executed by Beverly Malmberg, Hugh Burke, Vince Dillman, and Donna Myers.

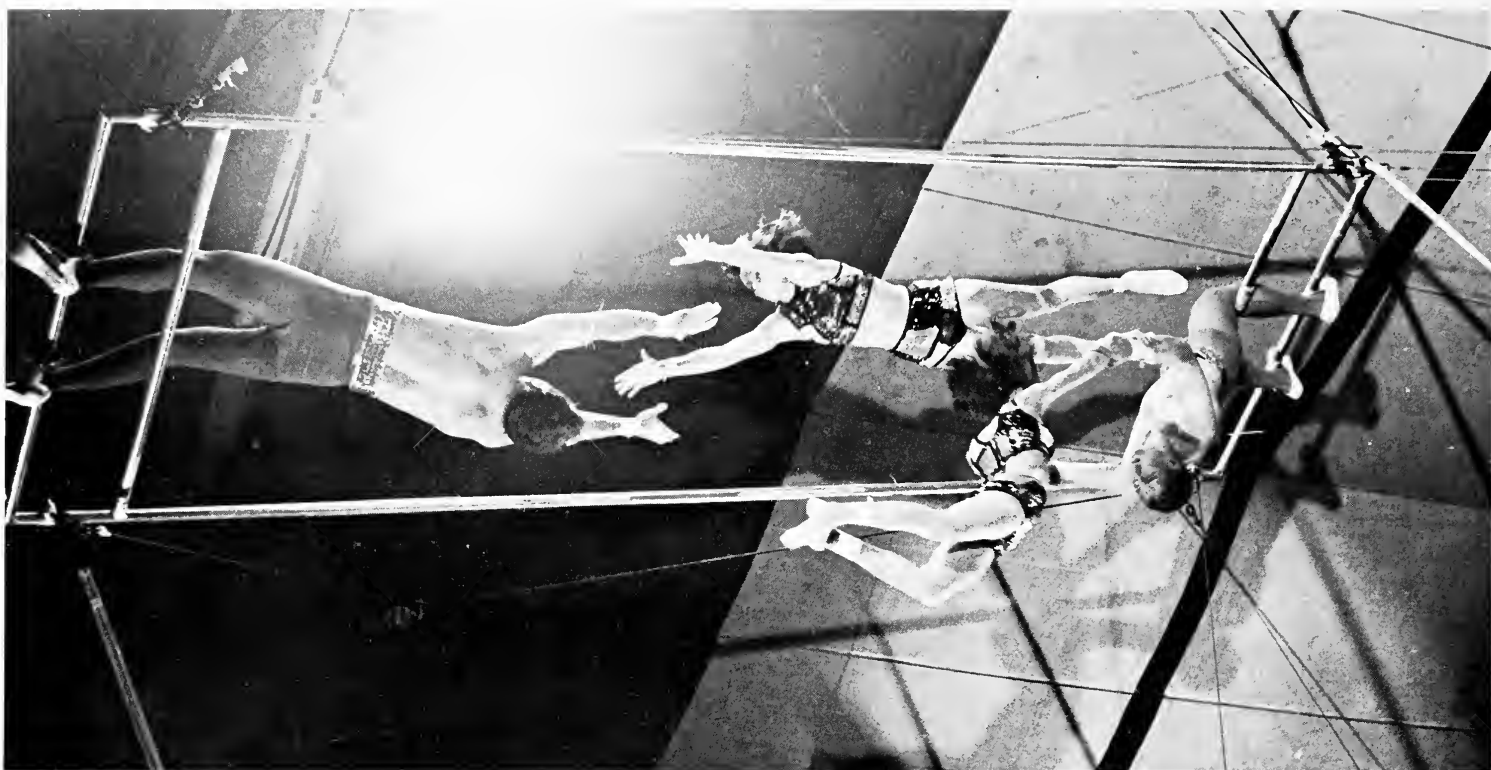

The rest of Family Weekend included tours of the Union, open houses for dorms, sororities, and fraternities, and a performance by the University Singers in Westcott Auditorium.

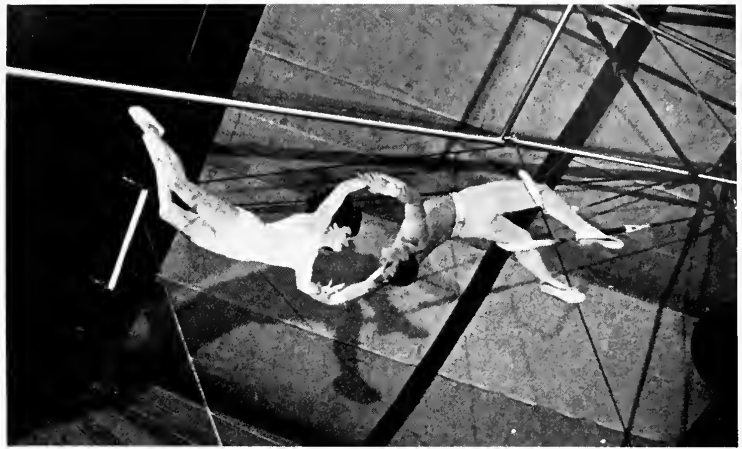

Greatest Collegiate Show On Earth

Spring

The dogwoods bloom like cottonblossoms, the azaleas tickle the campus pink, and the blue sky presents a striking contrast to the red brick buildings; all lend to the spirit of spring at FSU. Students flock to the pool, the sundeck, and the coast to brown themselves in the sun. Landis Green becomes one of the most popular places on campus and many classes are held in the fresh air. Spring is a time of new friendships and a resurgence of energy to finish up the last few weeks of classes.

Exams Come Too Soon

Finals are many things to many different people. To the "green" freshman they are the first real big test of their knowledge and abilities. To the sophomores and juniors they are the dreaded but accepted evils of a college degree. To the seniors they are periodic inconveniences that occur too many times before graduation to make taking it easy really advisable. For everyone final exams are too many and too often.

Graduation

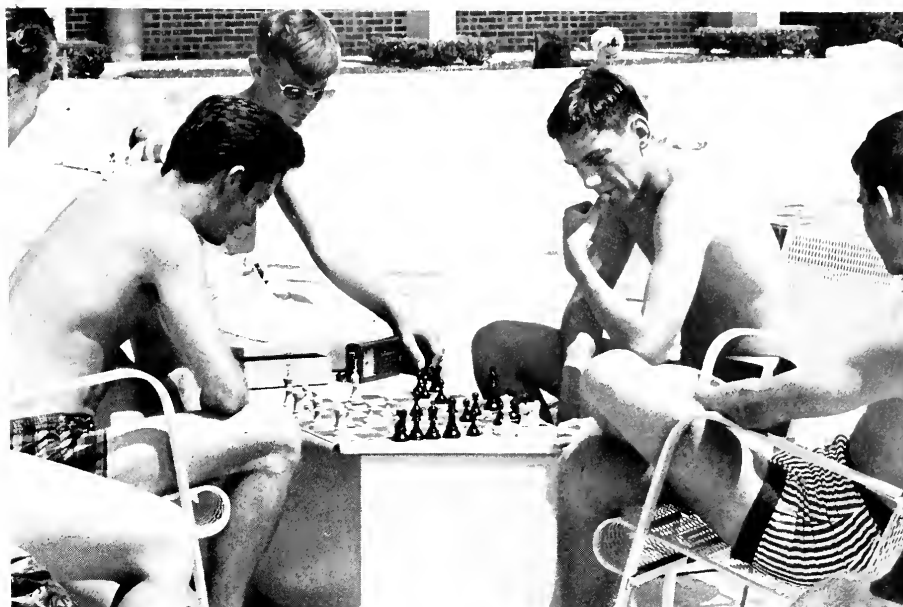

At 4:00 p.m. on April 21, 1966, a long procession of black gowns and colorful academic hoods began to file onto the field of Doak S. Campbell Stadium. As the Florida State University Band, played the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," 1,333 candidates for bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees arranged themselves for the ceremony.

Dr. Mason Ladd, dean of FSU's new College of Law, was the Commencement speaker. President John E. Champion conferred the degrees in the dignified ceremony.

Summer

Summer at FSU has a special flavor. The rainy days only make us appreciate the sunshine that much more. Trips to the coast, the crowd at the union pool, and that new tan Monday in class are signs of summer--the most relaxed season at Florida State University.

THRILLED AND SURPRISED, MARILYN KENDRICK IS CROWNED MISS TALLY HO FOR 1966

Miss Tally Ho Contest

Replacing the old Miss Florida State University Contest, was the Miss Tally Ho Contest, held January 10 through January 14 this year. The lovely contestants, sponsored by dormitories, scholarship houses, service organizations, fraternities, and sororities, were judged by the Tallahassee Junior Chamber of Commerce members on a basis of poise, facial beauty, figure, and grooming. Five minute interviews were held on Monday through Wednesday nights, with the members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority assisting. Through these interviews, the judges were able to pick twenty-five young ladies out of the one-hundred-forty contestants for the semi-finals. Palmer Williams acted as master of ceremonies for the final judging, held on Thursday night in Moore Auditorium. The contestants awaited the exciting news until the new Miss Tally Ho and her court were announced at the Tally Ho Ball on Friday night in the Florida State Ballroom. Mrs. Cindy Bashinski Drosner, the 1965 Miss Tally Ho, crowned Marilyn Kendrick, the very beautiful Miss Tally Ho for 1966. Members of the 1966 Miss Tally Ho Court were Janice Dutcher, Nancy Clifton, June Sutton, and Suzanne Bradford. The swinging music of the Soniks made the dance a complete success.

HAVING A GOOD TIME at the Tally Ho dance is lovely Mrs. Cindy (Bashinski) Drossner, last years queen.

With "Change" as their theme, the 1966 Tally Ho staff reached out to depict the new feelings and attitudes of Florida State University in the recent school year. Through black coffee and crumpled paper, through creation and casting aside, through encouragement and many failures, they worked on copy, layouts, and stacks of photographs. The result is an attempt to record for you, the students, the "Changing Face of FSU".

Flambeau Continues Under Collins

Under the leadership of Erik L. Collins the daily Florida Flambeau continued in its growth and progress for the 51st year. Increased circulation and a higher average number of pages per day characterized the physical growth, while the intangible growth in ideas was manifested by an attempt to gain entrance into Faculty Senate, support of the Student Bill of Rights, aiding Student Government in the Faculty Evaluation program, and a year-long drive to move the faculty and students closer together for a better working relationship and exchange of ideas.

Editorially the goal of the Flambeau was to give all sides and viewpoints of current campus, state, national, and international events. It provided an open forum for all students to air their views.

Smoke Signals Has New Look

Through its three different editors, the Smoke Signals this year ranged from a campus humor magazine to a social protest production and finally settled as an artistic photo study. Under Bob Cornet, Wayne Cowart, and Erik Collins, the traditional magazine braved the usual criticism and appeared five times in 1965-66. Even though the official purpose of the Smoke Signals has yet to be decided, the magazine has at least survived another year at FSU without being banned from the campus.

The special feeling upon seeing one's name in print, the sense of discovery--"Why, the girl who wrote that is in my history class!!"--these are but two of the many reactions to opening the Legend. Bonnie Egan, the editor, guided the compiling of the 1966 anthology. In the Legend, students found a medium through which they could express themselves publicly. For a special few it offered an audience to artistry in embryo. For all, it was an outlet for words which must be said.

The Legend

The 1965-66 Pow Wow, which made its annual appearance during orientation week in September, served as an informative handbook for FSU's incoming freshman and transfer students. In addition to introducing the reader to the campus and its traditions, student services, athletics, clubs, student government, Greeks, and to the rules which govern him as a student, the Pow Wow also provided the student with a copy of the Florida State Student Body Constitution.

Lab Is Essential To Publications

The Student Publications Lab was established in 1959 for the purpose of expediting the publishing of student publications and reducing their cost. The Florida Flambeau, Tally Ho, Smoke Signals and Legend transfer money to the Lab in order that the Lab may finance its operation. The Lab, in return, provides composition, camera-ready copy and printing advice to each of the publications. Due to the initiation of a Student Publications Photographic Service in the fall of 1965, additional funds from student publications were added to their Lab transfers in order that more feasible control of fiscal matters could be obtained. The Student Publications Lab also provides a service for inter-departmental agencies and offers a duplicating service to students.

Reapportionment Tops SG Legislation

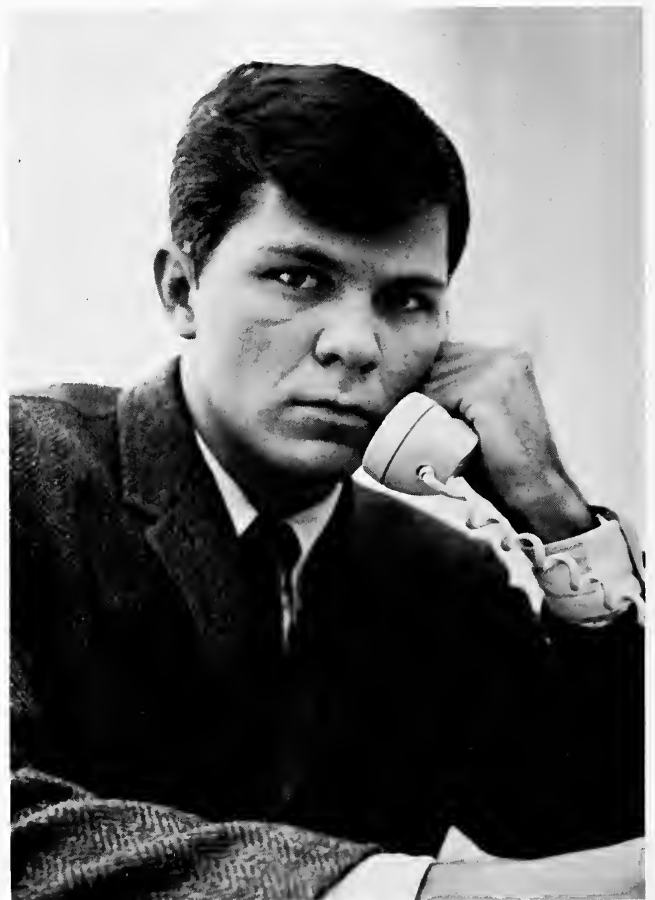

Student Government established a record year of solid accomplishment during 1965-66, with emphasis on service to the entire Student Body. The year began with the adoption of a new Senate Apportionment plan based on a one-man, one-vote principle. With this foundation for a revitalized Student Senate, and with strong executive leadership, Student Government proceeded to initiate many programs, while continuing established functions.

These new programs included the Dollars for Scholars scholarship drive, a student-owned bus system for campus transportation, revision of women's social regulations, and reorganization of the Student Judicial System to provide added protection for individual student rights, as well as a comprehensive new elections code.

Student Government continued to administer such programs as the Student Insurance Program, the Faculty Evaluation, the Student Depository, the Student Entertainment Series, and the budgeting of activities fees for scores of student activities.

Cabinet

Composed of an octave of outstanding participants in student government, the '65-'66 cabinet gave support to Jim Groot's administrative plans. Many innovations in the area of student activities came about because of these officers. After much indecision Attorney General Leif Erikson granted dormitories the status of organizations by awarding them the right to block seating. Also put into effect was Commissioner of Elections Tom Farrar's voter registration decree, which required students to have their I.D.'s stamped with their precinct numbers. A joint effort by the cabinet and the student body president was their "sit-in" on the Union roof in protest of a lack of meeting space.

Student Senate

The Student Senate, composed of 49 senators and a secretary, constitutes the legislative branch of Student Government at FSU. Two senators are elected from each class and one from each precinct. This year, the precincts underwent a reapportionment to assure a fairer representation. The men's and the Women's Senates meet separately, and the whole group convenes each week with the Student Body Vice-President presiding to make and change laws, which are then subject to faculty review.

DON LOUCKS
Chief Justice

Honor Court is made up of ten members of junior and senior standing, the chief justice having had previous court experience. The chief justice is elected in the spring elections and presides over all honor court sessions. Of the remaining nine members one is the court clerk and the other eight are the associate justices consisting of two men and two women from each of the two upper classes. In the university student court system, the Honor Court is the superior court having jurisdiction over appeals from the University Court, interpretations of the Student Body Constitution, violations of the Academic Honor Code and the impeachment of officers of the Student Body.

Judiciary Court is made up of eighteen members, three men and three women from each of the three upper classes. From this number, one person is elected by the student body to fill the chairman's seat. The court has jurisdiction over all cases not delegated elsewhere and also appeals from campus house councils. For cases involving both men and women, the whole court will have jurisdiction, while cases involving either men or women will be handled by the men and women respectively. If a man is elected to fill the positions of Chairman of University Court in the elections he will head the entire court as well as Men's Judiciary, and Women's Judiciary will choose their own chairman.

As a member of the Union board, he was responsible for all Union policies, budget making, and future Union planning. Business manager, Mr. Archie Kramer, took charge of budget auditing, purchasing, and maintenance of the complex. Miss Jane Adams, the Night Assistant to the Director, oversaw Union operation during evening hours and was responsible for all the night student supervisors. Program Director, Miss Lynda Brinks, was accountable for programs and activities sponsored by the Union Program Council. Miss Carolyn Krentzman took care of the Union Space Reservations, and planned the catering for Union Functions. Mrs. Kay Vernon was in charge of Special Events, and worked with both the Student Entertainment Committee and the Student Artist Committee.

Union Board

The Florida State University Union is governed by the University Union Board. The Board consists of eight student members and five non-student members, individually appointed by outgoing board members, the president of the university, and the student body president. Three of the members are elected in the spring elections.

The Union provided a cultural, social, and recreational program for the students again this year. The Board promoted the use of Union facilities for the benefit of the student body, and negotiated with the Union management in regard to student wishes on the operation of the Union.

Florida State's football team came through the season with only a 4-5-1 record but the statistics do not tell the whole story. The Seminoles could never quite jell. Every home game made it look as though "they had found themselves," but on the road the new found strength could not hold up.

It was also the season of the clash with some of the nation's top football teams on the opponent's home field. It was a very difficult season as every team the Seminoles met was playing at its peak.

Seminoles Lose 7-3 In Opener With TCU

Mistakes were the order of the day September 25 when the Seminoles dropped the season's opener against Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

After a scoreless first quarter Bill Campbell recovered a Horned Frog fumble on the TCU 45-yard line. Quarterback Ed Pritchett moved the Tribe to the 13 in five plays. In a fourth down situation Pete Roberts put the ball through the uprights to give FSU a 3-0 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter an intercepted pass from Pritchett set up an 11 play series that ended with Kenneth Post's diving in for a TCU touchdown. The conversion was good, and the Frogs moved ahead 7-3.

With 32 seconds remaining, FSU's Bill McDowell recovered a fumble on the Horned Frog 12-yard line. Making a final attempt to save the game, Pritchett ran the ball to the four-yard line. Before another play could begin, the whistle signalled the game's end and killed all hopes of a last second victory.

Tribe Squeaks By Baylor 9-7

THROWN FOR A BIG LOSS behind the line of scrimmage by Jack Shinholser (61) is Baylor's quarterback Terry Southall.

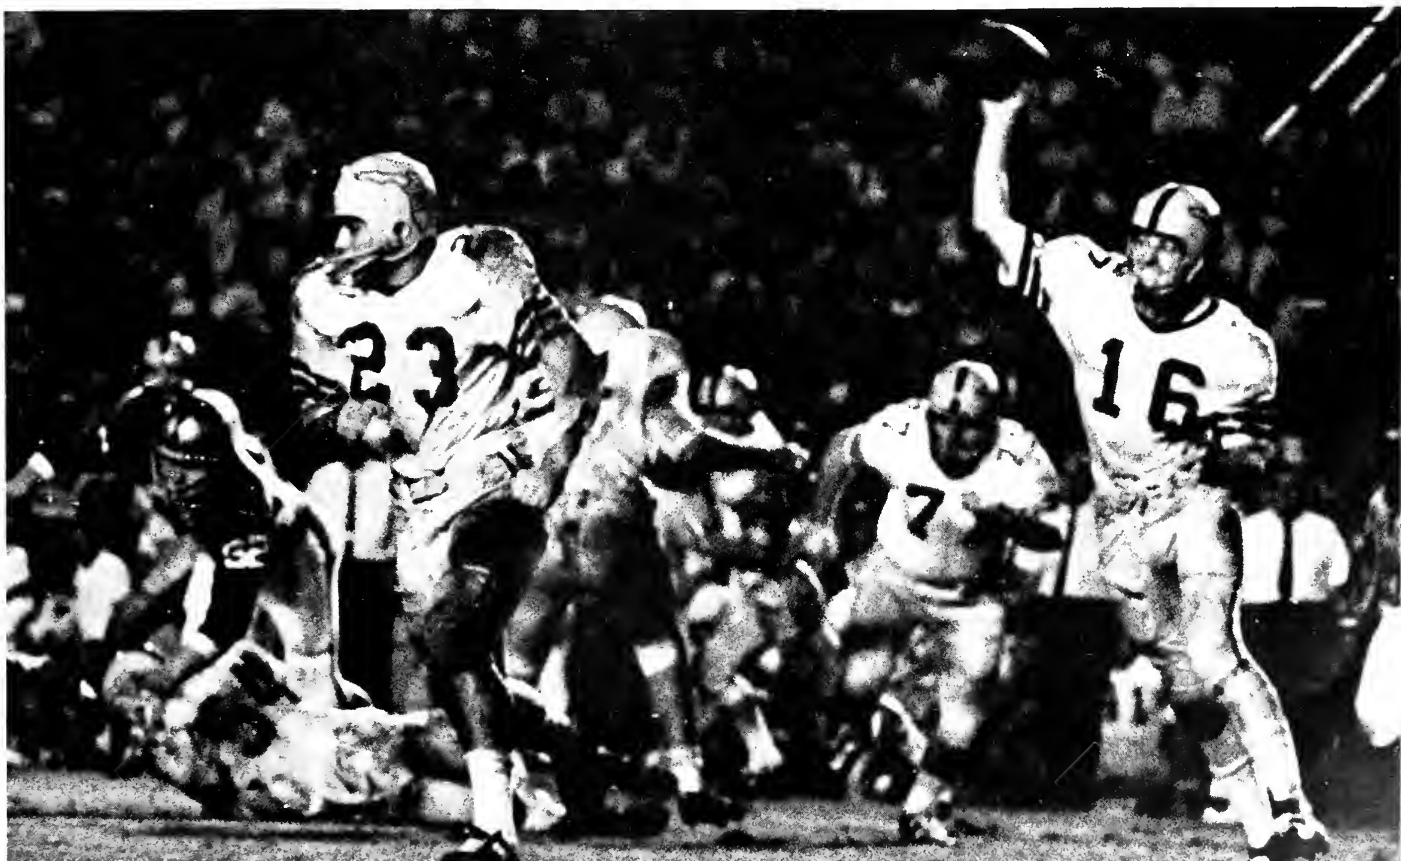

Offensive luck, defensive skill and home crowd pep gave the Seminoles their first win of the season by defeating nationally ranked Baylor 9-7.

The Bears were severely handicapped early in the game when their highly-touted quarterback Terry Southall sustained a broken ankle. Due to an 18-yard loss on the play Baylor was forced to punt on a fourth and 23 situation.

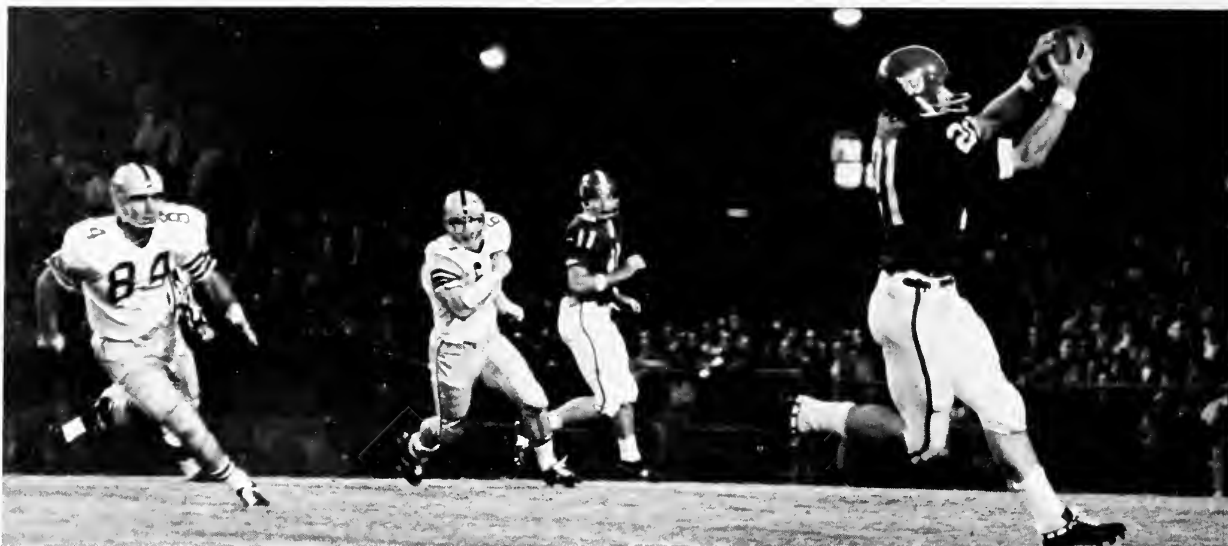

Taking advantage of the break, the Tribe began an eight-play series that ended with the 32-yard field goal by Pete Roberts.

With the Seminoles ahead 3-0, Baylor quarterback Roger Marshall led the Bears 62 yards in nine plays. On the next play Marshall connected with halfback George Cheshire in the end-zone for a 20-yard TD pass. The extra point was good and Baylor moved ahead 7-3.

Only five minutes remained in the game when FSU quarterback Ed Pritchett unloaded his 59-yard bomb on flankerback T. K. Wetherell putting the Seminoles in the winner's column, 9-7.

THE WILDCATS OF KENTUCKY PUT ON THE PRESSURE TO GET REVENGE FOR LAST YEARS DEFEAT

Wildcats Edge Seminoles 26-24

FSU's offense, thought to be dead in the first two games of the season, was resurrected at Lexington against the Wildcats of Kentucky. The effort was in vain, however, as a two-point spread put another black mark on the Seminole records for 1965.

The play that had the 37,000 fans standing on their seats came with one minute left in the first quarter. Following an 83-yard drive which grabbed the kickoff at the one-yard line and raced to the 13, where it appeared the play would end. Kentucky was in for a surprise, though, as Moremen flipped the ball to T. K. Wetherell, who ran the remaining 87 yards down the right sideline for the touchdown.

The lead changed hands three more times, and with five and one half minutes left in the game, the Tribe led 24-20. Kentucky, still bloodthirsty for revenge after last year's 48-6 defeat, was not finished. In 11 plays the 'Cats moved in for the score that gave them their 26-24 victory.

WITH A STRONG RALLY for the Seminoles to bring them back against the Wildcats, the Chiefs still fail to stop their TD.

GEORGIA'S OFFENSE is held by the Magnificent Seven, who allowed entrance into FSU territory only twice.

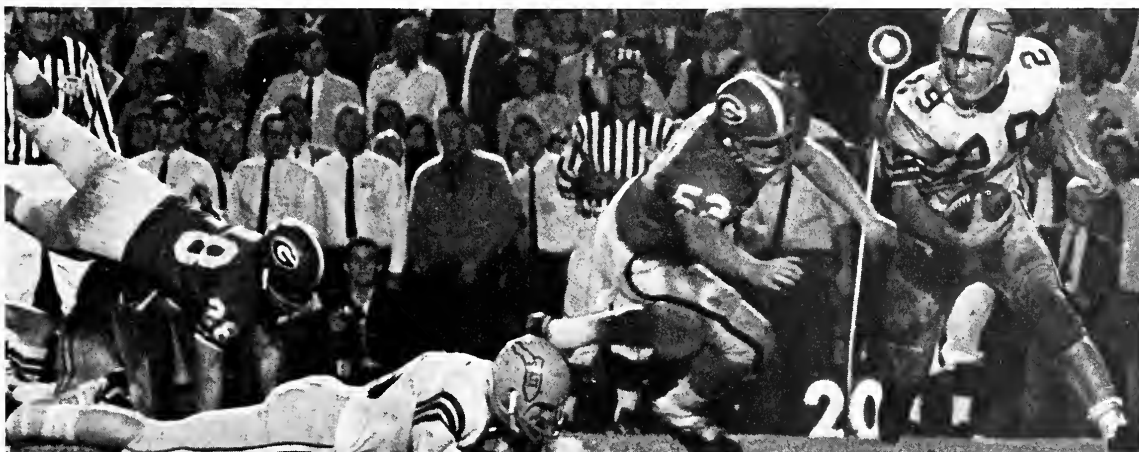

Florida State University's iconoclastic, though inconsistent, football team came through with a 10-3 upset over the University of Georgia October 16 in Tallahassee and toppled the Bulldogs from their number five national ranking. While it was Georgia's first loss of the season, it was the Seminole's greatest win.

Georgia's lone score came on a lucky break late in the second quarter. Lynn Hughes intercepted a Seminole pass on the FSU 20 yard-line and raced down to the 12. After three ineffective plays the Bulldogs got three points off the toe of Bobby Etter.

The Seminoles scored twice. The first tally came in the final quarter when FSU Fullback Bill Moreman sprinted 20 yards for a TD. Tribe placekicker Pete Roberts put the remaining points on the board by booting an extra point and a 31-yard field goal.

Crimson Tide Takes Seminoles

Coming out of the Georgia game with high hopes of salvaging a good season's record, the Seminoles invaded Tuscaloosa October 23 and met the Alabama Crimson Tide head on.

The job proved to be too much for the Tribe to handle as Alabama rolled to a 21-0 victory before a homecoming crowd of 43,000.

Following the game Head Coach Bill Peterson said, "It just wasn't our day," and described the Crimson Tide as the "best team we've played."

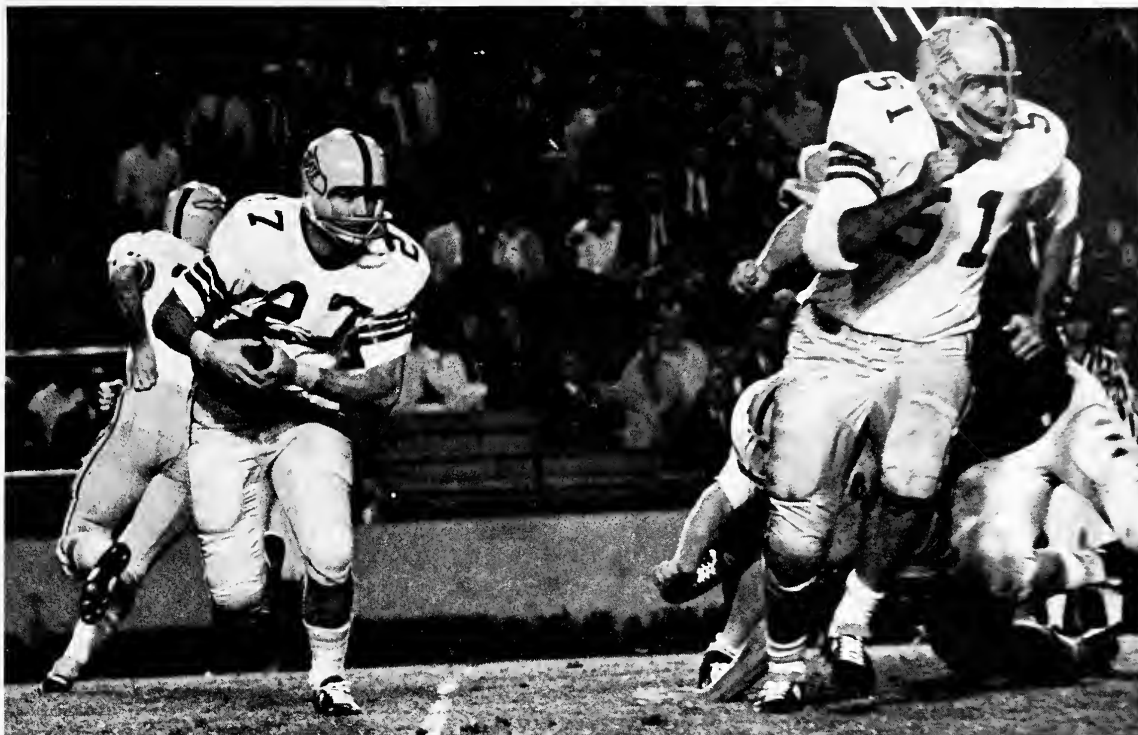

Peterson's analysis of Bear Bryant's charges was an accurate one. The Crimson Tide flooded Nebraska in the Orange Bowl New Year's night and was subsequently titled the Number One Team in the Nation for the second year in a row.

Tribe Knocks Off Gobblers

WITH THE PRESSURE ON, Seminole place kicker Pete Roberts (85) boots for the extra point that beat VPI by a score of 7-6.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute, long time jinx to Florida State and sole victor over the hot 1964 team, came to Tallahassee October 30 hoping to beat the Seminoles for the third year in a row. Their dreams were not realized, however, and the Tribe came through with a slim 7-6 win.

On the first series of downs the Seminoles had possession, the ball was fumbled three times in four plays. The Gobblers recovered the third one on their own 44-yard line.

It wasn't until the second half that either team was able to reach pay dirt. In the third quarter Halfback Bill Moreman scampered around left end for an FSU TD from the two yard line. Pete Roberts booted the extra point and FSU led 7-0.

VPI was unable to put a scoring drive together until the fourth quarter. Owing to a poor snap from center, the Gobblers were forced to go for a two point conversion which was unsuccessful.

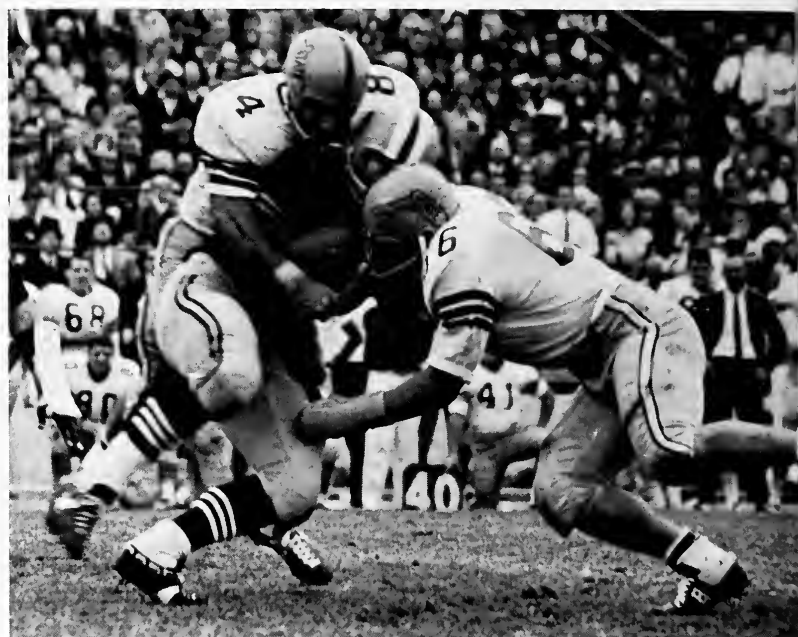

Seminoles Win At Homecoming

An explosive offense plus a strong defense gave the Seminoles their greatest win of the season November 6 when the Wake Forest Demon Deacons came to Tallahassee for Homecoming 1965.

The returning grads got their money's worth as the Tribe staged a dazzling display of gridiron excellence. At game's end the scoreboard showed Florida State had chalked up an impressive 35-0 victory.

Quarterback Ed Pritchett stole the afternoon show by passing a 40-yard touchdown "bomb" to Tight End Max Wettstein, completing 10 of 18 passing attempts, and even scoring a TD on a run from the 12 yard line.

Seminole Defensive Back Bill Campbell provided some late-in-the-game excitement when he returned a Demon Punt 70 yards to put the final tally on the board--Florida State 35, Wake Forest 0.

N.C. State Dumps Seminoles 3-0

Defensive showmanship coupled with offensive mediocrity gave the Seminoles their fourth loss of the season when they met the Wolfpack of North Carolina State University November 13 in Raleigh, North Carolina.

A Seminole fumble near midfield early in the third period gave NC State the game's only score. Capitalizing on Florida State's mistake the Wolfpack marched to the Seminole 25 yard line before calling in placekicker Howard Deters to put three points on the board.

In the final analysis the Tribe seemed unable to cope with the determined Wolfpack. By game's end Seminole Quarterback Ed Pritchett had been dumped for 67 yards in losses, completed 10 of 21 passes, and netted a total of -39 yards. The final score showed the Tribe blanked by a margin of 3-0.

FSU Plays Houston To 16-16 Tie

Missed field goals and disappointment characterized the Tribe's last home game of the season as the University of Houston Cougars battled the Seminoles to a 16-16 tie November 20.

Seminole Fullback Jim Mankins had the crowd on its feet early in the first period when he raced 27 yards to the Houston one-yard line in spite of being hit by Cougar linemen and secondary all the way. The tremendous Seminole effort was nullified, however, as the kickoff after the touchdown was returned 92 yards for a TD by Houston speedster Warren McVea.

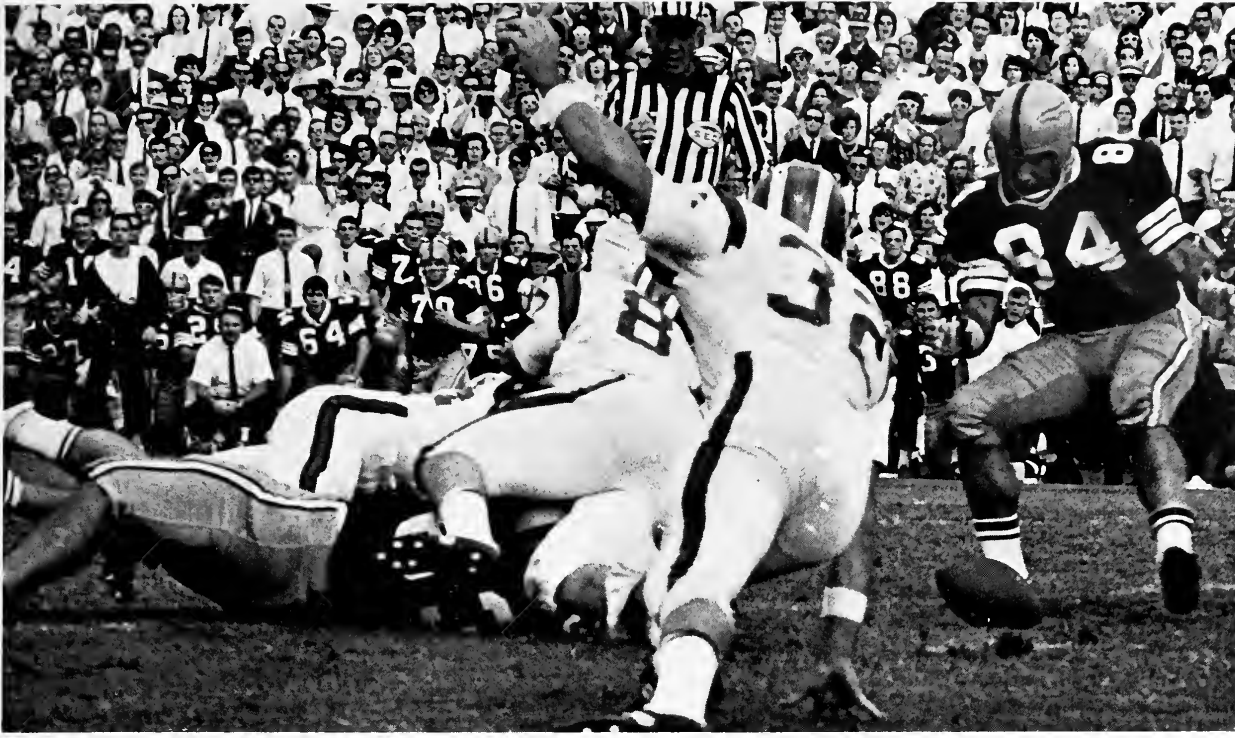

In the waning seconds of the game FSU missed on two field goal attempts and Houston missed on one, leaving the final score a disappointing 16-16.

SLIPPING PAST a Houston defender is FSU's Bill Moreman while T.K. Wetherell (28) blocks another tackle attempt.

Gators Top Seminoles 30-17

Quarterback Steve Spurrier and End Charles Casey, the University of Florida's top stars, got together and came up with a TD in the last two minutes of the November 27 game that ended all hopes of FSU's finishing the season with a winning record.

In the last quarter of the game the Seminoles moved ahead of the arch-rival Gators 17-16, and FSU fans went wild. Their joy was short lived as the Spurrier-to-Casey combination went to work. In just 58 seconds the Gators were again on top with a score of 23-17.

Not content with this margin, Florida defender Alan Trammel picked off a desperation pass from Seminole Quarterback Ed Pritchett and raced 46 yards into the end zone. The final gun sounded with the scoreboard showing Florida 30 and FSU 17.

RACING INTO the end zone to give FSU a happy but short lived lead over the Gators is Seminole Jerry Jones (88).

Stars Spark Winning Season

A pair of seasoned seniors and a couple of hot sophomore upstarts provided the necessary spark to shoot the FSU basketball team to its fifth winning season in six years.

Seniors Gary Schull and Bill Peacock led the Seminoles to 15 victories. It was the first season in FSU basketball history that more games were played at home than on the road.

Schull, standing a tall 6'7", averaged an outstanding 19 points per game. He became the Tribe's fifth all-time high scorer with a total of 1,122 points scored at FSU. He was the sixth Seminole to break the 1,000 point career mark.

Peacock, who came into his own as a senior, kept Florida State in the ball game with his long one-handed baskets from 20 feet or more.

Sophomore Guards Jim Lyttle and Darrell Stewart provided plenty of excitement through their playful, though proficient antics on the court. Lyttle was the team's second leading scorer with 320 points for the season. Stewart's ball hawking defensive maneuvers kept the opponents off balance all season.

The Seminoles started the season fairly well, including a 121-57 win over Tampa, but the road trips were disastrous. They won only two of the 11 games played on foreign campuses.

FRED HATFIELD
Baseball Coach

This was to be Florida State's year in baseball. The Seminoles returned virtually the same team that had gone to the College World Series the year before, and the only two changes in the starting lineup promised to make the team even stronger than ever. Coach Fred Hatfield's men were the pre-season pick as the team to beat, and throughout the regular season they lived up to every expectation by winning 36 and losing only 11 games.

All season long the Seminoles were only a few points from being in the number one spot in the national press poll.

Florida State showed a lot of ability as it went into the District III tournament at Gastonia, N.C. with all but one regular player batting over .300 and a team batting average of .305. It turned out that the Tribe did not get a crack at the College World Series as it was downed in the last game of the double elimination tournament.

In the final baseball poll Florida State ranked sixth in the nation and had a record of 39-13.

Head Coach Bim Stults brought the Florida State swimming team through another outstanding season. The Seminole tankers rolled up a very impressive seven wins against only one loss for the season.

Included in the Florida State victories were two wins over the University of Florida Gators. Both wins were accomplished with identical 70-25 scores.

The die-hard Seminoles suffered their only loss of the season to the Wolfpack of North Carolina State. Stults' crew came out on the short end of a 59-36 score. It was probably the most difficult meet of the season due to a blizzard that left eight inches of snow on the ground in Raleigh, N.C.

However most of the other scores were not quite so disappointing for the Seminoles. The Tribe beat the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets 50-33 just prior to the encounter with North Carolina State. Bouncing back after the loss, the Seminoles beat East Carolina 59-36 and went on for four more victories.

Many of the scores belie the Tribe power as Stults swam his younger and less experienced swimmers against opponents that seemed to be weaker.

Planning and coordinating rush and acting as a governing body are the major functions of Panhellenic Council. The new rush system which was begun last year was re-examined and improved this year to adapt to an increased enrollment. Formal receptions were held twice, in September and in January. In addition, the rules for open rushing have been more clearly defined. Every week council meetings were held to which each sorority sent two delegates. They were responsible for relaying to their groups information and advice they received.

By maintaining this sense of unity, the various groups could cooperate on projects as a whole. As an example of this, Greek Week was sponsored by Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council.

COORDINATING RUSH IS JUST ONE of Panhellenic Council's main responsibilities.

Alpha Chi Omega

The Alpha Chi Omega sorority was founded as a music sorority in 1885 at Depauw University. Although it is no longer a musical group, the Alpha Chi active pin is still in the shape of a lyre. The nickname, the "Alpha Chi Angels," is appropriate, as these girls have spent hours helping the handicapped by making books and self-help toys.

Each month this year one active and one pledge were chosen by the actives for their outstanding helpfulness and friendliness. These members, known as "Carnation Girls," were presented with the sorority flower, the red carnation. Another favorite tradition is the selection of the "Favorite Guy of Alpha Chi" during their fall weekend every year. The Alpha Chi's are active on campus, with membership in student government and campus honoraries.

The Alpha Delta Pi's, on this campus since 1907, celebrated their fifty-seventh birthday January 22nd. The national sorority was founded in 1851, as the Adelpian Society at Wesleyan College.

The Alpha Delta Pi's were once again awarded the Tallahassee Social Service award. The chapter has always taken an active interest in community projects, visiting the Tallahassee Convalescent Home, sponsoring parties at the W.T. Edwards Tuberculosis Hospital, and adopting children from the Sunnyland Child-care Center.

The A D Pi's still have plenty of time and interest for campus activities and social affairs. They also boasted the highest grade point average for sororities in the fall.

The Alpha Gams have been showing their versatility this year by their participation in many campus activities. They have members in every campus honorary as well as in student government and various fraternal organizations. Their active participation enabled them this year to win the Delt "Sorority of the Year" trophy.

Activities specifically for the chapter members include the International Reunion Day, the Christmas tree trimming party, and the alum party which are held during the Christmas holidays. Despite all this activity, the girls did not neglect their studies, as they placed among the top five in sorority scholastic competition.

Keeping busy seems to be the goal of every sorority woman and the sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi are no exception. Variety is the best word to describe their many activities. One of the highlights of the year was the annual Rose Ball. This occasion was held especially in honor of outstanding members. The seniors, along with dates, were presented under a rose arch. Another tradition with the FSU chapter, which used the sorority's national emblem of the red rose, was the Rose Tree, whose branches signify grade standings.

Charity work included working for the Candle of Hope School and taking underprivileged children to the FSU Circus. The AOPi's still found time to participate in student government, campus honoraries and organizations.

Alpha Phi

Alpha Phi was founded at Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York in 1872. The Alpha Phi chapter at Florida State was established officially in May, 1959, with the first house opening in the fall of 1960. The following year the Alpha Phi's moved into their present house, which is located on West Call Street.

After formal rush, the girls found themselves drawn into the numerous activities of the trimester. Working on their Homecoming float, dancing at their Fall Weekend, and participating in the Sigma Chi Derby brightened the academic year. The Alpha Phi's also could be found in Student Government, campus honoraries for women, and among the various fraternal organizations of campus.

The Alpha Xi Delta chapter at Florida State joined other chapters around the nation in supporting the Howell House in Chicago, Illinois. Howell House is a neighborhood recreation center maintained to aid in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Besides service projects, the Alpha Xi's took part in many activities centered around the chapter house. Members enjoyed backyard barbecues in the fall and deserts with fraternities, highlighted by skits and dancing. The pledges also had the yearly "Turn-about-Night" when the actives leave and they take over the house. Another event enjoyed by the Alpha Xi's was their Weekend.

The Alpha Xi's are very active in campus activities, with members in Garnet Key, Mortar Board, Mortified, Angel Flight, and other honoraries.

Chi Omega was founded in 1895 at the University of Arkansas. Gamma Chapter of Chi Omega at FSU has always been very active on campus. The Chi O's started the year off with a welcoming tea for their new housemother, "Mother Mims." They held their annual Christmas party at which they exchanged toys that were then given to the underprivileged children in Tallahassee.

In January, the Chi O's enjoyed Chi Omega State Day, held in Orlando. Gamma Chapter provided the entertainment. This past spring, the chapter was awarded the Social Science Prize.

The Chi O's were also active in student government and dorm government, claiming two dorm presidents. Members can also be found participating in many campus honoraries and organizations.

Delta Delta Delta

The women of Tri Delt's Alpha Eta chapter have maintained an outstanding record during the past year, both scholastically and in their activities. They have consistently ranked among the top five sororities academically and have taken part in many campus events. This year the Tri Delt's were proud to have the Women's Vice-President as one of their sisters. In addition, the sorority entered Campus Sing, the Sigma Chi Derby, and participated in student government and campus honoraries.

The girls also held their traditional Easter egg hunt for children of their alums in Tallahassee and an "Apple Polishing Party," which was a party for faculty members. The sisters managed to fit all of this plus many individual activities into the last two very short and busy trimesters.

Delta Gamma

The anchor-clankers have had a very busy season this year. For fun and enjoyment, the Delta Gamma's had their annual weekend at Silver Lake, known as "Raunchy Ranch." Invitations were delivered around campus by a mule-drawn wagon. At the party, dungarees and cowboy hats helped to complete the proper atmosphere.

The Delta Gamma's also kept up with their national service project of helping blind students. Each sorority member donated her time to read to the blind.

The D.G.'s also kept active in student government and campus affairs. They boast members in many of the campus honoraries and fraternal organizations.

Delta Zeta

The Delta Zeta's were established on the campus of Florida State University in 1924. Since that time, the sorority has been very active in both campus and service projects.

In order to become acquainted with the new football players, the pledge class sponsored a banquet in their honor. Other activities enjoyed by the group were the steak dinner held by the pledges, the faculty auction, the Halloween Party, and the tea for housemothers. The DZ's also enjoyed their annual Fall Weekend, and their spring retreat at the reservation.

The DZ's were once again active in student government, Mortar Board, Garnet Key, Mortified, and other honorary organizations on campus.

The Beta Mu chapter of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, which was founded nationally at the University of Syracuse in 1874, was established on the Florida State University campus in 1950. The purpose of the organization is to promote higher mental and social culture among its members.

This attitude is reflected on campus. Members participate in activities ranging from scholastic honoraries to fraternity little sisters. Gamma Phi's are found in Who's Who, Phi Beta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Student Senate, Village Vamps, Tarpon, Circus, Junior Counselors, Sophomore Council, Angel Flight, and Delta Chi and Theta Chi Little Sisters.

Outstanding social events include the fall weekend, exchanges, and a pledge-active Christmas party.

Beta Nu chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta has worked this year with the Tallahassee Chamber of Commerce and plans to continue this in the coming years. One of the highest ranked sororities nationally, the Theta's once again had an outstanding year at FSU.

The sisters used a unique and suspenseful method to help pledges discover who their Theta "moms" would be. Two weeks after pledging a hat ceremony was held; each mom made a pair of matching hats for the occasion, one of which was given to her "daughter." When a pledge found an active wearing a hat like hers, she had found her new mom. A Another favorite chapter activity was the pledge kite fly. Each neophyte was required to fly successfully a kite she had made before she could be initiated.

"How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm, after they've seen KD?" Neighbors and visitors of the Kappa Delta's have often seen a circle of smiling faces on the front lawn of the sorority house, loudly singing these words. The song has been a familiar trademark of the group, used during rush and after dinner spirit circles in attempts to outsing their neighbors, the Kappa's and the ADP's.

But this has not been the only activity of KD's during this busy year. They put much effort into service and philanthropic projects, as well as participating in many campus activities. The chapter had members in student government, Mortar Board, Garnet Key, Angel Flight, and other campus honoraries and fraternal organizations. With these and other memories, the year ended for Kappa Delta and plans began for the new year to come.

The Epsilon Zeta chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was established at Florida State University in 1960. Since that time, they have been very active on campus, and the sisters have won many individual honors. This year daughters entertained their mothers with a lively card party, and the mothers found out what its like to eat and sleep at the Kappa house.

The Kappa's are very proud to have the next Student Body Vice-President as one of their sisters. Members can also be found in Panhellenic, Mortar Board, Garnet Key, Mortified, Angel Flight, and many other honorary organizations. The Kappa's were also active in philanthropic projects and all Greek activities.

Although not an exclusively Southern sorority, the Phi Mu's are proud of their Southern founding and tradition. This could be seen most outstandingly in their rush party which carried out a Southern theme, with the girls in ante bellum ball gowns and pick-aninnies welcoming the rushees at the door.

Phi Mu is also one of the oldest national fraternities for women, founded in 1849, a fact about which the girls are also naturally proud.

Socially, the Phi Mu's energetically participated in rush this year, and entertained fraternities at socials at their house on West Jefferson. They enjoyed their fall weekend at Silver Lake Lodge, and contributed their part to most of the major annual events especially for Greeks.

Pi Beta Phi

Florida Beta of Pi Beta Phi was chartered in 1921, and from that time its members have lived at the "gingerbread" house on West College. With the fall trimester came new activities and responsibilities for the chapter: float building for Homecoming, a semi-formal weekend at the Holiday Inn, and an open house for prospective football players. In the spring, the Pi Phi's held the traditional party with the Theta's, supported campus elections, and, for the second consecutive year, took first place in the Sigma Chi Derby. One of the chapter's main service projects was its support of the sorority's national settlement school for mountain children which is located in Gatlinburg, Tennessee; a craft workshop is also sponsored in coordination with the school.

With much enthusiasm, Sigma Kappa's Omega chapter began the new school year with campus and sorority activities. The sisters participated in the production of the Gymkana show, the Sigma Chi Derby and they went caroling at Christmas time as part of their gerontology project. Socially, the sorority entertained fraternities at exchanges and held their annual Fall Weekend.

The Sigma Kappa's were the winners of this year's Ugly Man Contest, sponsored by APO. The members were also very active in Angel Flight, Fashion Incorporated, Garnet Key and many other organizations. The sisters were very proud of their president, who was elected to the Hall of Fame as well as Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Sigma Sigma Sigma established their chapter at Florida State University in 1959. They moved into their present house on West Jefferson Street in September of 1963. This year the Tri Sig's had a busy rush featuring a "Fair Sigma" skit among others. After rush, the sorority moved right into campus activities with the Gymkana show, building their Homecoming float, and participating in Greek Week. The social highlight of the trimester was their Fall Weekend for the girls and their dates.

In the spring, the Tri Sig's were busy with the Sigma Chi Derby, Circus decorations, and Campus Sing. Finally, the girls were rewarded for the scholarship efforts when the sorority was named number one in scholarship for the spring trimester in sorority competition.

Founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, October 15, 1898, Zeta now claims 104 national chapters. The purpose of Zeta Tau Alpha is to intensify friendship, foster a spirit of love, create such sentiments and perform such deeds as will conduce to the building up of a purer and nobler womanhood in today's world.

This year the Zeta's were active in community projects. They were in charge of United Nations Day, and sponsored a Vietnamese orphan. The Zeta pickers played for the T.B. hospital, for the Kiwanis Club, and for various campus functions. They also celebrated their 22nd Christmas tea for the faculty. The Zeta-Kappa Sig float was awarded "Most Beautiful" in Homecoming competition.

Inter-Fraternity Council

William L. Proctor
Inter-Fraternity Council Adviser

Inter-fraternity Council functions in order to run the fraternity system effectively at Florida State. This organization has the responsibility of regulating rush, social affairs, and academics. Every two weeks, the fraternity presidents, who comprise the council, meet. Four from their number are selected as officers for the group.

Because of the trimester, the fraternities have placed special emphasis upon scholarship. Here the keen competition is evident among them. Other principles upon which IFC is based are the upholding of democratic ideals, loyalty to the university and constructive training and management responsibility.

Established in 1949, the Epsilon Sigma Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega has been on the forward move in many different fields. Representatives of each sorority were initiated into the "Little Sisters of the Maltese Cross," designed to promote interfraternity and sorority relations. ATO's sponsored a Homecoming Court member and a Gymkana Court member.

This year, the brothers were represented in Who Who, Gold Key, and Omicron Delta Kappa. Wayne Giordano played fullback for the fighting Seminoles. Several of the brothers have also been quite popular with the sororities this year. The Zeta Tau Alpha Man of the Year, Delta Zeta Man, and the Kappa Kappa Gamma Man were ATO's.

Other activities of the brothers include intramurals, Student Government, and membership in campus honoraries and fraternal organizations.

Delta Tau Delta, better known as the "Delts," has been a part of Florida State since 1949. The brothers of Delta Phi chapter have distinguished themselves in various ways this year.

During the spring trimester the Delts sponsored their annual Slave Auction. Held in front of Westcott the event gave the girls on campus an opportunity to bargain for the Delts of their choice. The Delts also presented the Sorority of the Year trophy. This year the recipient was Alpha Gamma Delta. The Delts participated in other phases of campus life too. Enthusiastic sportsmen, they came in first place in the Phi Delta Theta soap-box derby. They also took part in Student Government and the various honoraries.

The men of Delta Chi have always been quite active in many phases of campus life. For the past two years, in order to better the fraternity-sorority relations, the Delta Chi's have sponsored a weekly feature article in the Flambeau entitled "Delta Chi Greek Girl of the Week." Each sorority selected several girls to run and the fraternity made the final selections.

From the social aspect, during homecoming the fraternity held their yearly "Redskin Romp," a dance carried down from their chapter at Auburn. Their Weekend featured the annual "White Carnation Ball."

The Delta Chi's are very active in student government and varsity sports, and claim members in many fraternal and honorary organizations.

Kappa Alpha

The Kappa Alpha Order, founded upon the traditions of the Old South, has been established on Florida State's campus since 1949. The fraternity is known especially for its Old South weekend, held each spring. The celebration begins with their secession from the Union, during which time notices are presented to the governor of the state and the president of the university.

Earlier in the year, the KA's stood as an honor guard in Confederate uniforms during the Natural Bridge Ceremony, held by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in the state of Florida. KA's boast of brothers in every varsity sport, including two football captains, and the varsity catcher on FSU's nationally-ranked baseball team. They also have Gold Key members, including the President, and members in ODK, Judiciary and Student Government.

A "Bird of Paradise" brought to the Kappa Sigma house the "Most Beautiful Float" trophy during Homecoming festivities. Meanwhile, the neophyte class took their paint brushes and shovels to the Tallahassee Junior Museum for the annual "Operation Brotherhood."

On the social scene, combo parties, the Christmas "Snowball Dance," and a "Cave Man" weekend entertained the Kappa Sigs and their dates during the year.

The Kappa Sig's were well represented in hon- oraries and extra-curricular activities on campus with members in Student Government, Alpha Phi Omega, Alpha Council, Arnold Air Society, Counter Guerilla, Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Established at Florida State University in 1950, the Zeta Rho chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha is one of 156 national chapters. The Lambda Chi's participate in a number of social and philanthropic projects. One of their annual projects in order to raise money for Campus Chest is the yearly kidnapping of the sorority housemothers, by mysterious masked Lambda Chi bandits, with each group paying a ransom for their return.

This year, the Lambda Chi-Delta Zeta Homecoming float was judged "Most Appropriate." The Lambda Chis were once again active in Student Government, Who's Who, and sports on campus.

Phi Delta Theta

JEAN NORMAN
Sweetheart

Florida Gamma of Phi Delta Theta was colonized by a group of men who organized a local fraternity called Beta Phi, in 1948. Three years later, the Beta Phi's became brothers of the 136th chapter of Phi Delta Theta. The Phi Delts are known for several social activities which they sponsor annually. The Soap Box Derby was held in order to contribute to Campus Chest. The Bowary Ball in roaring twenties style and the Luau Weekend added to the fraternity's spring trimester activities.

In sports and in campus organizations, the Phi Delts are quite active. They have members in every varsity sport, and are quite active in Student Government. Judiciary, Senate, Gold Key, and ODK claim Phi Delts as members.

Florida Alpha of Phi Kappa Psi has ended its fifth year of organization on campus; but, within this short time, the fraternity has gained considerable size and strength. Several of its members were quite active in student government, and the President of IFC was also a brother. Many of the brothers took part in varsity sports, especially swimming.

As a service project, the fraternity worked at the Candle of Hope School. As part of their social calendar, the Phi Psi's had a traditional "Red Garter" party and their weekend during the Spring. When the weather got warm, the boys could often be seen sunning on their roof deck by passers-by, one of the first signs of spring at FSU.

Phi Kappa Tau was founded March 17, 1906, at Oxford, Ohio. The Beta Iota chapter of Phi Kappa Tau was founded at Florida State University in 1949.

The purpose of the fraternity is to socially and mentally adjust and orient college men so that they may glean the most from their college days and find a purpose to guide them in later life.

From the social aspect of their activities, numerous events were included in the fraternity's social calendar. Among them were the annual Christmas party, the Bohemian party, and their spring weekend. At the Carnation Ball which is the highlight of Phi Tau weekend, the Phi Tau Dream Girl was crowned.

The Phi Tau's take an active part in intramurals, often winning the football championship. They are also active in student government and campus honoraries, with members in Gold Key, Omicron Delta Kappa, and other fraternal organizations.

The 1965-66 academic year was a memorable and fun-filled year for Pi Kappa Alpha. The Night Before Homecoming, Pike pledges stayed up all night to guard against float saboteurs and almost caught a few culprits. The Pike "cane snatching" brought early-rising sorority girls to the fraternity house in search of unwary neophytes.

Founder's Day marked the anniversary of the ground-breaking ceremonies of the new Pi Kappa Alpha house, will be completed by September. Serenades, parties, a wild "Western Weekend," and the usual exchange of socials exemplified a few of the Pike's soirees.

The Pi Kapp's have proved to be a very active fraternity on campus. Many of the brothers participated in student government, and the fraternity was represented in all the campus honoraries and fraternal organizations for men. Bill Peacock and Bill Phillips were members of the Varsity basketball team, and the fraternity had members in other varsity sports and in Circus. In addition, the chapter remained high in scholarship, above the fraternity and all-men's average at FSU.

For social activities, the Pi Kapp's enjoyed combo parties, desserts, and especially their annual Rose Ball which was held in March.

THE NEW SAE PLEDGES SIGN IN ON THE TRADITIONAL GOLD LION

RICK MILLINOR

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

The SAE Lion has been the symbol of the honor and pride embodied in the Florida Beta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon since it was established on this campus in 1949. Even though keeping their coveted lion unmarred might seem a full time job, the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon devote much time to the support of campus activities.

This year the SAE's sponsored a blood drive for Viet Nam, worked at the Leon County Tuberculosis Center. On the social side, they sponsored their Little Sisters of Minerva Football Team, held combo parties after the football games, and had a "Hells Angels" theme for their Spring Weekend. They also presented a skit spoofing protests at the Greek Goddess contest.

The Epsilon Zeta chapter of Sigma Chi has again proven its active participation on the FSU campus. In addition to their contributions to the campus chest and "Dollars for Scholars," the Sigs were also very active in the Veterans Day observance in support of US foreign policy.

The eleventh annual Sigma Chi Derby brought enthusiastic spectators to the field. A national event, the Derby gave all Greeks a chance to enjoy themselves as sororities battled it out in such events as "musical ice water," "tug-of-war," and the "egg-throwing contest."

The Sigs participated in football, track, baseball, and tennis on the FSU campus. Campus politics also received much attention from the fraternity.

BROTHER Bill Teague of the New Christy Minstrels sings the SX sweetheart song.

Sigma Phi

Epsilon

Founded November 1, 1901, at Richmond College, Richmond, Virginia, Sigma Phi Epsilon is the second largest fraternity according to number of chapters. The Sig Ep chapter at Florida State University was founded in 1950. The purpose of Sigma Phi Epsilon is to promote the academic, social, and brotherly aspects of an excellent education.

One of the chapter's yearly projects is the promotion of the Sig Ep Calendar. Contestants are entered from every sorority and from these, twelve girls are selected to represent the different months.

The Sig Ep brothers have taken an active part in intramurals and campus activities this year. They are also well represented in Student Government, various honoraries, and other fraternal organizations.

STEVE DASHIFF
President

Theta Chi fraternity was founded at Norwich University, Norwich, Vermont, April 10, 1856. The Gamma Rho chapter of Theta Chi was founded on March 5, 1949, on the campus of Florida State University.

Theta Chi's are represented in all phases of campus activities; those of student government, varsity athletics, Jaycees, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, and many others. Theta Chi's are also active participants in campus intramurals, and always have been among the top contenders if not in the top position.

Theta Chi parties are many and unique. They include the "Prohibition Prom," the "Viking Feast," and the "Farmers Frolic" as well as the annual Theta Chi Weekend.

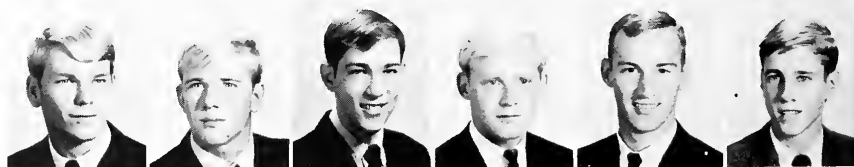

THE THETA CHI-Alpha Gamma Delta float was awarded the prize for "Best-All-Around" in the Homecoming Parade.

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu has adopted a saying by which it educates its pledges: "Sigma Nu is a fraternity (Not club) for men, (not boys) based on honor (not expediency). We feel that high school pranks belong in high school, not college."

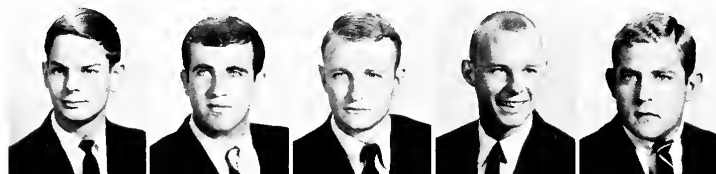

Sigma Nu fraternity was founded in 1869 at Lexington, Virginia, on the parade grounds of V.M.I. Today there are over 80,000 members of Sigma Nu. The FSU chapter this year won the "Most Beautiful" float in Homecoming competition, and also placed in the Soap Box Derby.

Chi Phi

Florida State University's second newest fraternity, Chi Phi received colony status on February 16, 1965, after having petitioned Chi Phi National. The colony acquired a house at 619 West Jefferson Street in the fall of 1965.

Chi Phi got right into the activities and social functions of Florida State. They held parties and exchanges with sororities, and built their Homecoming float with Gamma Phi Beta. They also held their first annual Spring Weekend on April 1st and 2nd. The Chi Phi's also took an active part in helping charity organizations in Tallahassee and on campus.

Tau Epsilon Phi

STEVE SQUIRE
President

Tau Epsilon Phi was founded in 1910 at Columbia University. The fraternity was established on the campus of Florida State University in 1954. This past year, the chapter boasted one of the largest pledge classes in history--over 30 men were pledged.

The purpose of the fraternity is to provide a well-rounded and exciting campus life to its members. This year TEP's sponsored a Muscular Dystrophy Drive as its service project. They were well represented in many campus activities. Several of the brothers hold positions in Student Government as well as offices in IFC. The fraternity also greatly improved its record in intramural volleyball. Scholastically, the fraternity maintained its high position among fraternity competition.

Henry Mancini The Four Preps

September 25

The first event of the Student Entertainment Series featured Henry Mancini, accompanied by his 40-piece orchestra, and The Four Preps.

Mancini, recipient of three Oscar awards, enthralled the audience with many of his best known and most favored compositions, and presented such encores as "Baby Elephant Walk." The Four Preps, perhaps best known for their capacity for poking fun of academic life, kept the audience in an almost continuous roar of laughter.

An enthralled audience listened to the Peter Nero concert held in Westcott Auditorium. Nero, internationally known pianist, presented a splendid performance which included such selections as "Sunday in New York" and "Moon River." With his repertory of both classical and popular music, he held the audience of 700 breathless throughout the program.

Appearing on the same program was the Modern Folk Quartet. This was the second time the group, whose swinging style added much to the effect of the program, had entertained on the FSU campus.

The New Christy Minstrels

October 16

The New Christy Minstrels swelled Tully Gym with the sound of their dynamic music and the laughter of nearly 2,700 people. Masters of light-hearted entertainment, the Minstrels delighted the audience with "Today," "Green, Green," "Saturday Night," and many of their other well-known hits.

After the performance the songsters joined the students in watching FSU defeat Georgia and raised their voices in cheers for the triumphant team.

Peter, Paul and Mary

November 5

FSU accepted the challenge of "big" entertainment with the appearance of the famed folk-singing trio, Peter, Paul, and Mary. The troupe performed under the auspices of the Student Entertainment Series for the homecoming show. Tully Gym held a capacity crowd as the group presented many of their most popular recordings. Their exuberance was contagious, and enthusiasm soon permeated the crowd.

Ferrante and Teicher

January 27

Scoring another overwhelming success the popular duo-piano team of Ferrante and Teicher appeared for the second consecutive year on the FSU campus. The return appearance was the result of popular requests.

Since 1947, the team has devoted their time to concert work, and has employed original techniques they designed. Their first hits, "Exodus" and the "Theme from the Apartment" were among the large variety of selections played for the audience.

Roger Miller

Roger "King of the Road" Miller and The Good Time Singers were the last Student Entertainment Series production of the trimester. Miller, who composes and arranges his own music, sang all his greats, including "Chug-a-Lug," "Dang Me," "King of the Road," and "England Swings."

The Good Time Singers featured an FSU graduate, Jill Jenkins. The group is traveling with Miller in the Ford Caravan of Music tour.

March 25

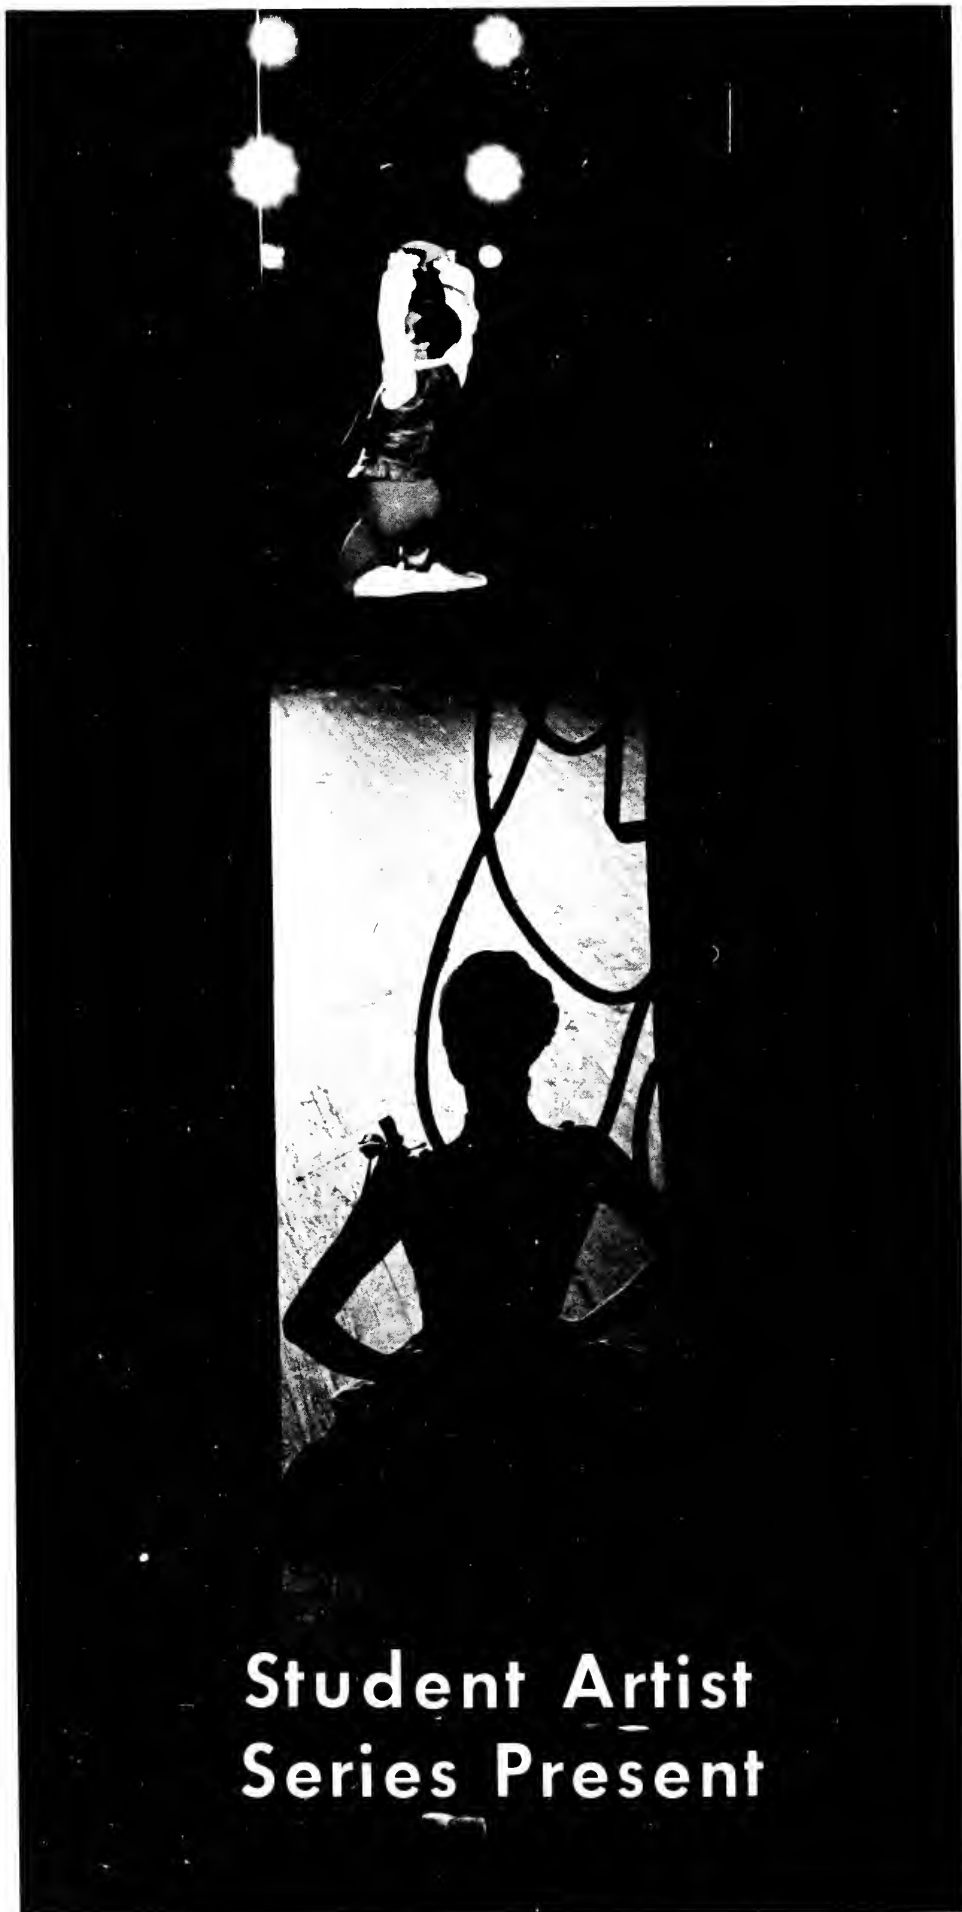

The We Five Group

May 26

The Student Entertainment Series presented the We Five group in Westcott Auditorium on Thursday night, May 26. Appearing with the group was comedian George McKelvey.

The scheduling of such an attraction during the summer trimester was a first to the Entertainment Series at FSU. The show featured the We Five million seller, "You Were On My Mind," and other selections.

Student Artist Series Present

Marcel Marceau

October 26

FSU's Artist Series opened its season with an outstanding performance by the famed Marcel Marceau. Westcott Auditorium held a near capacity crowd which watched the master of the art of gesture pantomime his way through a series of satires on life. Included in his program were several skits built around his renowned character "Bip". The entire show was a resounding success because of his originality and deftness as a performer.

October 27-28

Harkness Ballet

On its first tour of the United States, the Harkness Ballet Company gave two performances for the FSU students. The company was formed in the summer of 1964 under the direction of George Skibine, former director of the Paris Opera. This is the first major ballet company founded in this country in over twenty years, and is headed by American ballerina, Marjorie Tallchief.

New Orleans Philharmonic November 22-23

The New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra presented two evening performances and one afternoon performance for both students and the community.

The first evening program consisted of compositions by Bach, Webern, Strauss, and Beethoven. The second evening performance consisted of selections by Mozart, Schumann, Prokofiev, and Ravel.

Metropolitan Opera January 24-25

Initiating a new approach to an old concept, the Metropolitan Opera Company is giving a new look to "traveling opera." Performing on the road enables the players to gain experience and skill. At the end of the year's study and travel, each performer can then go with other opera companies.

The first performance on campus was Rossini's "Cinderella", the comic opera with fantasy and humor. The second presentation, "Suzannah", was written by FSU's Carlisle Floyd and was a music drama depicting sin, lust, and repentance in a Tennessee valley community.

Jose Molina

February 10

Spain's Jose Molina and his Bailes Espanoles entertained FSU students with songs and dances of Spain in a program conceived and directed by Molina. The songs and dances represent all of the Spanish provinces. Spanish instruments accompanied the dancers, in addition to the piano and guitar. Costumes with elaborate designs helped complete the program.

At the time of appearance, the troupe was on a 40-week tour of the US. Featured as solo guitarist was Francisco Espinosa. Molina, considered one of the outstanding flamenco dancers, gave several solo performances, of different varieties.

Composed of four instrumentalists and 30 mixed voices, the Norman Luboff Choir swelled Westcott Auditorium with an evening of enchantment. The program consisted of both sacred and secular music, from Bach to the blues.

The choir, on a coast-to-coast tour, was directed by Norman Luboff, sought after composer and arranger. The choir is known through its record albums and television appearances.

Barefoot in the Park

March 19

"Barefoot in the Park", Neil Simon's Broadway comedy hit was presented for student and community entertainment. Miss Lynn Bari had the starring role, supported by Joan McCall and Joel Crothers.

The comedy was the story of newlyweds attempting to settle into routine life. However, complications arose continuously, maintaining chaos in the house. The unique domestic situation with all the problems involved, summed to make an evening of humor.

'The Subject was Roses'

March 7-8

The Broadway version of "The Subject Was Roses" was presented to FSU students exactly as it appeared in New York. Starring Dennis O'Keefe, Liz Ross, and Peter Duryea, the play has been called by the New York Drama Critic's Circle the "Best American Play of the Year".

Written by Frank Gilroy, the story portrays a young man's return from the army to find his parents have grown away from each other and him. The revelation comes when all three persons discover that the feelings which divide them also join them.

Spoon River

October 8

The Studio Theatre presented an adaptation of Edgar Lee Master's "Spoon River Anthology," a composite of poems. The locale of all of the poems was the city cemetery, and the characters spoke from their graves. Each actor was representative of several former townspeople. This interpretation of the poems was designed to give the beginning theatre student experience in performing. Neither set nor lighting was used, so professional techniques were necessary for success.

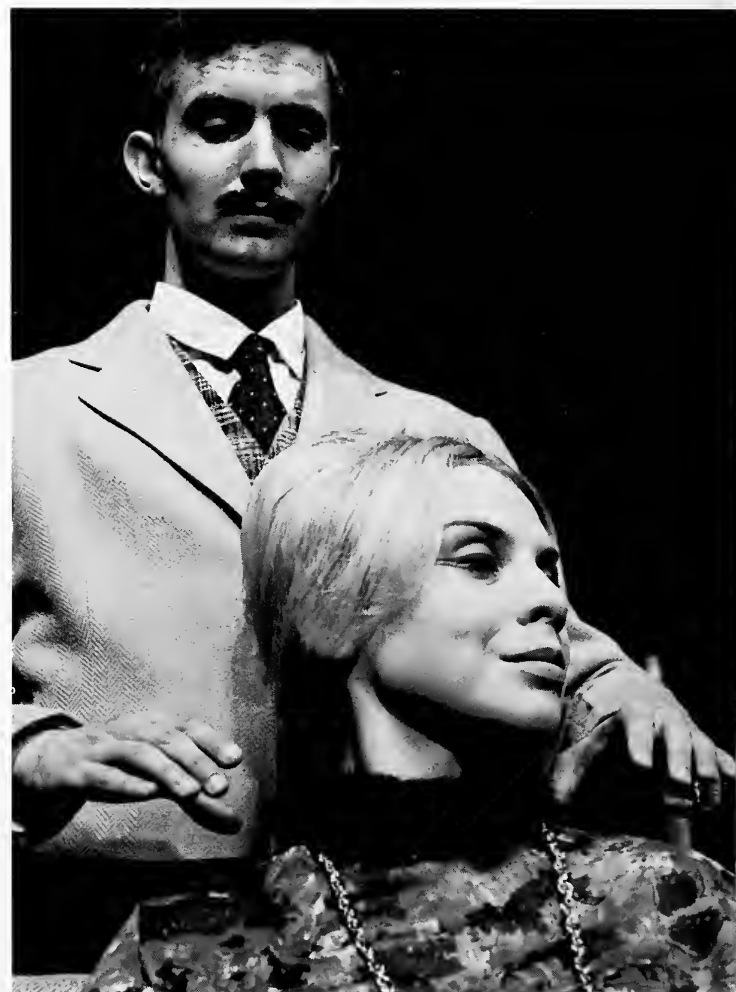

Heartbreak House

October 13

The University Theatre opened its drama season with a production of George Bernard Shaw's "Heartbreak House". The particular play was selected for production because of its appropriateness for college. Students sometimes find college to be a heart-break house, filled with crises.

Shaw focused his play on the problems which involve young people maturing during a time of stress. The theme thus was involved with the search for one's personal identity.

Written during World War I, the story was set in the home of Captain Shotover in Sussex, England. The characters were forced to confront themselves and reality rather than clinging to dreams.

Dr. Faustus

November 17-20

Overwhelming demand for an additional performance reflected the tremendous success of the production of Christopher Marlowe's "Doctor Faustus" by the University Theatre. This version's popularity is due to its very modern overtones and its combination of high and low comedy plus tragic scenes. By presenting a world of materialism, Mephistophilis the devil, tempted Faustus to sell his soul. The portrayal of the devil as a more human figure conveyed the poignant conflict of modern man with his conscience.

The White Widow

February 24-27

The American premiere of Mario Fratti's play "The White Widow" was given in several presentations at FSU. The lead role of Donna Cinzia, the widow who wore white following her husband's death, was performed by Broadway actress, Jacqueline Brookes. A number of FSU students were cast in the play.

Fratti translated the play into English for the American tour, and he observed rehearsals before attending the premiere performance. The Italian government awarded Fratti a trophy for the play.

'Death of a Salesman'

Arthur Miller's tremendous hit "Death of a Salesman," was presented by the University Theater Productions on March 30 through April 3. The play, directed by Dr. Harlan Shaw and Richard Fallon, told the story of a child who grows up, becomes a man and returns to childhood again in a matter of seconds.

Richard Fallon played the part of Willie Loman, with Anna Marie Cianci as his wife Linda, and Bob Grubbs and Sammy Killman as his sons. The play was so successful that a repeat performance was held.

A Masked Ball

November 12

The State Opera Association presented two performances of Verdi's "A Masked Ball". Its serious approach marked the turning point in the style of writing by Verdi, Italy's greatest opera composer.

The opera was the story of the eternal triangle. Gustav III, historical King of Sweden, was in love with the wife of one of his chief aides and devoted servants. As a means of revenge, the Count joined a band of murderers in assassinating the King.

Musically, the opera was passionate and earthy, combining the strong emotions of love and revenge.

The Music Man

March 17

The sweet strains of "Lyda Rose" filled the air the night of March 17 when the Opera Guild presented Meredith Wilson's musical hit "The Music Man."

The 175-member company, directed by Dr. Fred Vorce, was the largest ever assembled for an opera production at FSU. Included in the company was a 39-member chorus and a 28-piece orchestra. Every part in the play was auditioned, from lead to chorus girl.

Tom Cavendish played the lead as Professor Harold Hill, the "Music Man". Judy James and Cheryl Lowe portrayed Marian, a quiet librarian and Hill's romantic interest. The Marching Chief's majorettes also had a part in the successful musical.

University Lecture Series

Featuring Supreme Court Associate Justice William Brennan, Jr., two law school educators, Dr. Thomas Mason and Dr. Ray Forrester; and, Washington Post assistant editor James Clayton, the FSU Lecture Series sponsored an evaluation of the Supreme Court—changes in its role and the effects of the changes.

Each speaker, active in the field, shared ideas concerning changes—past, current, and prospective. Relation of the court to all types of social institutions was pointed out.

The Series was opened to all interested persons—students and the community.

Because of its accomplishments in recognizing and encouraging high academic achievement in the arts and the sciences, Phi Beta Kappa has long been a revered tradition of college life. The Alpha of Florida Chapter of PBK was chartered at The Florida State College for Women in 1935. It was the first such chapter in the state. Since that year, 534 students, thirty-one alumni, and seven honorary members have been initiated.

The Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship Award, recently established, was granted to a deserving student majoring in the arts or sciences. The organization has also sponsored a Visiting Scholars Program, delivered the yearly Founder's Day address, and held a banquet for the new initiates.

The new president was Dr. Stephen Winters; Professor Ralph McWilliams is Vice President.

Phi Kappa Phi

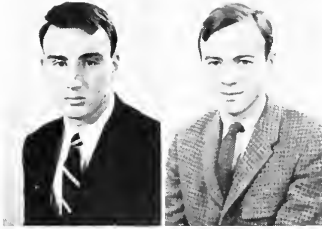

Phi Kappa Phi is a scholastic honorary which is distinguished by its selection of members from all departments and schools of the university. Included in its membership are students on both the graduate and undergraduate levels who meet the necessary requirements. A 3.5 overall average is the minimum scholastic requirement for undergraduates, while a 3.75 is required as a minimum at the graduate level. Established on the Florida State campus in 1925, Phi Kappa Phi strives to promote the highest standards in scholastic achievement and individual character and endeavors to recognize such outstanding traits in students by awarding them membership. Their motto is "Philosophia Krateri Photon," The Love of Learning Rules the World.

To honor those who have exemplified the ideals of leadership, service, and scholarship is the purpose of Gold Key, a local honorary for junior and senior men with a 2.3 average or better. This organization, which arrived on campus in 1947, provides welcoming road signs for Tallahassee and sponsors Speakers' Bureau as its projects. Gold Key has also been active in helping other campuses to form honoraries. This year, Gold Key was led by Gene Stearns.

When FSCW became FSU, the two class honoraries for women, Esteren and Spirogira, merged to form Garnet Key. Garnet Key taps outstanding girls from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who, by their contributions of leadership, service, and spirit, have promoted the progress and growth of the university.

With Madra Nelson serving as president and Sandy Clark as vice-president, Garnet Key members provided a number of service projects. They served as hostesses at Family Weekend and at the Homecoming banquet. This year, the members also acted as hostess at Dr. Champion's Innauguration Banquet.

Omicron Delta Kappa

The highest men's leadership honorary on campus, Omicron Delta Kappa, draws its limited membership from the junior and senior men as well as from the the university administration and faculty. Recognition of outstanding achievement in at least two of the areas of scholarship, athletics, political and religious affairs, and the dramatic arts is required for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa. Qualifications are based on character, leadership, service to the university and consecration to democratic ideals.

In keeping with Omicron Delta Kappa's aim of developing leadership, the members present the Sophomore Man of the Year award. President Jack Cannon presented this award to Palmer Williams for 1966.

Mortar Board

Being tapped for Mortar Board, national honorary for women, is the perfect climax for the coed who has excelled in all phases of campus life. Developing a finer type of college woman has always been one of Mortar Board's primary goals. Mortar Board achieves this purpose through the examples of its members, who must promote college loyalty by their own spirit of service and leadership among university women.

Mortar Board sponsors many activities on campus, including the Last Lecture Series and Penny-A-Minute Night. The organization is sponsored by Dr. Tanzy, Dr. Frank, and Dr. Killian. Sandy Clark served as Mortar Board president this year.

Alpha Lambda Delta is the national scholastic honorary for freshman women who have attained a 3.5 average during their first year of college. Established at FSU in 1941, Alpha Lambda Delta promotes intellectual living and a high standard of scholarship.

Members aided the counseling center with orientation and hosted the Honor's Night reception for freshmen. They also sponsored a scholarship which was given to a student in need of financial assistance.

Led by the president, Mary Miner, Alpha Lambda Delta encouraged superior scholastic achievement among the freshmen women of Florida State.

Stirring up fun and mischief, only a sidelight for most organizations, is Mortified's reason for existence. Under the reign of Grand Czar Pam Mozur, this group never intentionally meets but gathers by accident to discuss when and how many Mortar Board, "that other group", is going to tap.

Mortified traditionally taps one less member than Mortar Board. Members are chosen through contribution to FSU, leadership, spirit and character. A high scholastic average is not required.

The traditional outfits of the Mortified members are white skirts, red blouses, and Mortar Boards on sideways. The familiar theme song, heard around tapping time, is "Eii, Eii, we're Mortified!"

Angel Flight

Sponsored by Arnold Air Society, Angel Flight is an honorary service organization that adds interest to the AFROTC program on campus in a number of eye-appealing ways. Besides marching in the Homecoming parade, the girls in blue also march in the annual Mardi Gras Parade in New Orleans. Other activities include participating in the Veterans Day Parade and the VPI game half-time show, and ushering and distributing programs for Gymkana.

Angel Flight was recently honored by being selected as the Area Headquarters for the second time. This year, ten Angels attended the National Convention in Dallas, Texas.

Florida State's Alpha Phi Omega was named by the office as the Fraternity's most outstanding chapter out of over 400 chapters in the United States. Dozens of projects, ranging from the rehabilitation of a cripple child to the complex processing of the student directory were part of last year's activities. Such traditional projects as White Christmas and the Ugly Man contest were also carried out. One of the most rewarding projects in which APO participated was the sending of over 2000 boxes of Christmas candy to the soldiers in Vietnam.

Many of the brothers of APO are recognized leaders on campus. Who's Who, ODK, Gold Key, and student government all claim APO brothers as members. President Steve Hand led APO through a year of outstanding service and recognition.

"To unite women in a spirit of service to humanity" is the purpose of Gamma Sigma Sigma. This year its members fulfilled their purpose by working with APO on the Viet Nam candy sale and on the annual White Christmas project. They also served as hostesses at the Madrigal Dinners, at the Union birthday party, and ushered at the Circus. Working with the library to replace destroyed or lost magazines and providing reasonable baby-sitting services for married students and faculty were other projects. The March of Dimes, their national project, received special emphasis.

Rosalie Grover served as president of Gamma Sig; Pat LePaige was first vice president, and Alix Pavlic was second vice president. Lynn LePaige served as corresponding secretary, Maria Wood as treasurer, Susan Abell as alumni secretary, and the office of historian was filled by Irene Deak.

Alpha Council

Alpha Council, the Sophomore mens leadership honorary, was organized on the FSU campus in 1956. The primary purposes of the organization are to recognize potential leadership ability and to develop and maintain interest in worthwhile campus activities of the male students. This is accomplished by bringing these young men into association with activities which will further develop the leadership qualities which have previously been demonstrated by them.

Officers this year are: Ken Hart, president; Palmer Williams, vice-president; and Paul Hill, secretary.

Sophomore Council

On a night in the middle of the second trimester, a group of sophomore women, attired in blue blouses and white skirts, create quite a stir in the freshman dorms. At this time the members of Sophomore Council, a service honorary, tap the most outstanding freshmen women for membership in their group.

Sophomore Council performs many indispensable services for the campus. Among the most important of these duties is assisting the freshmen during orientation week. They also play a big role in the campus elections as they punch identification cards and explain voting procedures at the polls.

Row five: Dee Hopkins, Bunny Fletcher, Carol Pate, Mary Sue McGovern.

Village Vamps

Since its founding by the sorority girls of FSCW, Village Vamps has been an organization of official campus hostesses. Village Vamps usher for university events, welcome visiting groups, and serve at receptions. This year, led by Sharon Michael as president, the VV's ushered for the Student and the University Artist Series, for Legislative Day, for the University Theatre, and for Graduation.

Freshmen and transfer coeds were surprised with an early morning tapping after a two-day rush in the fall. To signify this tapping, the inductees had to wear the traditional black dress, hat and heart on the day of the tapping. For initiation each girl had to obtain a fraternity pin without telling the boy her reason for wanting his pin.

FASHION INCORPORATED OFFICERS: Beth Stephens, Treasurer, Connie Gowan, Vice President, Donna Haswell, President, Marilyn Barfield, Secretary.

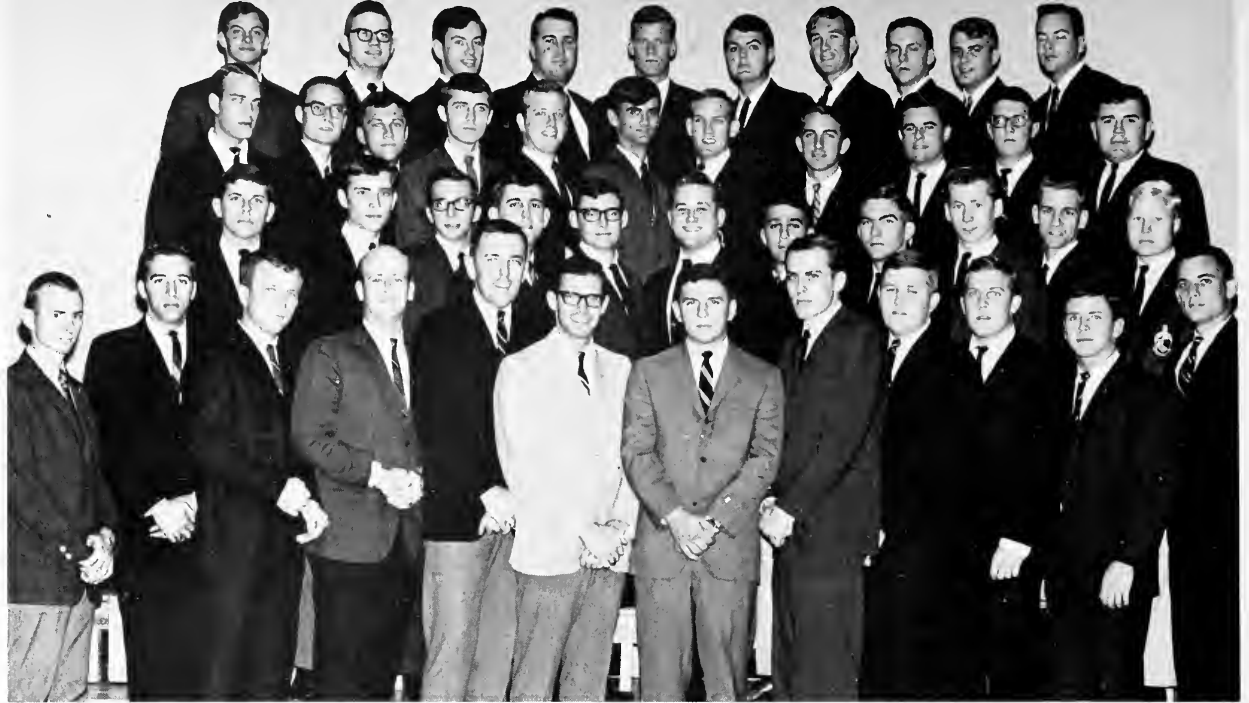

Fashion Incorporated

Under the direction of president Donna Haswell and advisor Mrs. Eleanore Adams, Fashion Incorporated worked to promote proper dress on the FSU campus.

The production of the fashion pamphlet given to incoming freshman girls, work with the university Modeling Board, and the responsibility for Fashion Day in the Spring were some of the members' useful activities through which Fashion Incorporated encouraged fashionable and appropriate dress at FSU.

FASHION INCORPORATED: Row one: Beth Stephens, Connie Gowan, Donna Haswell, Marilyn Barfield. Alpha Kappa Psi

The Beta Psi chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity, arrived on this campus in May, 1949. Any male student with the intention of completing his degree in business administration or economics and with an average no less than that required for graduation may be considered for membership in Alpha Kappa Psi. After becoming a member, he may participate in the many social events of the fraternity, such as the annual Spring Weekend, the Faculty-Student reception, and the Student-Businessman coffees.

To provide professional affiliation for business majors, the fraternity sponsors meetings, which are open to all students, featuring government officials and businessmen from large and small corporations.

Delta Sigma Pi

OFFICERS: Row one: J. Bonino, President; S. Pettit, Vice-President; R. Cross, Chancellor. Row two: R. Mazanek, Vice-President; D. Warren, Secretary; J. Franco, Treasurer.

Delta Sigma Pi is a professional fraternity organized to foster the study of business. It's purpose is to encourage scholarship and social activity and to promote a closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce.

Highlights of the year's activities were the annual Rose Ball, the student-faculty reception which they sponsored, and participation in campus activities such as the Homecoming parade and the Soap Box Derby.

Since its founding at New York University School of Commerce, Accounts, and Finance, in 1907, Delta Sigma Pi has chartered 126 chapters with a total of 58,662 initiates. Here at FSU, Delta Sigma Pi is advised by Dr. Howard P. Abel.

Members of Gymnastica, identification not provided.

Gymnastica

Gymnastica, a local honorary, was formed by gymnasts of the National Team Championship (NCAA) in 1951. Since that time, pledges have been selected on the basis of their skill and service with gymnastics and Gymkana. To promote a fraternal spirit among the members, they provide a social both before and after the Gymkana show every year. Aided by Dr. Hartley Price, their advisor, the group promotes an interest in gymnastics and pageantry.

Racquettes is a local tennis club seeking to promote interest and skill in tennis among university women. Through tournaments and tennis clinics, they attempt to provide opportunities for the more skilled players to compete among themselves and with other tennis players throughout the state. Many of the members have received awards for their proficiency in the difficult game of tennis. The group also sponsors a faculty-student mixed doubles tournament in order to better acquaint professors and students.

Women's Glee Club

Although members of Women's Glee Club need not necessarily be in the School of Music, most are and must remain in school during the summer to continue their musical training. As a result of the attendance of most of their members third trimester, Women's Glee decided to present a summer concert as well as their "Christmas Vespers" and "Spring Concert." In addition to fine entertainment, the summer concert also provided a welcome relief for weary summer scholars.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Furthering interest in music on the college campus and in the community is the goal of Sigma Alpha Iota, Women's Professional Music Fraternity. Members must have twelve hours of music, a 3.0 average in these courses, and a 2.5 overall average.

Endeavoring to fulfill their purpose, Sigma Alpha Iota sponsors Campus Sing and the American Music Contest. Both of these competitions are reviewed by distinguished music professors. Members also contribute their time and talent to campus productions.

University Singers

Open to all students who enjoy singing choral literature ranging from folk songs to contemporary music, the University Singers, a local organization, were founded on the Florida State campus in 1948. With the purpose of rehearsal and performance of choral music, the group gave four concerts this year, singing from the works of the world's famous composers. Emphasis is on the highest standard of performance by the most competent vocalists in the university from the finest repertory written for chorus from the sixteenth century to the present.

Choral Union

The FSU Choral Union is open to all students, both men and women, who are interested and have the ability to sing. The Choral Union was established in 1946 and is the largest mixed choral group on the campus.

Choral Union meets as a regular class and may be taken for credit. Each trimester it performs at least one major concert at the University. The Choral Union is very well known throughout the state.

Society of Hosts

Holding the distinction of being the oldest gourmet society in the country, the Society of Hosts, a hotel and restaurant management club, was organized to create interest in the hospitality industry. Any student who has shown an interest in the Hotel and Restaurant Department by regular attendance at the meetings and functions is eligible for membership in the Society.

OFFICERS: J. Hart, S. Winn, A. Stiff, Advisor; H. Smith, L. Curtiss.

SOCIETY OF HOSTS: Row one: S. Winn, H. Smith, L. Curtiss, J. Hart. Row two: R. Salvage, R. Beye, E. Keane, A. Valdes, R. Didier, J. Gorelick, R. Espolito, L. Palmer. Row three: C. Vause, R. A national honorary for male advertising majors, Alpha Delta Sigma taps men who are outstanding in their field and works to bridge the gap between advertising business and advertising education.

Elon Borton Chapter at FSU sponsors Advertising Recognition Week, field trips, guest speakers, and an alumni newsletter. Mr. Richard Joel, a former national president, serves as advisor to the men and helps them maintain their tradition of being one of the most highly ranked of the 52 Alpha Delta Sigma chapters in the United States.

Row two: Mike Hastings, Ted Gillrup, David Brown, Ken Davis, Lon Seay, Glen Shailey, John Martin, Jim Taylor, Chuck Pursley, John Wood, Captain William Roche, Advisor.

OFFICERS: Ralph Cross, President, Paul Morgan, Vice President, Dave Brown, Secretary, Glen Shailey, Treasurer.

Scabbard and Blade

Good standing with the registrar and an average of 3.0 or better in military science enables a cadet officer to join the Society of Scabbard and Blade. This national ROTC honorary provides for a common society of cadet officers who wish to better the military standards of their cadet unit.

Advised by Captain William Roche, the club gave the annual Summer Camp Award and the Cadet of the Month Award to outstanding cadets. Other activities included a display of the patches from various ROTC units across the United States at an annual banquet preceding the Military Ball.

Pershing Rifles

Company M-16 of the national Honorary Society of Pershing Rifles was established at Florida State University in order to encourage, develop, and preserve the highest ideals of the military profession as exemplified by the life of General of the Armies, John Joseph Pershing, founder and patron of this organization.

Pershing Rifles has strived to obtain these ideals by participating in several parades and drill competitions, ushering for the U.S. Army Band, and selling candy for the Armed Forces in Viet Nam. The company of thirty was commanded by Captain Frank Belsito, with 1st Lt. Paul Morgan as Executive Officer. Staff members are 2nd Lt. Skip Wagner, 2nd Lt. Kenneth Knox, 2nd Lt. Bobby Coston, 2nd Lt. Bruce Snell, and 2nd Lt. John Scott. Pershing Rifles sponsors are Janet Heinz, Marty Gilmore, and Phyllis Boutwell.

Pershing Rifles has existed on the FSU campus since its founding on November 25, 1965.

Theatre Dance

The purpose of Theater Dance is to stimulate interest and to develop an appreciation of dance, to provide opportunity for creative expression, to develop performing ability, and to provide experience in dance production. Organized in 1951, Theater Dance has been giving public performances since that time.

Each year Theater Dance produces two major shows. In the fall they hold "Open Studio," an annual informal studio recital. "An Evening of Dance" is their annual spring formal concert held in Westcott. They also take part in various choreographic projects with other departments on campus and occasional guest appearances off campus.

Officers this year were Marilyn Finch, President, Marilyn Barfield, Vice-President, Patty Howell, Treasurer, and Sharyn Heiland, Secretary. Their advisor was Dr. Nancy Smith.

THEATER DANCE MEMBERS: Dr. Nancy Smith, Director, Sarah Adams, Marilyn Barfield, Charlotte Bradford, Faith Clark, Beverly Dobbin, Caroline Drummond, Marilyn Finch, Sandy Gilbert, Kitty Hamilton, Jacqueline Hammer, Sharyn Heiland, Jane Holtzman, Patti Howell, Patricia Knowles, Tina Mooney, Ellen Moore, Linda Nettles, Mayreese Randall, Dolores Segler, Jane Winton, Kay Wright.

The process for becoming a member of Tarpon provides both excitement and opportunity to exhibit excellence in the realm of aquatics. At tryouts in the fall, girls are judged on the basis of skill and poise. Those tapped enter into a period of pledgeship and are designated as minnows until their initiation one night after their show.

All the energies of these graceful swimmers are directed toward an outstanding water ballet presented in the spring. This year's show was a delightful success.

Women's F Club

The Women's "F" Club, a women's honorary, arrived on our campus in 1913. To be eligible for membership, a woman student must have a 2.0 over-all average and must have achieved two all-star recognitions for intramural sports during one year.

These young women promote women's athletic activities as well as help to develop high ideals and university spirit. Handling the concessions at the FSU circus and wrapping presents for the Welfare Department were among their service projects.

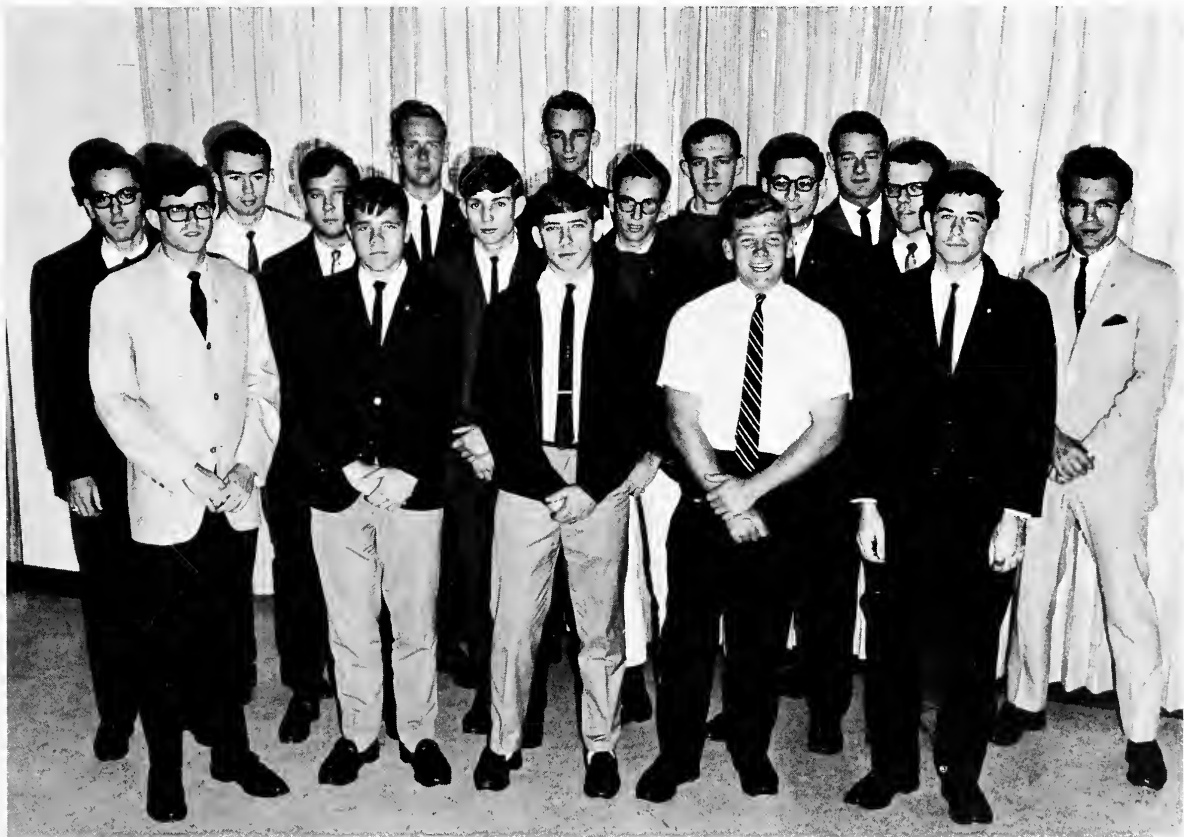

Men's Physical Education Majors

Men's P.E. Majors were organized to help physical education majors develop a professional attitude toward their major. Any male student who is a physical education major may become a member.

The year's activities were concluded with the traditional banquet to which a guest speaker was invited. At this time an award was given to the most outstanding senior and to the junior excelling most in scholarship.

Circle K

The men of Circle K International have continued to uphold their motto "We Build" throughout '65-66. As a service organization patterned after Kiwanis International, they have performed many beneficial tasks for the University. Besides ushering for all of the Artist Series presentations, the members of Circle K were in charge of the facilities for the Student Government Retreat. Other much appreciated activities were setting up the Hall of Fame exhibit and contributing to the success of Campus Chest.

Freshman Flunkies are freshman women organized by dorms to serve the University. The freshman act as hostesses for the Association of College Unions Convention, for the University Union dances, and for the Seminole Flyers Open House. Other projects are working for the University Hospital and addressing and mailing various literature from Student Government, University Theater, and Public Relations. Each member is encouraged to enter the University activities and must work at least three hours to earn a pin.

Freshman Flunkies

DORM REPRESENTATIVES: Sandy Anton, Broward, Janice Dunn, Magnolia, Kathy Korran, Reynolds, Kathy Reilly, Jennie Murphree.

To encourage freshmen men to strive toward higher scholarship, Phi Eta Sigma was established at FSU in 1955. This national organization offers recognition to those who attain high scholastic averages and promote interest in good scholarship. It is composed of all freshmen men who have at least a 3.5 overall average after one or two trimesters.

Phi Eta Sigma

PHI ETA SIGMA, OFFICERS: John Harrison, Jan DeLancy, President, David Feebles, Secretary, Fred LaMartin, Historian, Donald Peebles, Treasurer.

UNIVERSITY PARTY OFFICERS: D. Giordano, Campaign Director, J. Wright, Publicity, W. Martindale, Past Chairman, B. Fox, Vice Chairman.

University Party

Providing through its organization a means of promoting interest and participating in sound student government on the FSU campus, and through its organization, an opportunity for qualified, competent students to advance their candidacy for student body offices, the two fold purposes of the University Party is carried out. Chairing the party this year is Bill Wood.

Interest in music therapy among concerned students and the desire for a pre-professional group for majors in this field initiated the organization of the Alpha Mu Music Therapy Fraternity on FSU's campus.

President Dennis Carroccio, the vice presidents Jayne Marsh and Joe Cartellano, treasurer Dorothy Timm, and Secretary Dorothy Cole set up programs to fulfill the aims of their club. They invited speakers in fields related to music therapy to the bi-monthly meetings and organized field trips to observe music therapy programs in order to obtain their goals. Another plan for the year included the formation of more chapters at other schools of this newly formed national fraternity.

Sigma Delta Pi

The purpose of Sigma Delta Pi is to forment a wider knowledge of and a greater love for the Hespanic contribution to modern culture, and to foster friendly relations and the cooperative spirit between Hespanic and English nations. The group sponsors lectures, guest speakers, field trips and movies.

Luis Quesada serves as president, with Gordon Sumner as vice-president, Melvin Eubanks as treasurer, and Virginia Herrera as secretary.

Home Economics Club

To promote and develop professional attitudes and interests in the various aspects of home economics is the major purpose of the Home Economics Club. Its membership is open to any college student interested in a professional career in home economics and in homemaking. The club participates in several social events including the Freshman picnic and the annual banquet of the School of Home Economics. Their advisor is Mixs DuParc.

The FSU Dames Club is affiliated with the National Association of University Dames. In 1921, the charter chapter of the Association was founded at the University of Chicago. Florida State University has one of the most enthusiastic chapters. They were organized in the Fall of 1952 and affiliated nationally in 1953.

The reason for the Dames organization is to give wives of students a little social life and recreation. By getting together for a monthly social meeting and perhaps group project meetings inbetween, they find a needed morale boost. Active Dames all over the country have something very important in common--husbands working for college degrees. The FSU chapter claims the distinction of being the first to award the PHT (Putting Hubby Through) degrees, although other chapters have followed suit.

Officers serving this year were Mrs. Betty Powell, President, Mrs. Ann Burks, Vice President, Mrs. Dollie Lee, Treasurer, Mrs. Donna Bushnell, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Shirlea Caswell Recording Secretary.

Dames Club

Social Work Club

The social work club is open to all students majoring in social welfare or going into social work upon graduation. The purpose of the organization is to acquaint students with the possibilities and problems of going into social work, as well as helping the students find the areas in which they would be of the most value. The club also sponsors lectures and guest speakers for the benefit of the students.

Social Work Club Officers.

Religious Foundations

Newman Club

Florida State University's Newman Club provides religious, educational, and social activities for students. The program is for both Catholics and non-Catholics and is continued year round. It includes a weekly discussion group on controversial church problems, inquiry classes for any interested students, and daily Mass at the student center with breakfast available afterward. Rounding out the program, social events feature a Harvest Hop, party at Christmas, and a Last Blast.

Newman Club

Christian Science

The mission of the Christian Science College Organization, in its twentieth year at FSU, is to offer moral directions and help strengthen the student in his stand as well as to dispel misunderstandings about Christian Science.

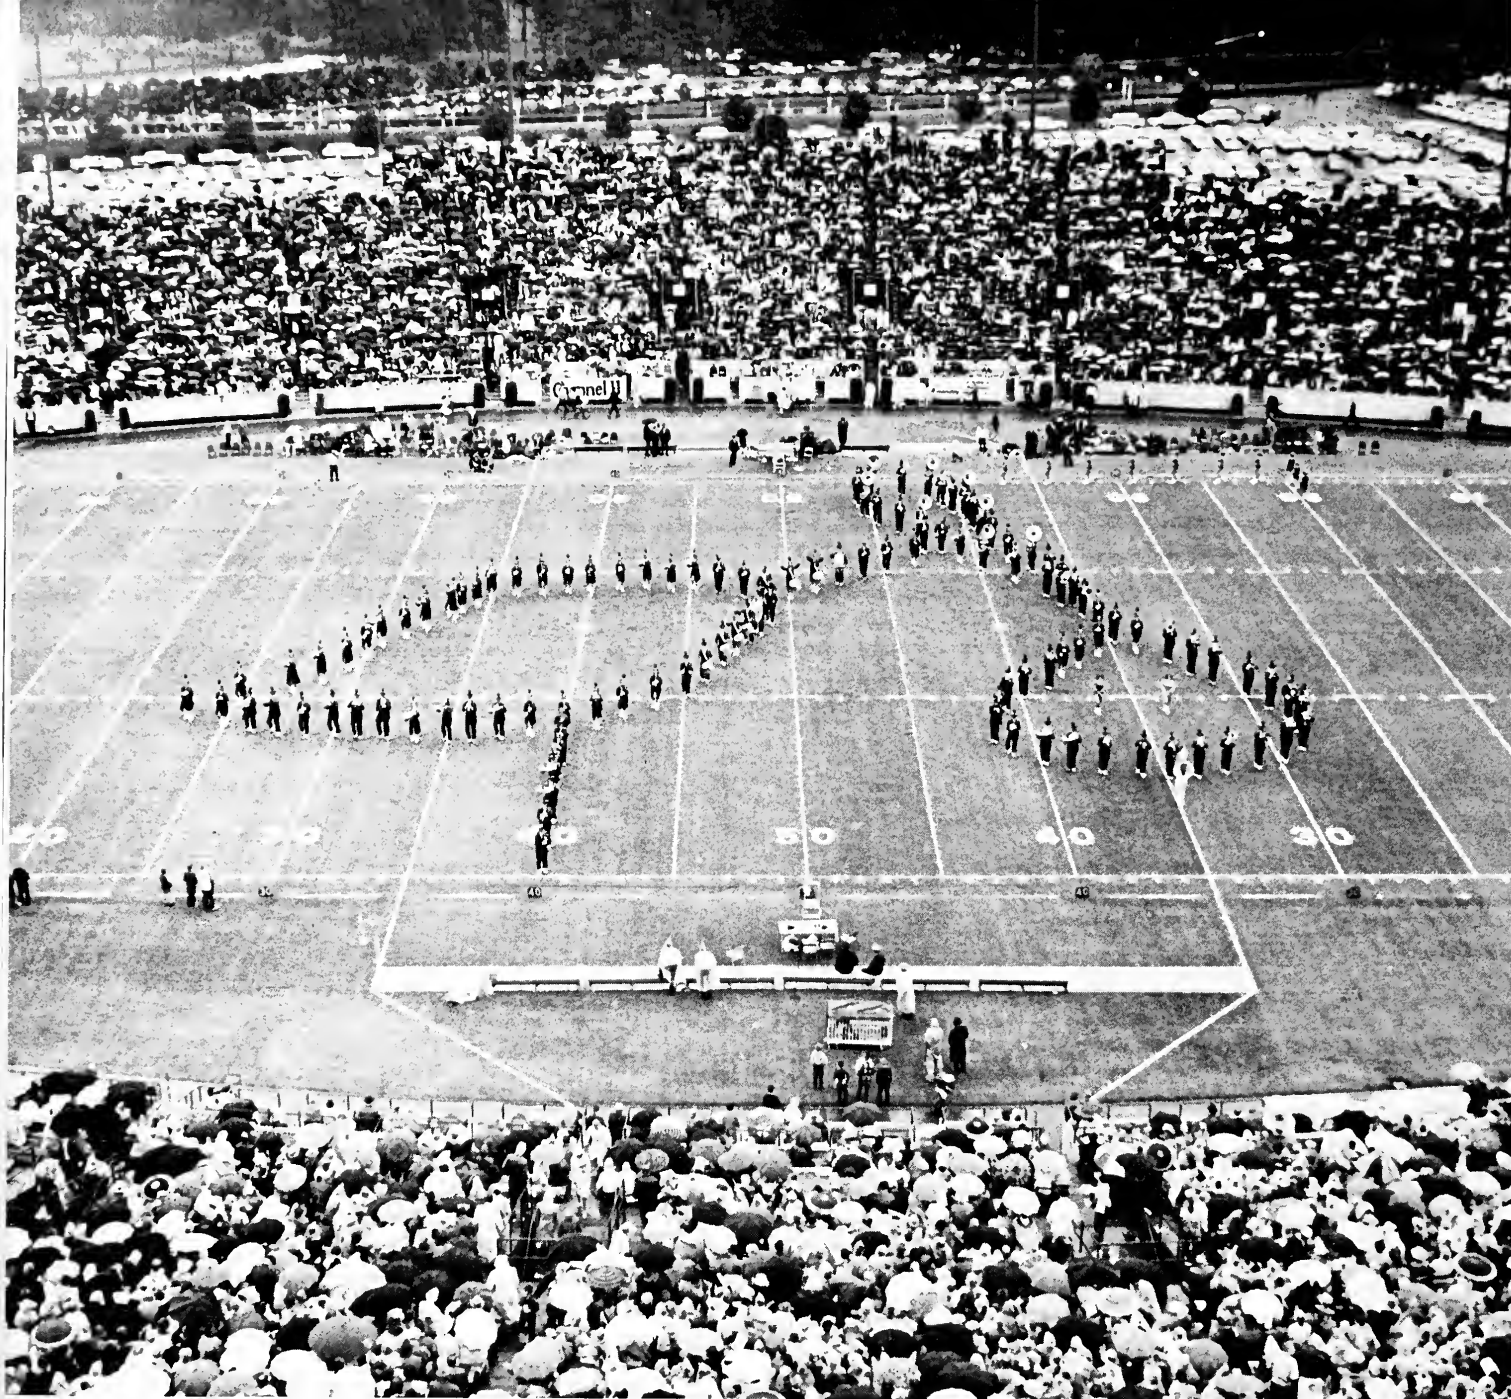

In carrying out its mission, the Organization maintained a study room and held weekly testimonial meetings conducted by student readers. Two free lectures were also sponsored by the group this year.

FSU Marching Chiefs and Seminole Majorettes

The most attractive forward wall on the FSU football field this year was the Seminole majorette corps. Led by Head Majorette Paulette Gergen of Miami, the majorettes showed their talent and spirit this year in a variety of interesting routines.

The group featured the fabulous "Seminole Twins," Bookie Reynolds and Jerry Williams, and solo baton artist Cookie Winchester.

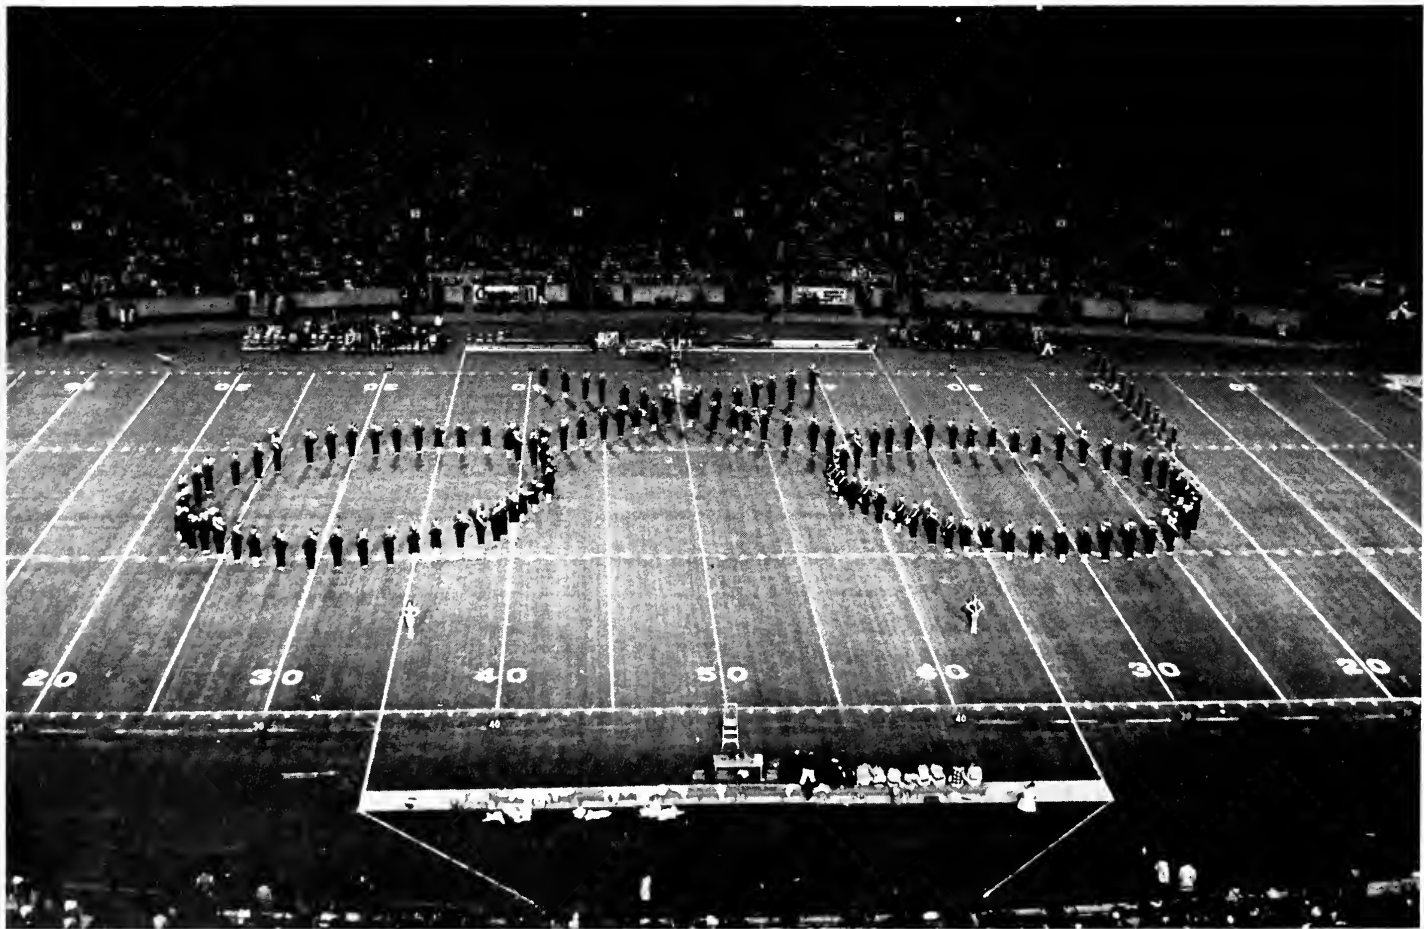

The Seminole Majorette corps performed at all the FSU home games and went along with the Marching Chiefs on the road to Alabama and Florida.

Majorettes

SEMINOLE MAJORETTES: Beverly Dobbin, Fran Clementi, Leslie Schmidt, Paulette Gergen, Head Majorette, Jan Swanson, Pat Bond, Becky Lamb, Lindsey Smith, Gail Severson, Bonnie Curtis.

Marching Chiefs

One of the school's prized traditions is Florida State's 120-piece marching band, the fabulous Marching Chiefs. The Chiefs, directed by Robert Braunagel, have been widely acclaimed for years as the South's best.

Instrumental in their success along with Braunagel and Manly Whitcomb, who retired as director in 1963, is arranger Charles Carter whose striking musical innovations keep Seminole football fans in their seats and cheering during halftime intermissions. The now famous "Band Ballet" and the successful use of "Stereophonic sound" were both originated by Mr. Carter. The band performed at all home games this year and went on the road to Alabama and Florida.

The band's field leader this year was drum major Camp Kirkland of Jacksonville.

AIR FORCE ROTC CADET WING TAKES PART IN THE ANNUAL VETERANS DAY PARADE

The Department of Aerospace Studies was established at the Florida State University in 1949. The mission of the department is to develop in selected college students those qualities of leadership and other attributes essential to their progressive advancement to positions of increasing responsibility as commissioned officers in the United States Air Force. The program is divided into two phases, the two year general military education program and the two year professional officer educational program.

Cadet special activities are co-curricular and are an integral part of leadership training. They provide developmental of teamwork and spirit and include Arnold Air Society, Exhibition Drill Team, and Glee Club and Band. Cadet Colonels William Williamson and Frederick Bell commanded the Wing this year.

Army ROTC

LT. COLONEL M. J. TANKERSLEY
Professor of Military Science

In 1951 seventy-one cadets enrolled in the US Army ROTC program. Today over three hundred men participate. The objective of the program is to produce leaders who are prepared to assume their positions of responsibility almost immediately upon entering active service. College men are offered the opportunity to be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army after completing four years of on-campus training. Since 1958 one hundred ninety-six graduates have received commissions.

The Florida State ROTC unit offers participation in many activities to its cadets: Pershing Rifles, a national honorary for freshman and sophomores and Scabbard and Blade for outstanding Advance ROTC students. Special units within the Brigade are: Drill Team, Band, and the Counterguerilla Platoon.

Highlights

Each year, certain events take place in a changing university to distinguish that particular year from any other. In the following section, it is our purpose to record the happenings at FSU in the academic year 1965-66 that we, the students, will remember as the "highlights."

Vietnam Hits FSU Campus

Academic success meant more than just staying in school to male college students across the country as the war in Vietnam intensified and an increased manpower was needed by the various branches of the Armed Forces.

Student reaction in most major universities in the United States took, for the most part, one of three general forms; apathy, demonstrations against, and support for President Lyndon Johnson's method of handling the war in Vietnam.

The overall reaction at Florida State was predominately apathetic or in support of the United States involvement in Southeast Asia. There was only a smattering of opposition by students at FSU and there were few incidents occurring to show the opposition. Several groups demonstrated lightly or passed out anti-Vietnam literature at the Post Office in the University Union.

SAE Sponsors FSU Blood Drive

A blood drive sponsored by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and the Leon County Blood Bank was initiated in November to combat unfavorable publicity concerning college students about Vietnam.

The SAE fraternity pledged 45 pints of blood and issued a challenge to other campus groups to match their donation. According to Bill Sizemore, a spokesman for the fraternity, the effort showed "that the students at FSU really care about what happens in Vietnam and want to help in a positive manner."

A WILLING VICTIM

...is this FSU student who is donating his blood to the Leon County blood bank for Vietnam soldiers.

Vietnam Brings Correspondence With Students, White House, GI's

A telegram campaign sponsored by the Flambeau in the first week of November gave many students an opportunity to express their own opinion about the US policy in Vietnam directly to the White House.

Two separate telegrams were sent, one for and the other against with participating students' names and comments included. The idea behind the telegram campaign was to refute an accusation that FSU students are apathetic.

The adoption of the 125th Air Traffic Company in Vietnam occurred during Trimester II. With the initiation of a pen-pal system and the collection of over 4,000 books for the American servicemen, FSU students showed their support for the fighting man in Vietnam. These drives were a direct result of the Christmas Candy sales in which the soldiers received personalized boxes of candy from the students along with an opportunity to exchange letters.

PERSONALIZED CANDY PACKS

... are one of the items FSU students are sending to Vietnam in order to raise morale.

GI's In Vietnam Receive Books, Candy From FSU Students

Four thousand books donated by FSU students are on their way to American troops in South Vietnam. The books, weighing 1,035 pounds, were loaded on to a Navy Neptune Patrol craft on a training flight to San Diego, early in May.

The books were gathered by the students several months ago as a show of support for the American fighting men in Vietnam. A goal of 1,000 books was set, but 4,000 were contributed.

The students had received letters from servicemen in connection with the pen-pal system noting the lack of recreation in Vietnam. The troops said that reading was one of the major forms of recreation, but the supply of reading material was limited and due to the damp climate, available books lasted only a short time.

Student Government, in an attempt to raise the morale of US forces stationed in Vietnam during the Christmas holidays, sponsored a week-long drive to send individual boxes of candy to the soldiers.

The boxes were each accompanied by a personal Christmas message from the student, faculty, or staff member who had purchased it. By week's end over 1800 boxes of candy were sold. Student Government President Jim Groot termed the drive "a success."

Co-sponsoring and assisting Student Government in the candy drive were members of Gamma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega, Circle K, Arnold Air Society, Angel Flight, Pershing Rifles, Scabbard and Blade, and the Tallahassee unit of the Naval Reserve.

Regents' Decision: Quarter System

The Florida Board of Regents voted unanimously to switch State universities from the trimester system to the quarter system.

The new system will not go into effect before September, 1967, to give the universities time to redesign their formats.

Gov. Haydon Burns said, "The quarter system will best utilize year-round the facilities of our Universities and will reduce the pressures experienced by the compression of time under the trimester system."

The quarter system was recommended to the regents by the Council of Presidents, made up of the heads of all Florida State universities, after a complete study had been made of its merits.

Change To Quarter Requires Planning

Dr. Karl Dittmer, vice-president of academic affairs, announced that a new committee on Quarter Calendar and Scheduling has been appointed.

Dittmer said, "It will be necessary to offer four terms of relatively equal length and the calendar must provide for year-round operation." He further stated that the academic year will consist of three quarters with one quarter hour equal to two-thirds of a semester hour of credit.

THOUGHTS FOR THE YEAR

Never look behind you...

... something might be gaining.

A thought in the head is worth two in the books.

Don't ask me nothin' 'bout nothin'... I might just tell you the truth.

You don't know everything about it unless you do it yourself.

Don't you worry, don't you fear, Nothing in life is very clear.

There is no time but the present.

Legislation Changes Headed By Reapportionment, Women's Rules

Early in September the bill for reapportionment of precinct senators on the one-man, one-vote principle, was passed. The structure of the system remains the same, with a unicameral Senate composed of senators from precincts combined with class senators. The big change lies in the designation of off-campus precincts as individual precincts, with only the presidents of each precinct allowed to vote for their respective senators.

Principles outlined by the Legislative Council Committee on Reapportionment include the following: Senators should reside in the precinct which they represent. Voters should be registered by precinct on the basis of their place of residence. Reapportionment should be carried out periodically in order to avoid obsolete districting and precincting, with the revisions based on registration figures for the most recent fall enrollment. Each precinct senatorial candidate runs for election in a precinct of about 250 constituents. Graduate students are not allowed to run as "graduate students," but still have the opportunity to run for office in their proper precincts.

The net result is a Senate based on representatives from every segment of the University, with each student's vote equal in value in Senate elections.

Rules Are Revised For Women Students

The opening of the '65 fall trimester was marked by much-needed revisions and new legislation dealing with women's rules. The passage of these new bills by Women's Senate with the confirmation of Dean Warren has enabled the FSU coed to enjoy more "freedom" than anytime previously. Among the most important legislation are the bills allowing coed's visits to men's supervised off-campus housing, and upper-classmen's attendance of apartment parties as long as two or more couples are present. Other significant legislation includes the extending of Tallahassee overnights and the founding of the Town Girls Association.

SG PRESIDENT JIM GROOT

Reporters Barred From Faculty Senate Sessions

In the first trimester, the question was raised as to whether student reporters would be allowed to attend Faculty Senate, the main legislative body at Florida State. When two Flambeau reporters were expelled from a session of the Senate a storm of controversy arose. The Faculty explained their action by saying that many subjects discussed during sessions of the Senate are not of an academic nature and are therefore not of student interest. The problem has not yet been resolved.

Tenure Of Office Bill Is Vetoed, Defeated

A bill to limit the tenure of office of student body president was ultimately defeated in Student Senate.

Carl Domino's bill reads "No person shall be allowed to serve as Student Body President for more than one year, unless he had succeeded to that office from the Vice-Presidency." First vetoed by Student Body President Jim Groot, the bill was reintroduced but met with defeat.

THE BIG CHANGE

...in apportionment lies in the designation of off-campus precincts as individual precincts.

Florida State Gets College Of Law

The College of Law of the Florida State University will open in September, 1966, for the admission of a first-year class of law students. Second and third year work will be offered in the next two years so that the students commencing their law study at this time will be eligible to receive the degree of Juris Doctor upon the completion of their law study at FSU.

For many years there has been a deep interest in the establishment of a College of Law at the Florida State University, as a complement to and a part of the existing educational program. The College of Law is established this year pursuant to an act of the Florida State Legislature in its last regular session of 1965.

Many special advantages are offered due to the location in Tallahassee, the seat of state government. Law students will be able to observe law in action as well as in the books. The state legislature, governmental administrative agencies, and many courts are available for observation and study. Building up a College of Law to prestige is admittedly a task, however, Dean Mason Ladd is determined to meet the accreditation requirements by the end of three years.

Law Library To Soon Fulfill Requirements

The law library will reach 20,000 volumes before the opening of college in September, fulfilling the requirements of the Association of American Law Schools. Many of these volumes are donations from interested citizens.

Mrs. Elizabeth Leeman, with a unique master of law librarianship degree, was named assistant professor and law librarian.

DR. MASON LADD

...will lead Florida State University's new College of Law in September.

Facelift On Campus Again This Year

Once again this year returning alumni will have trouble recognizing the campus. New building activity centers around the old intramural area between the library, the women's gym and the School of Business.

One project is an addition to overcrowded Stroz Library. Another is a new infirmary to replace the out-dated one. Finally, the campus will see the Graduate Chemistry Department forsake its time-honored, but inadequate Science Building for its new $3,600,000 facilities adjoining the library.

WEATHER

Tallahassee weather forecast: Monday, 5 inches of rain; Tuesday, 8 inches of rain; Wednesday, hard freeze; Thursday, continued fair.

University Union Celebrates With One Candle On The Cake

MISS UNIVERSITY UNION

... Susan Hart, blows out the candles on the Union's first birthday cake.

Susan Hart Is Crowned Miss University Union

Nineteen beautiful coeds drew an even larger crowd to the Union activities. Miss Susan Hart was crowned Miss University Union amid ceremonies and she received the honor of cutting the birthday cake.

Dr. Herb Reinhard, director of the Union, received the traditional "handshake"--a dip into the pool. Dr. Reinhard had much to do with the change of emphasis of the Union to the "community center" it now is, serving students, faculty, staff, and guests of the University.

One birthday this fall made campus-wide news--that of the University Union. November 13 was filled with free swimming and bowling, hospitality centers, a diving exhibition, and jazz concerts.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony officially opened the long-awaited Rathskeller, with a Hootenanny celebration following. Enthusiastic participation in the drawing for free prizes prefaced the Miss University Union Pageant.

Growth Makes Union Center Of Activities

Recognition of the importance of the student's life outside the classroom was of primary importance in the founding of the Union at FSU. It is now the true community center of the campus, offering the cultural, social, recreational, and service.

The Union is governed by the University Union Board which is composed of eight students and five faculty or staff members. In addition, it has a Program Council composed of twelve students, who serve as chairmen of the various Union program committees which are open to all students. The Program Council and their committees plan and develop activities for all members of the university community.

DR. HERB REINHARD,

President's Inauguration Brings Pledge For Greater University

Pledging himself to hard work and dedication to the purposes of higher education and FSU, Dr. John E. Champion officially took office as president of FSU during the March 15 inaugural convocation.

Before an audience of 1,300, Dr. Champion accepted the charge from Chairman of the Board of Regents Chester Ferguson to "carry on the standards for which this University stands and to build FSU into an even greater university with all its responsibilities and privileges."

Dr. Champion, in his first official presidential address, asserted that FSU will be recognized as a superior institution at both graduate and undergraduate levels. He emphasized research and the importance of a quality faculty and said that he anticipated a stuffed library, efficiently planned and utilized buildings and better equipped laboratories.

The official procession of 550 guests, representatives from universities and colleges, and FSU faculty and administration began the two-hour convocation. Included in the program was music by the University Symphony, and major addresses by the president and by Dr. Paul McCracken.

Other activities on the inaugural calendar included a concert, luncheon, and presidential reception.

Council Sends Vietnam Letter

The University Religious Council of FSU sent a letter concerning the war in Vietnam to top officials in the US Government.

Receiving the letter were President Johnson, Vice-President Humphrey, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Florida Senators, Florida Congressmen and the US ambassador to the UN.

The theme of the letter was "...we along with many other people are deeply concerned about war. The Vietnam situation demands that all people who are concerned about the welfare of the US and the world do everything that they can to support any efforts that are made towards peace...we urge most strongly that all efforts for peace be continued and pursued."

NP-UP Coalition For SG Elections

A joint convention of two of the three political parties now on campus replaced the planned conventions of New Party and University Party as a result of the formation of a coalition for the coming election.

There was equal representation in delegates at this convention. The New Party and UP will each remain a separate and independent party, maintaining its own party organization, its own constitution, and its own officers.

New Party, FSU's newest political party, was originally conceived as a graduate student party with the feeling that graduate students needed better representation in Student Government. The party started gaining power throughout the entire student body early in January. One of the party's strongest issues was the proposed Bill of Rights.

Young Republicans Lose Official Status

The attorney general today said that, because of recent developments that have occurred in the Young Republican Club, its recognition has been removed by his office with the consent of the Dean of Students Harry Day.

Day said confusion "arises when the faculty advisors and the students themselves disagree as to the purposes of the organization." The refusal for recognition means that the group may not make use of any University facilities. This action affects the Vietnam Study Group, meeting under the auspices of the YRC.

Investigation first began when Keith Wheeler, temporary head of the new YRC, came to the attorney general's office to complain that the YRC was not backed by the Florida Federation of Young Republicans.

Florence Study Proves Popular With Students

Florida State's first study-abroad program will be headquartered in Florence, Italy, and will begin its first courses in September, 1966.

Calling for a carefully planned sequence of courses taught by FSU faculty and transferable to any other state university in Florida, the program is being directed by Dr. C. E. Tansy, assistant professor of English, and former assistant dean of arts and sciences at FSU.

Named the University Study Center in Florence, the program is oriented toward the humanities and studies of Florentine elements of the Renaissance and concentrates on proficiency in Italian. Restricted to state university students only, it is open to sophomores, juniors, seniors and a few graduate students. Faculty and students will live and study near the Piazza San Marco in Florence.

Administrators Leave Florida State

Dr. Harry P. Day, dean of students since July, 1964, left FSU in May to become the first director of the New England Regional Center for Continuing Education in Durham, New Hampshire. Dr. Day has served on several high administrative posts while at FSU, including director of the University School, assistant dean of students and associate dean of students.

Day was graduated from the University of Miami in 1947 and has received from Florida State both his Master's degree in counseling and psychology and his doctorate.

While at FSU Day has been commended for his outstanding contributions in the field of student affairs.

Dr. Karl Dittmer resigned his position as vice president of academic affairs at FSU to become dean of the Division of Sciences at Portland State College, Portland, Oregon.

Dittmer has held his present position for the past two years and earlier was head of the Dept. of Chemistry. As a scientist-administrator, he was credited with building one of the strongest chemistry departments in the nation during his nine years as head.

In March Dittmer was presented the annual Honors Award of the Florida Academy of Sciences and the academy's Gold Medal for distinguished service to science. Fellow workers at FSU have been impressed with his leadership, judgment, and understanding of people.

Elizabeth Lynn, FSU's associate dean of women, retired on June 30 after 36 years with FSU.

Miss Lynn began teaching at FSU as a member of the Physics Department seventeen years ago. During her last four years of teaching Miss Lynn lived in Landis Hall where she served as counselor for a select group of senior women students who established their own rules and regulations. As an outgrowth of this interest and experience, Miss Lynn was invited to join the Dean of Women's staff in 1947.

A native of Palatka, Miss Lynn received the A.B. degree from Agnes Scott College where she taught several years. She holds the M.A. from the University of Wisconsin and has done graduate work at the University of Washington and the University of Colorado.

Coeds Are Victimized On Campus

Two FSU coeds were attacked by would-be rapists in darkened areas of the campus late in February.

The Campus Security Office announced that the first attack took place on Call

Street near the library while the second occurred in a darkened construction area near the Union pool. Two students witnessed the scene of the second attack, but upon the approach of the couple, the assailant fled.

Both of the coeds were unharmed. Neither was able to make a positive identification through line-ups or mug shots.

With the circulation of further rumors concerning alleged assaults, Dean of Students Day urged the campus to exercise caution in moving about the campus at night.

In reaction to the attack, campus police tightened up security, with more adequate patrolling of the campus. Additional lights have been installed, and the APO service fraternity volunteered evening escort service to and from study areas.

"LIGHTS UP" BENEFIT DINNER

...found Ted Williams and Bobby Bragan making a pitch for Seminole lights.

Swingers Get That "Lit-Up" Feeling

May 25

Florida State's second nationally ranked Seminole baseball team has earned for the eighth time in eleven years a berth in the district III playoffs at Gastonia, North Carolina. The Seminoles have won more District III playoffs than any other in the nation, and under coach Fred Hatfield are expected to live up to their 36-10 record once again this year.

The first game will be with Mississippi State who beat Florida State last year but did not stop the determined Seminoles from bouncing back to win the playoffs and on to the College World Series.

The combination of Jim Lytle who holds the team record of 12 home runs and the greatly improved pitching of the last few games are expected to give the Seminoles a beneficial boost in Gastonia.

Diamond Fund Grows

February

Student Body President Groot has announced a campus-wide drive to gather student support for the baseball field light fund. "How many school's would care enough to want to spend $3,000 to light their baseball fields?" said Groot.

Boxes of men's and women's cosmetic and health supplies are being sold for a donation of 50¢ for the "Dimes for the Diamond" Fund. Groups are holding car washes and a donation dinner is being given, among other efforts directed toward lighting up the baseball field.

Night baseball will entice some of the better collegiate baseball teams to come to Tallahassee. This in turn will increase attendance and interest in baseball and eventually mean a permanent-seat stadium for the field.

Graduate Bill OKed

February 2

Student Senate passed the long-debated bill today admitting graduate students into Student Government elective positions.

"Graduate students have a place in Student Government," declared Senate President Larry Gonzalez, "and they have a right to a place there. We don't have the right to deny them that place."

Students Solicited

Early in January the fact that the Tallahassee Police Dept. was hiring students to help in the arrest and conviction of homosexuals was made public. Dean of Students Harry Day, speaking for the FSU administration, called for a halt to the practice. City Manager Arvah Hopkins assured FSU that he would meet with representatives to resolve objections to this use of students in a "drive to rid the city of sexual deviates and protect thousands of college students against them."

The students, all mature and aged 20 and over, were hired at a fee of $10 per case to stand in front of a local bus station and signal police when "propositioned." Hopkins said solicitations of young men has doubled at the bus station in the past year and vice records show the deviates come from a wide surrounding areas to find young victims.

Peripatology Started

The first undergraduate program in peripatology, mobility instruction for the visually handicapped, will be initiated at FSU in the fall.

Stipends of $1,800 each have been made available for the program by the US Office of Education. Peripatologists are trained to teach the blind to move about efficiently in both familiar and unfamiliar surroundings, using all senses and perhaps a white cane.

Students of the program will concentrate on courses including human behavior, social and emotional problems of blindness, nature and training of human senses and the principles of education.

ALMA

First hurricane of the season, Alma struck the Tallahassee area during the 9th of June. 3-A students frolicked and partied when FSU announced no classes for the day. Storm warnings lasted throughout the day for the coastal area; Tallahassee received little damage.

A Tribute. . .

DURING TIME OUT BUD KENNEDY WAS ALWAYS READY WITH A WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT

Basketball fans throughout Florida and the South were greatly saddened when the announcement was made that Florida State's beloved basketball coach J.K. "Bud" Kennedy had died of cancer. Kennedy, who was 59 at the time of his death, had coached at FSU for 18 years. He took over the reigns of the basketball team in the school's second year succeeding now Dean of Men Don Loucks. Since that time Kennedy led the Seminoles up the ladder from near oblivion as a small independent to a major southern challenger. In 18 years Kennedy's teams won 234 games while losing 208, a formidable record considering FSU's comparative youth in Southern basketball wars with schools like Kentucky, Vanderbilt, West Virginia and Tennessee. The school mourns the loss of a tremendous coach and a great man.

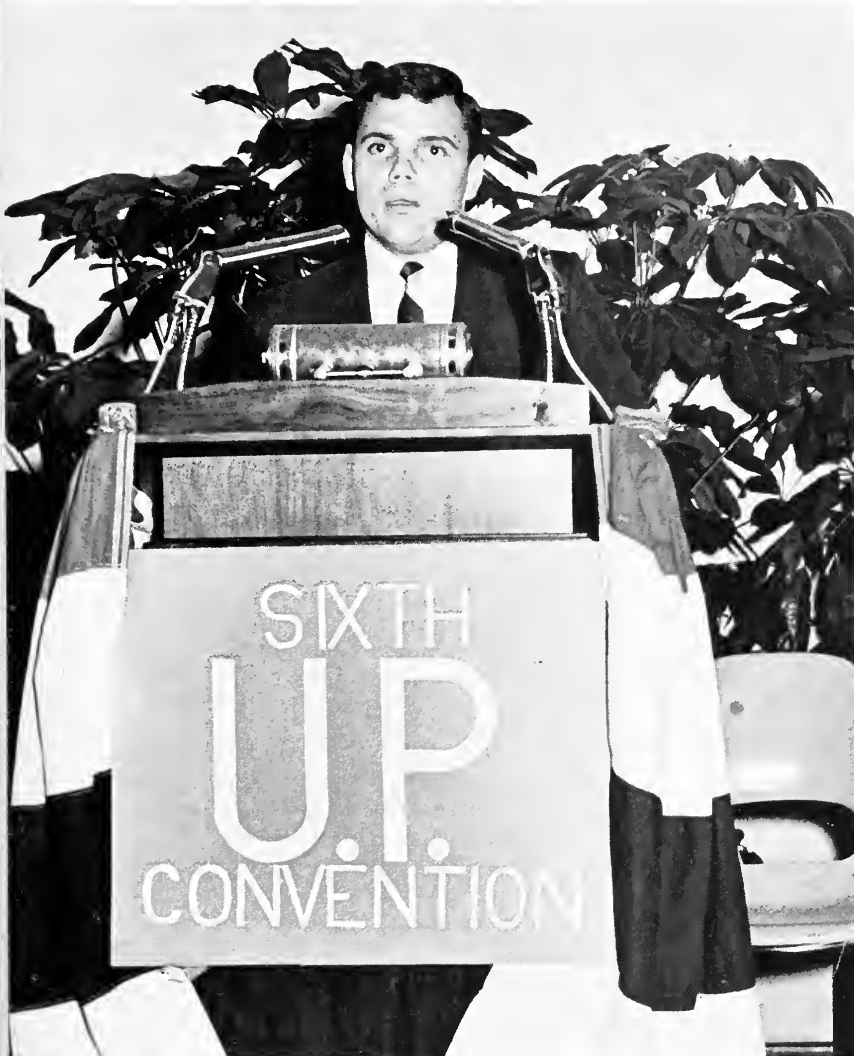

AN INTENT observer of the action on the basketball court, Bud Kennedy rarely showed emotion or argued with officials.

...To Coach Bud Kennedy

The Groot Story

Few student body presidents have been the subject of as much controversy as has James Lee Groot. After having literally gone to court to obtain his office, Groot's administration has been marked by stormy legislation to limit his power, anti-Groot groups who hang him in effigy, and personality feuds that may never again reach such intensity. He has been the subject of more feature stories, interviews, expose's and cartoons than has any other SG president in FSU history. Yet Jim Groot has accomplished a great deal during his term, particularly benefiting the graduate and married students, of which he is one. He has done quite a bit for the independents, of which he is also one. And he perhaps has done more for the FSU political party system by strengthening the differences than any of our "more popular" presidents. That Jim Groot has been a colorful character there is no doubt; he certainly brightened up an otherwise not-too-exciting academic year.

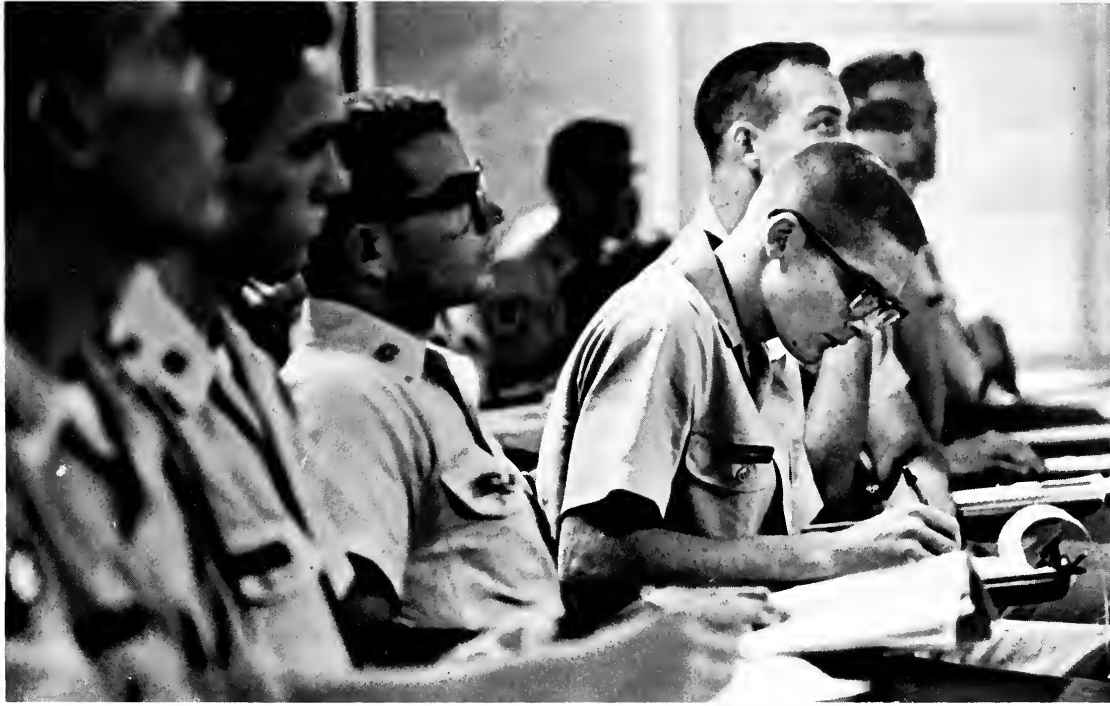

BEING SWORN INTO THE ARMY RESERVE are FSU students Roger Shanks of Lake Panasoffkee, Fla., J.M. Parrott of Waycross, Ga., and Charles Chao of Jacksonville.

Students Support Vietnam Policy

Although FSU has its share of draft dodgers and even a little organized protesting, for the most part the students were apathetic or in favor of the United States' involvement in Southeast Asia. Many students joined the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Reserve units and will receive commissions upon graduation. The student body as a whole seemed to be in support of the Vietnam policy. They sent candy, magazines, and books to the soldiers, and donated blood to the reserve blood bank. Some of the students wrote letters overseas, and received answers from the GI's.

A President Marries

Following a new tradition of married student body presidents, president elect Larry Gonzalez wed Miss Jean Maynard on May 14, 1966, in Trinity Methodist church. Gonzalez, the first SG president to marry while officially in office, extended an invitation to the entire student body to attend the ceremony.

Seniors

Ten Named to Hall of Fame

The tradition of the Hall of Fame is old and honored, for membership in the group is the highest form of recognition given a graduating senior at Florida State University. Membership recognizes the accomplishments and contributions of ten outstanding members of the senior class. The Selection Committee is composed of five juniors, each representing a different phase of university life; Dean of Students, Dean of Women, and Dean of Men. Chairman of this committee is the president of the junior class.

Thirty-six outstanding FSU seniors and graduate students were given the distinction of election to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Using a point system for the areas of campus activity, the Who's Who Nominating Committee, chaired by Junior Class Vice-President Lynn Revell, prepared a ballot of names of students considered worthy of the honor. The committee, under student government, publicized the list of names, which was submitted to the student body in the fall elections for a vote. Those students elected have made valuable contributions to FSU.

At last we reach the gate to the future... from undergraduate to alumnus... and on... through the ever-changing prisms of contemporary life... realizing that change is the heartbeat of society...

...and yet... filled with the stability of tradition...
the serenity of the campus at sunset... the knowledge
that we have given something of value to Florida
State University...and that she now gives to us
...her faith... that we may move... with purpose...
and dignity... through our stimulating... challenging
... world of change.

In Retrospect...

Florida State University has come a long way since the days when it admitted only women. In the past year, the school, the students, and the activities have reflected the spirit of the supersonic sixties. This momentum has been seen in all fields.

In academics our molecular bio-physics department is becoming well-known throughout the south. Plans have been completed for a Law School and a Department of Religion. In sports, FSU has earned its place in the big leagues, all our teams facing top competition nationally. College entertainment became spectacular in the year '65-'66 with the appearance for the first time of such stars as Roger Miller and Peter, Paul, and Mary.

Yet these innovations, whether academic or social, have been taken in stride by the school at large. Florida State University has not gone off on immature tangents nor let recklessness take the place of dignity. Those fine standards which typify the traditions of the South have been maintained.

THE CHANGING FACE OF FSU reflects the enterprise and initiative of many people. It is to them this issue of the TALLY HO is dedicated.

Producing the yearbook has been a tremendous task, but every moment has been enjoyable. I would like to thank my staff and the production lab for all their splendid work. Without these people this book would never have been achieved.

Most Sincerely,

Joanna Romer
Editor

We'll help you put your dream on a Kingskraft cover

Don't decide that your "crazy" cover idea is "too crazy" before you have consulted Kingskraft's staff of professional designers. During nearly 40 years of manufacturing covers for yearbooks, Kingskraft has found that unusual ideas often become prize-winning covers when they are developed by experienced artists.

If you have an idea that you can't seem to put on paper, don't throw the idea away. Let Kingskraft's proven ability help you.

Ask your printer for more information about Kingskraft covers, or write Kingsport Press, Inc.
